BUILD HOMES NOT SALOONS

Fallacy of Liquor Dealers Argument In Regard to Speakeasies Is Shown.

IF LAW CAN BE EVADED

PROSPEROUS PROHIBITION CITIES

Editor News Review—I want to say a word about those speakeasies that a trembling contemporary sees rising like a specter out of the ashes of the vanquished saloon.

Let this pious sheet be calm. A speakeasy can exist where there are open saloons as well as where there are no saloons. If a man can evade the law and run a speakeasy he will not pay a Dow tax.

Our thirsty friends, our moral monitors thoughtlessly impale themselves on their own arguments. They argue thus:

First—Where there are no saloons there will be more liquor drank than where there are saloons.

Second—Driving out the saloon we drive out the business of the town, for it will go where liquor can be had. Both of these cannot be correct. The two propositions kill each other.

Is more liquor drank where there is no saloon? Who is working for the saloon? The liquor dealer? No. Manufacturers and wholesalers are known to spend thousands of dollars to maintain the saloon in a town. What fools they must be. If your competitor would go away from home far enough his eyes would witness the benefits to Minerva and East Palestine in comparison with saloon ridden towns.

Minerva with no saloons and a much less population buys and sells more goods than Carrollton with its saloons, though it is a county seat.

Let us ask ourselves what we are, anyway. Are we men or pigs?

If pigs, then let us slop and swill and slobber and swear and tumble into the gutter. If men, then let us act like men. I have never seen a town where the saloon was banished that not only were business conditions improved, but there was an improvement of all that was worthy of the best manhood. Homes were more appreciated and beautified. Education, the library, art and music were more patronized.

The churches, the hospital and other religious and charitable institutions were more flourishing. East Liverpool and Wellsville spends enough every year for liquor to build and equip as fine a hospital as there is in the state.

Let us get our minds on something higher than a beer mug. Let us cultivate a more rational taste than the taste for debauchery and we will be glad to strike from ourselves the plague of this death.

The proof of the pudding is in the eating. Some of these saloon fellows who never saw a town without a saloon think a town could exist without saloons. Not so, however, in instance Washington, Pa.

For 35 years it had no saloon. Has it diminished? It died out? Fifteen years ago it had 6,000 population. This year's census finds it with 21,000.

Look at its long avenues of fine, beautiful homes; look at its fine public buildings and city improvements. See its splendid school facilities and its prosperous churches and its refined and intelligent population. Is it a dead business town? Though only 30 miles from the large cities of Wheeling and Pittsburgh, see its great stores and its large number of prosperous banking houses. During the hard times, when some towns were establishing soup houses and sending out wagons to beg from the farmers, Washington had no hard times.

Why carpenters and plasterers and painters there are able to build themselves homes costing $8,000 to $10,000.

Let us close up these drinking holes. Let us build our homes and not the saloon. Every interest of decency favors no saloon. Appetite and avarice alone clamor for the saloon.

Let us be men, and let not appetite enslave us, nor avarice beguile us. We have tried the saloon long enough, let us try something better.

NICHOLAS GEON.

An Aged Resident of the City Died at His Home Yesterday Afternoon.

Nicholas Geon, who died yesterday afternoon, was among the oldest and best known potters in the city.

Deceased was a native of Ireland and was in his 71st year. He had been a resident of East Liverpool for the last 45 years, coming here in 1855 from Pittsburg, where he had been employed in the Bennett pottery, Birmingham, South Pittsburg. Mr. Geon was employed in the various potteries of the city for many years, although he had not been actively engaged at potting for some time before his death.

Deceased was the father of 10 children, four sons and six daughters, all of whom survive him.

Funeral services will be conducted at St. Aloysius' church tomorrow morning at 8:30 o'clock and interment will be made in the Catholic cemetery.

WANTS A DIVORCE.

Anna Hill, of Salem, Says Her Husband Has Been Absent for Three Years.

Lisbon, July 18.—(Special.)—Mrs. Anna Hill, of Salem, has sued for a divorce from Edward Hill, who has deserted her and left the state. She simply alleges absence and neglect for over three years.

Two Licenses.

Lisbon, July 18.—(Special.)—Robert C. Groomes and Miss Nellie Remley, of this city, will be united in marriage today by Rev. Zeigler. A license was also issued today to Clarence E. Walborn and Lydia A. McQuistian, of East Fairfield.

Admitted to Probate.

Lisbon, July 18.—(Special.)—An authenticated copy of the will in the estate of James McMillan, late of Beaver county, Pa., was today admitted to probate in this county.

Filed a Certificate.

Lisbon, July 18.—(Special.)—Dr. John H. Davis, of East Liverpool, filed his certificate in the probate court today, thus complying with the law which entitles him to practice in this county.

HON. C. C. BAKER SPEAKS OUT

M. K. Zimmerman Created the Impression That He Represented the News Review.

A PECULIAR PIECE OF WORK

Hon. C. C. Baker, at present the president of the board of education at Alliance, Ohio, is a personal friend and comrade of the manager of the News Review. When we read the remarks attributed to him last night, as they appeared in a local paper in this town, under the head of "communicated," we at once pronounced them false, knowing C. C. Baker as we do, and determined to interview the gentleman at his home at Alliance. We did so this morning, through a proper medium, and received the following reply, after reading the article to him which appeared in the local paper above mentioned:

"There is not a word of truth in the paragraph quoted. M. K. Zimmerman called on me on Monday last and attempted to interview me. I asked him how you were and as to the stand you were taking on the battle of saloon or no saloon. He stated that you were on the side of local option and left me under the impression that he was here in your interest and that he was still connected with your paper, and I did not know that you had ceased to employ him. I told Mr. Zimmerman that I was not here at the time that local option held sway, that I knew nothing about the matter from personal knowledge and that I did not desire to be quoted. I further told Mr. Zimmerman that there were plenty of old residents here whom he could interview respecting the matter, men who knew all about it; but he intimated that his time was limited and that he could not interview many people. Let me reiterate my statement:

"The article which appeared in the paper you mention, and which is quoted as being my experience, is a plain LIE, manufactured from the whole cloth.

"Respectfully,

"C. C. BAKER.

Alliance, O., July 18, 1900." In the light of this prompt and unequivocal branding of the lie against Hon. C. C. Baker, have we not the right to say that the liquor league and their miserable tools will resort to any and every means, honorable or dishonorable, for the accomplishment of their vile and unholy purposes?

This lie is a shameful and outrageous one, calculated to seriously injure Hon. C. C. Baker, and the man or men who concocted it should be made pay a heavy penalty. The proper place for creatures who resort to such infamy and trickery is behind prison bars. This act on their part is a fair sample of their method of procedure everywhere. The saloon is and always has been a criminal maker, and the men who manufacture criminals will themselves become criminals on the slightest pretext, when their criminal action will best accomplish their foul and unholy purpose, and when they believe that they stand an even chance of escaping punishment at the hands of an outraged law.

HERE YOU ARE?

Catch On, Workingmen and Toilers— This Knocks the Licensed Saloon Dizzy.

Give yourselves a fair show in the race of life, men of East Liverpool. Don't let the saloonists make a monkey of you. They rob you and then laugh at you. Do the laughing for yourself, and let the wife and the babies have the money you throw away in the saloon. Let the saloonist, distiller and brewer make an honest and honorable living, the same as you do, and don't you build houses for him at your expense and at the expense and sorrow of your wife and little ones. Read the following and see the difference in a city under saloon rule and after the saloon was driven out:

"The city of Cambridge, Mass., celebrated on May 1 its 10 years freedom from the liquor traffic. There were children's festivals and public meetings, and in all religious services held a prominent place. A writer in the New York Independent gives the following facts as to the results of the city's policy: 'For 10 years, up to 1886, Cambridge was under license, half of the time under general law and half of the time under local option. Here is a chance to compare 10 years of license with 10 years of no license. Let us see what the figures are: From 1876 to 1886 the valuation of Cambridge dropped from $62,000,000 in round numbers to $59,000,000. In the next 10 years it rose to $83,000,000. Here is a loss of $3,000,000 in the license decade, and a gain of $24,000,000 in the no-license decade. If this fact stood alone it would be very significant; but it does not stand alone. In the 10 license years the average annual gain in population was 1,182; in the 10 no-license years it has been 2,195. In the first decade there were 151 new houses built annually; the average the second decade has been 332. The city gets annually in taxes on the increased valuation of the city under no-license three or four times as much as it would get from license fees, if it called the saloon back.'

"Here are further results as to saving bank deposits: 'During the 10 years of license the Cambridge savings bank made a net gain of $155,333 each year in deposits. During the 10 no-license years the annual net gain has been $366,654. This gain, as an analysis of the returns shows, has been chiefly in small deposits of $50 or less. In East Cambridge, the principal manufacturing section of the city, the deposits last year were four times as large as in the last year of license.'

WORE BEAUTIFUL CLOTHES

According to the Testimony of
Mr. Tompkinson, of West
Market Street.

THERE WERE MANY OBJECTIONS

The case against John Barnes and wife, which occupied the attention of Justice McLain and a jury yesterday afternoon, was remarkable for its contradictory evidence, scarcely any two of the 20 odd witnesses agreeing upon a single point.

Attorney W. B. Hill, counsel for the Barnes, preferred to have his clients tried separately, and thought the husband the proper party to deal with first, and it was decided, leaving Mrs. Barnes out of the question for the time.

Attorney Hill made a motion that the affidavit be quashed on the grounds that it was indefinite. Motion was overruled and the case was proceeded with.

Francis Barnes was the first witness for the prosecution and she said the Barnes were not her father and mother, and that she had been treated very badly at their hands. On last Thursday Barnes had whipped her with a strap, cuffed her ears and locked her in the bath room, afterwards letting her out and she rid off the table, but had no supper. Witness wore a red calico gown somewhat faded and considerably the worse for wear, which, she said, being asked the question, was all she had to wear except her serge dress, which was too heavy for this kind of weather. She went down to Mrs. Vincent's after cleaning away the supper and was given something to eat; had scarcely started to eat when Barnes called her. Witness said she was frightened, but did not refuse to go.

Attorney Kerr, for the prosecution, became ill at this point and Attorney G. M. Thompson took the witness. She went back in a half hour, but they didn't whip her any more.

On cross-examination Francis said it was on Thursday evening she was whipped and pushed down the stairs.

Mrs. Vincent was called. She said she knew defendant, also Francis; Francis had come to her house Thursday afternoon and washed her dishes and insisted upon assisting her to wash some clothes, which she refused to permit her to do.

Mrs. Vincent here started in relating a conversation which she had held with the child, to which Attorney Hill objected and asked that the jury be instructed to disregard such testimony, as it was not admissible. The objection was sustained.

Witness said Barnes tapped on the window to attract attention of Francis, and that when she responded he grabbed her and whipped her with a strap and hit her on the head, almost knocking her down the stairs. This occurred on a landing at the top of the stairs, and Mrs. Vincent witnessed it from the bottom of the stairway. Shortly afterward Francis had come to her house crying saying she had had no supper, whereupon witness gave her something to eat, but she had scarcely started before Barnes came to the door and Francis ran into an inner room in a very excited and nervous condition, wringing her hands and crying.

Hill objected to this testimony, that

FOR THE VOTERS

OF EAST LIVERPOOL.

Do you want saloons? If so, why?

Who of us want them, and for what?

Is money spent in them which could do more good spent elsewhere?

Is there likely to be gambling in them?

Is any money worse than wasted in them?

Do any fathers set bad examples there for their boys?

Is the saloon a good place to educate the young men, who are to be the husbands of our daughters?

Would anybody be hurt by having these places shut up? If so, who? And how would they be hurt?

Would some men be better off today if they had never been in a saloon?

Would some women and children be better fed and clothed?

Would some homes be happier?

Would anybody who is dead be alive today?

Would saloonkeepers themselves, and their families, be better, happier, or more useful in some other business?

Do saloonkeepers want to do us good or to get our money?

Do you like the dictation of the saloons in politics?

Let us think of these questions, and vote as we think is RIGHT, not as those who only want our money wish us to vote.

accusing Mrs. Vincent of having Francis wash.

Mrs. Howe testified she had known defendants for 35 years; they have a good reputation and treated the child Francis very kindly. She was out of town when the girl was whipped last week and she knew nothing about it.

On cross-examination Mrs. Howe said she did not say to anyone that the Barnes abused Francis, but she had on one occasion seen Mrs. Barnes shake her by the head.

Robert Williams was a character witness for the Barnes and said as far as he knew the child was treated, fed and clothed as well as any, although he had not been at the house much and was not really in a position to testify as to her treatment while at home.

The balance of the witnesses for the defense testified as to Mr. Barnes' good character; that he was not of a vicious disposition and not likely to abuse anyone.

Mr. Tompkinson, for defense, testified that Francis wore beautiful clothes, as good as any child in town.

Mrs. Hughes said she was at the Barnes home just after the child had been whipped and found Mrs. Barnes with tears in her eyes.

He stated that he had to punish the girl, and seemed worried and distressed about it. She said the child was not crying or complaining when she came, and she didn't know whether it would hurt to be whipped with a belt or not.

Francis was recalled and said the Barnes' whipped her almost every day and on this particular occasion he hit her with the belt on the head and shoulders a dozen or more times, and almost knocked her down the stairs with a swipe on the side of the head. Upon being asked the witness said she had been with the Barnes ever since she could remember; she did not leave them—never did.

This concluded the principal part of the testimony, and at 5:30 the arguments began. An hour later the case was given to the jury, who disposed of it in short order, bringing in a verdict of guilty as charged, and John Barnes was sentenced to pay a fine of $10 and the costs of prosecution.

The case occupied the attention of the court the entire afternoon.

MINERVA.

This Glorious Stark County Town
Makes Liquor Advocates
Weary.

We have personally visited Minerva and made minute investigation of its commercial and private life as a "dry" town. It is a living, breathing, active witness again the un-American saloon. It is one of the best business towns in Ohio. The merchants do a good and a safe business. The streets are kept in first-class condition. The sidewalks are better than those of East Liverpool. There is no brawling and fighting and cursing upon the thoroughfares. It is a model town. The stuff which has been appearing in a local sheet, at so much per line, condemns Minerva in the same manner as it does other dry towns, and on about the same manufactured and lying testimony, secured and made up by a man who has so far forgot his manhood as to become a tool in the hands of the liquor league and saloon men. We have been close on this fellow's trail, and can prove, by indisputable authority, that his statements are a mass of falsehood. The following from the Minerva News Kodak, a live, clean paper, published in a live, clean town, by a live, clean, fearless man, speaks volumes in favor of the "dry" town:

"We venture the assertion that there is four times more cash business to the volume of business done in Minerva than in any 'wet' town around. And it is equally as evident that as much as twice the volume of legitimate business is done here as in any 'wet' town of like size. One of our prominent merchants remarked Saturday that he had not lost a dollar in bad accounts the past year.—Minerva News Kodak, May 28."

This is the uniform testimony that comes to us from the "dry" towns of the state. It is not an infrequent thing that town officers and prominent citizens, who have opposed making towns "dry" for business reasons confess to us and our friends that they were mistaken, and give in their adherence to the prohibition program. Of all the ineffable rot that was ever faked out by saloon falsifiers, the most silly and baseless is that saloons help the legitimate business of any place.

Barnes Will Pay a Fine of $10 and the Costs of Prosecution.

WORE BEAUTIFUL CLOTHES

According to the Testimony of
Mr. Tompkinson, of West
Market Street.

THERE WERE MANY OBJECTIONS

The case against John Barnes and wife, which occupied the attention of Justice McLain and a jury yesterday afternoon, was remarkable for its contradictory evidence, scarcely any two of the 20 odd witnesses agreeing upon a single point.

Attorney W. B. Hill, counsel for the Barnes, preferred to have his clients tried separately, and thought the husband the proper party to deal with first, and it was decided, leaving Mrs. Barnes out of the question for the time.

Attorney Hill made a motion that the affidavit be quashed on the grounds that it was indefinite. Motion was overruled and the case was proceeded with.

Francis Barnes was the first witness for the prosecution and she said the Barnes were not her father and mother, and that she had been treated very badly at their hands. On last Thursday Barnes had whipped her with a strap, cuffed her ears and locked her in the bath room, afterwards letting her out and she rid off the table, but had no supper. Witness wore a red calico gown somewhat faded and considerably the worse for wear, which, she said, being asked the question, was all she had to wear except her serge dress, which was too heavy for this kind of weather. She went down to Mrs. Vincent's after cleaning away the supper and was given something to eat; had scarcely started to eat when Barnes called her. Witness said she was frightened, but did not refuse to go.

Attorney Kerr, for the prosecution, became ill at this point and Attorney G. M. Thompson took the witness. She went back in a half hour, but they didn't whip her any more.

On cross-examination Francis said it was on Thursday evening she was whipped and pushed down the stairs.

Mrs. Vincent was called. She said she knew defendant, also Francis; Francis had come to her house Thursday afternoon and washed her dishes and insisted upon assisting her to wash some clothes, which she refused to permit her to do.

Mrs. Vincent here started in relating a conversation which she had held with the child, to which Attorney Hill objected and asked that the jury be instructed to disregard such testimony, as it was not admissible. The objection was sustained.

Witness said Barnes tapped on the window to attract attention of Francis, and that when she responded he grabbed her and whipped her with a strap and hit her on the head, almost knocking her down the stairs. This occurred on a landing at the top of the stairs, and Mrs. Vincent witnessed it from the bottom of the stairway. Shortly afterward Francis had come to her house crying saying she had had no supper, whereupon witness gave her something to eat, but she had scarcely started before Barnes came to the door and Francis ran into an inner room in a very excited and nervous condition, wringing her hands and crying.

FOR THE VOTERS

OF EAST LIVERPOOL.

Do you want saloons? If so, why?

Who of us want them, and for what?

Is money spent in them which could do more good spent elsewhere?

Is any money worse than wasted in them?

Do any fathers set bad examples there for their boys?

Do your boys get good habits there that will make them good men, or habits that may make them good-for-nothing men?

Are our wives, mothers and sisters made happier by having loafing and drinking places to tempt their husbands, sons and brothers to waste their time and spend their money in drinking and loafing instead of being at home with their families?

Is the saloon a good place to educate the young men, who are to be the

husbands of our daughters?

If no money were spent in saloons, would there not be more good trade and less bad debts in business, and more comfort in homes?

Would anybody be hurt by having these places shut up? If so, who? And how would they be hurt?

Would some men be better off today if they had never been in a saloon?

Would some women and children be better fed and clothed?

Would some homes be happier?

Would anybody who is dead be alive today?

Would saloonkeepers themselves, and their families, be better, happier, or more useful in some other business?

Do saloonkeepers want to do us good or to get our money?

Do you like the dictation of the saloons in politics?

Let us think of these questions, and vote as we think is RIGHT, not as those who only want our money wish us to vote.

accusing Mrs. Vincent of having Francis wash.

Mrs. Howe testified she had known defendants for 35 years; they have a good reputation and treated the child Francis very kindly. She was out of town when the girl was whipped last week and she knew nothing about it.

On cross-examination Mrs. Howe said she did not say to anyone that the Barnes abused Francis, but she had on one occasion seen Mrs. Barnes shake her by the head.

Robert Williams was a character witness for the Barnes and said as far as he knew the child was treated, fed and clothed as well as any, although he had not been at the house much and was not really in a position to testify as to her treatment while at home.

The balance of the witnesses for the defense testified as to Mr. Barnes' good character; that he was not of a vicious disposition and not likely to abuse anyone.

Mr. Tompkinson, for defense, testified that Francis wore beautiful clothes, as good as any child in town.

Mrs. Hughes said she was at the Barnes home just after the child had been whipped and found Mrs. Barnes with tears in her eyes.

He stated that he had to punish the girl, and seemed worried and distressed about it. She said the child was not crying or complaining when she came, and she didn't know whether it would hurt to be whipped with a belt or not.

Francis was recalled and said the Barnes' whipped her almost every day and on this particular occasion he hit her with the belt on the head and shoulders a dozen or more times, and almost knocked her down the stairs with a swipe on the side of the head. Upon being asked the witness said she had been with the Barnes ever since she could remember; she did not leave them—never did.

This concluded the principal part of the testimony, and at 5:30 the arguments began. An hour later the case was given to the jury, who disposed of it in short order, bringing in a verdict of guilty as charged, and John Barnes was sentenced to pay a fine of $10 and the costs of prosecution.

The case occupied the attention of the court the entire afternoon.

RUSSIA.

The "Innkeeper" or Saloonkeeper is an Unmitigated Curse to Russia.

The following article shows that other nations are experiencing the awful curse consequent upon the use of alcoholic stimulants, and the innkeepers or saloonists are looked upon as the cause of all the trouble. The saloon is a curse to the inhabitants of East Liverpool and a curse wherever it raises its hideous head:

"The Russian government is experiencing great difficulty in its efforts to restrict the almost universal use of liquor among the working classes. The Minister of Finance says the government is anxious to save the population from the baneful influence of the innkeepers, who, in order to make large profits, adulterated their spirits with noxious and deleterious substances, which were proving ruinous to the lower classes. The average peasant was not content with remaining in a public place until he had spent his last farthing, but often pawned his clothes, furniture and future crops."

AN INVITATION.

Local Physicians Receive an Invitation to Visit the City of Detroit.

Last week some of the physicians of the city learned in a round about way that an invitation had been extended to the medical fraternity of Columbiana county by Park, Davis & Co., a wholesale drug firm of Detroit, to visit that city and be entertained by them.

Several of the local medicans endeavored to learn from whence the information came, and found that the Lisbon physicians had heard direct from the firm. This all happened yesterday—too late for any of the local men to arrange to attend, as the party were to start today and expected to return Saturday. Through the neglect or misunderstanding several of the physicians of this city are much disappointed in not being able to make the trip.

RIVERVIEW CEMETERY.

RULES FOR VISITORS.

Section 1. Visitors are reminded that these grounds are sacredly devoted to the interment of the dead, and a strict observance of all that is proper, in a place so dedicated, will be required of all who visit it.

2. Visitors will be admitted to the cemetery at all times during week days. On Sundays no one will be admitted except lot owners or those having a special ticket. Tickets can be procured at office of the secretary in First National bank, or the residence of the superintendent at cemetery.

3. Every person driving in the cemetery shall be responsible for any damage done by him or by the animals in his charge.

4. No vehicle will be allowed to pass through the grounds at a rate exceeding six miles an hour, and no one is permitted to drive on any of the walks. No horse must be left on the grounds unfastened. Drivers must remain on their seats or by their horses during funeral services. Carriages will not be permitted to turn on any avenue.

5. All persons are prohibited from picking any flowers, either wild or cultivated, or breaking any trees, shrub or plant, anywhere within the enclosure; and also from writing upon, defacing, or in any way injuring any ornament, tree or structure in or belonging to the cemetery.

6. Persons with refreshments will not be admitted to the cemetery, and all bags or baskets must be left at the entrance. Children will not be admitted to the cemetery unless in the care of adults.

7. Dogs will not be permitted in the cemetery.

8. Except in case of emergency, when lots are required for immediate use, the superintendent will not attend to the selection or sale of lots on Sunday.

9. Shooting will not be allowed, and no firearms will be permitted within the grounds except at military funerals.

10. The Superintendent and his deputies are vested by an Act of the General Assembly of the State of Ohio with full police power to arrest without warrant and take before a Justice of the Peace any offender in these grounds, and the Association exact the discharge of this duty. They will expel from the cemetery any person disturbing its sanctity by noisy, boisterous or other improper conduct, or who shall violate any of the foregoing rules, and will subject the offender to due punishment.

AN INVITATION.

Local Physicians Receive an Invitation to Visit the City of Detroit.

Last week some of the physicians of the city learned in a round about way that an invitation had been extended to the medical fraternity of Columbiana county by Park, Davis & Co., a wholesale drug firm of Detroit, to visit that city and be entertained by them.

Several of the local medican men endeavored to learn from whence the information came, and found that the Lisbon physicians had heard direct from the firm. This all happened yesterday—too late for any of the local men to arrange to attend, as the party were to start today and expected to return Saturday. Through the neglect or misunderstanding several of the physicians of this city are much disappointed in not being able to make the trip.

RIVERVIEW CEMETERY.

RULES FOR VISITORS.

Section 1. Visitors are reminded that these grounds are sacredly devoted to the interment of the dead, and a strict observance of all that is proper, in a place so dedicated, will be required of all who visit it.

2. Visitors will be admitted to the cemetery at all times during week days. On Sundays no one will be admitted except lot owners or those having a special ticket. Tickets can be procured at office of the secretary in First National bank, or the residence of the superintendent at cemetery.

3. Every person driving in the cemetery shall be responsible for any damage done by him or by the animals in his charge.

4. No vehicle will be allowed to pass through the grounds at a rate exceeding six miles an hour, and no one is permitted to drive on any of the walks. No horse must be left on the grounds unfastened. Drivers must remain on their seats or by their horses during funeral services. Carriages will not be permitted to turn on any avenue.

5. All persons are prohibited from picking any flowers, either wild or cultivated, or breaking any trees, shrub or plant, anywhere within the enclosure; and also from writing upon, defacing, or in any way injuring any ornament, tree or structure in or belonging to the cemetery.

6. Persons with refreshments will not be admitted to the cemetery, and all bags or baskets must be left at the entrance. Children will not be admitted to the cemetery unless in the care of adults.

7. Dogs will not be permitted in the cemetery.

8. Except in case of emergency, when lots are required for immediate use, the superintendent will not attend to the selection or sale of lots on Sunday.

9. Shooting will not be allowed, and no firearms will be permitted within the grounds except at military funerals.

10. The Superintendent and his deputies are vested by an Act of the General Assembly of the State of Ohio with full police power to arrest without warrant and take before a Justice of the Peace any offender in these grounds, and the Association exact the discharge of this duty. They will expel from the cemetery any person disturbing its sancity by noisay, boisterous or other improper conduct, or who shall violate any of the foregoing rules, and will subject the offender to due punishment.

By Order of Trustees,

DAVID BOYCE, Pres.

16TH YEAR. NO. 33.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., WEDNESDAY, JULY 18, 1900.

BUILD HOMES NOT SALOONS

IF LAW CAN BE EVADED

And Speakeasies Run No Man Will Pay Dow Tax to Run an Open Saloon.

PROSPEROUS PROHIBITION CITIES

Editor News Review—I want to say a word about those speakeasies that a trembling contemporary sees rising like a specter out of the ashes of the vanquished saloon.

Let this pious sheet be calm. A speakeasy can exist where there are open saloons as well as where there are no saloons. If a man can evade the law and run a speakeasy he will not pay a Dow tax.

Our thirsty friends, our moral monitors thoughtlessly impale themselves on their own arguments. They argue thus:

First—Where there are no saloons there will be more liquor drank than where there are saloons.

Second—Driving out the saloon we drive out the business of the town, for it will go where liquor can be had.

Both of these cannot be correct. The two propositions kill each other.

Is more liquor drank where there is no saloon? Who is working for the saloon? The liquor dealer? No. Manufacturers and wholesalers are known to spend thousands of dollars to maintain the saloon in a town. What fools they must be. If your competitor would go away from home far enough his eyes would witness the benefits to Minerva and East Palestine in comparison with saloon ridden towns.

Minerva with no saloons and a much less population buys and sells more goods than Carrollton with its saloons, though it is a county seat.

Let us ask ourselves what we are, anyway. Are we men or pigs?

If pigs, then let us slobber and swill and slobber and swear and tumble into the gutter. If men, then let us act like men. I have never seen a town where the saloon was banished that not only were business conditions improved, but there was an improvement of all that was worthy of the best manhood. Homes were more appreciated and beautified. Education, the library, art and music were more patronized.

The churches, the hospital and other religious and charitable institutions were more flourishing. East Liverpool and Wellsville spends enough every year for liquor to build and equip as new a hospital as there is in the state.

Let us get our minds on something higher than a beer mug. Let us cultivate a more rational taste than the taste for debauchery and we will be led to strike from ourselves the cause of this death.

The proof of the pudding is in the eating. Some of these towns which never saw a town with no saloons. Not a town with no saloons. For 35 years it has been a saloon. As it diminished the population. Fifteen years ago it had 6,000 population. This year's census finds it with 21,000.

Look at its long avenues of fine, beautiful homes; look at its fine public buildings and city improvements. See its splendid school facilities and its prosperous churches and its refined and intelligent population. Is it a dead business town? Though only 30 miles from the large cities of Wheeling and Pittsburg, see its great stores and its large number of prosperous banking houses. During the hard times, when some towns were establishing soup houses and sending out wagons to beg from the farmers, Washington had no hard times.

Why carpenters and plasterers and painters there are able to build themselves homes costing $8,000 to $10,000.

Let us close up these drinking holes. Let us build our homes and not the saloon. Every interest of decency favors no saloon. Appetite and avarice alone clamor for the saloon.

Let us be men, and let not appetite enslave us, nor avarice beguile us. We have tried the saloon long enough, let us try something better.

CIVES.

NICHOLAS GEON.

An Aged Resident of the City Died at His Home Yesterday Afternoon.

Nicholas Geon, who died yesterday afternoon, was among the oldest and best known potters in the city.

Deceased was a native of Ireland and was in his 71st year. He had been a resident of East Liverpool for the last 45 years, coming here in 1855 from Pittsburg, where he had been employed in the Bennett pottery, Birmingham, South Pittsburg. Mr. Geon was employed in the various potteries of the city for many years, although he had not been actively engaged at potting for some time before his death.

Deceased was the father of 10 children, four sons and six daughters, all of whom survive him.

Funeral services will be conducted at St. Aloysius' church tomorrow morning at 8:30 o'clock and interment will be made in the Catholic cemetery.

WANTS A DIVORCE.

Anna Hill, of Salem, Says Her Husband Has Been Absent for Three Years.

Lisbon, July 18.—(Special.)—Mrs. Anna Hill, of Salem, has sued for a divorce from Edward Hill, who has deserted her and left the state. She simply alleges absence and neglect for over three years.

Two Licenses.

Lisbon, July 18.—(Special.)—Robert C. Groomes and Miss Nellie Remley, of this city, will be united in marriage today by Rev. Zeigler. A license was also issued today to Clarence E. Walborn and Lydia A. McQuistian, of East Fairfield.

Admitted to Probate.

Lisbon, July 18.—(Special.)—An authenticated copy of the will in the estate of James McMillan, late of Beaver county, Pa., was today admitted to probate in this county.

Filed a Certificate.

Lisbon, July 18.—(Special.)—Dr. John H. Davis, of East Liverpool, filed his certificate in the probate court today, thus complying with the law which entitles him to practice in this county.

A DIRTY LIE QUICKLY NAILED

HON. C. C. BAKER SPEAKS OUT

M. K. Zimmerman Created the Impression That He Represented the News Review.

A PECULIAR PIECE OF WORK

Hon. C. C. Baker, at present the president of the board of education at Alliance, Ohio, is a personal friend and comrade of the manager of the News Review. When we read the remarks attributed to him last night, as they appeared in a local paper in this town, under the head of "communicated," we at once pronounced them false, knowing C. C. Baker as we do, and determined to interview the gentleman at his home at Alliance. We did so this morning, through a proper medium, and received the following reply, after reading the article to him which appeared in the local paper above mentioned:

"There is not a word of truth in the paragraph quoted. M. K. Zimmerman called on me on Monday last and attempted to interview me. I asked him how you were and as to the stand you were taking on the battle of saloon or no saloon. He stated that you were on the side of local option and left me under the impression that he was here in your interest and that he was still connected with your paper, and I did not know that you had ceased to employ him. I told Mr. Zimmerman that I was not here at the time that local option held sway, that I knew nothing about the matter from personal knowledge and that I did not desire to be quoted. I further told Mr. Zimmerman that there were plenty of old residents here whom he could interview respecting the matter, men who knew all about it; but he intimated that his time was limited and that he could not interview many people. Let me reiterate my statement:

"The article which appeared in the paper you mention, and which is quoted as being my experience, is a plain LIE, manufactured from the whole cloth.

"Respectfully,
Alliance, O., July 18, 1900."

In the light of this prompt and unequivocal branding of the lie against Hon. C. C. Baker, have we not the right to say that the liquor league and their miserable tools will resort to any and every means, honorable or dishonorable, for the accomplishment of their vile and unholy purposes?

This lie is a shameful and outrageous one, calculated to seriously injure Hon. C. C. Baker, and the man or men who concocted it should be made pay a heavy penalty. The proper place for creatures who resort to such infamy and trickery is behind prison bars. This act on their part is a fair sample of their method of procedure everywhere. The saloon is and always has been a criminal maker, and the men who manufacture criminals will themselves become criminals on the slightest pretext, when their criminal action will best accomplish their foul and unholy purpose, and when they believe that they stand an even chance of escaping punishment at the hands of an outraged law.

HERE YOU ARE?

Give yourselves a fair show in the race of life, men of East Liverpool. Don't let the saloonists make a monkey of you. They rob you and then laugh at you. Do the laughing for yourself, and let the wife and the babies have the money you throw away in the saloon. Let the saloonist, distiller and brewer make an honest and honorable living, the same as you do, and don't you build houses for him at your expense and at the expense and sorrow of your wife and little ones. Read the following and see the difference in a city under saloon rule and after the saloon was driven out:

"The city of Cambridge, Mass., celebrated on May 1 its 10 years freedom from the liquor traffic. There were children's festivals and public meetings, and in all religious services held a prominent place. A writer in the New York Independent gives the following facts as to the results of the city's policy: 'For 10 years, up to 1886, Cambridge was under license, half of the time under general law and half of the time under local option. Here is a chance to compare 10 years of license with 10 years of no license. Let us see what the figures are: From 1876 to 1886 the valuation of Cambridge dropped from $62,000,000 in round numbers to $59,000,000. In the next 10 years it rose to $83,000,000. Here is a loss of $3,000,000 in the license decade, and a gain of $24,000,000 in the no-license decade. If this fact stood alone it would be very significant; but it does not stand alone. In the 10 license years the average annual gain in population was 1,182; in the 10 no-license years it has been 2,195. In the first decade there were 151 new houses built annually; the average the second decade has been 332. The city gets annually in taxes on the increased valuation of the city under no-license three or four times as much as it would get from license fees, if it called the saloon back.'

"Here are further results as to saving bank deposits: 'During the 10 years of license the Cambridge savings bank made a net gain of $155,333 each year in deposits. During the 10 no-license years the annual net gain has been $366,654. This gain, as an analysis of the returns shows, has been chiefly in small deposits of $50 or less. In East Cambridge, the principal manufacturing section of the city, the deposits last year were four times as large as in the last year of license.'

LOST CONTROL.

A Street Car Went Down Washington Street at a Rapid Rate of Speed.

A motorman lost control of his car while going down the Washington street hill shortly after 1 o'clock, but the car did not leave the rails. The passengers were badly frightened.

Elected Superintendent.

Miss Berth Marlatt, a well known teacher in the Columbiana public schools some years ago, has been elected superintendent of the public schools of Cloud county, Kansas, at a salary of $1,000 a year.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

WEDNESDAY, JULY 18, 1900.

This Date In History—July 18.

- 1792—John Paul Jones, the naval hero, died in Paris; born 1747. Jones was a surname assumed by this eccentric Scotchman, who was christened John Paul. He was early engaged on a slaver and afterward in the merchant service. On the formation of the first naval force of the Revolutionary government in 1775 John Paul was named the "senior first lieutenant."
- 1872—President Juarez of Mexico died; born 1806.
- 1881—Arthur Penrhyn Stanley, D. D., LL. D., dean of Westminster, died in London; born 1815.
- 1887—Robert Mercer Taliaferro Hunter, once a leading southern statesman, died in Essex county, Va.; born 1809.
- 1892—Rose Terry Cooke, American authoress, died at Springfield, Mass.; born 1827.
- 1894—Leconte de Lisle, French poet, died in Paris; born 1818.
- 1895—Charles Emanuel Schenck, ex-president of Switzerland, died at Bern; born 1825.
- 1899—Horatio G. Alger, famous as a writer of stories for boys, died at Natick, Mass.; born 1834.

FARMERS.

They are a grand class of men. As a rule, they are not the tools and playthings of the liquor league or the saloon. The saloonists find that it never pays to run a saloon in the rural districts. They kill off speakeasies in the country.

SPEAKEASIES.

Liverpool township is prohibition. St. Clair township is prohibition. Yellow Creek township is prohibition. Let this city go dry, and the liquor dealers attempt to carry their threat of the establishment of speakeasies into effect, and the state officials will make the lawbreakers and criminals very, very weary. We know whereof we speak, and so do the liquor dealers.

SPEAKEASIES.

Common sense is the best sense ever granted unto men—a God-given gift. A common sense writer "Cives" says in today's issue, speaking of the threats of the saloonkeepers respecting speakesies: "If law can be evaded and speakeasies be run, no man will pay Dow tax to run an open saloon." Comment is unnecessary.

HON. C. C. BAKER.

Boomerangs are dangerous weapons to trifle with. The hands that hurl them may be broken and crushed. The liquor element will find this to be the case in the outrageous lie they published and quoted as coming from him, and which he today brands as a lie out of the whole cloth. Surely the liquor element is treading on dangerous ground when they thus traduce and malign and misrepresent a good and clean citizen.

MINERVA.

Read article elsewhere respecting Minerva, Stark county, Ohio, almost at your doors. The saloon and liquor men have intimated that Minerva, as a dry town, is a failure. Very many thousands of men in this state of Ohio would glory in having such failures in their social and business life. Minerva is on the of the best and most prosperous towns in the nation—made so by the citizens voting the saloon out of existence. See that you do the same, citizen voters of East Liverpool.

HIS BRAINS "WOBBLED."

That writer for the saloon element and in favor of booze, who wrote a paid article for a local on Monday, on their first page, under the head of "Communicated," must have had the "jim jams" at the time. He said:

"First—Where there are no saloons there will be more liquor drank than where there are saloons."

And then this brain wobbler, mixed in his attempted argument by the influence of tangle foot, or having caught the breath of his employers, says:

"Second—Driving out the saloons we drive out the business of the town, for it will go where liquor can be had."

As "Cives" says: Both of these can not be correct. The two propositions kill each other."

Say, readers of the News Review, it's a clear case of the devil destroying his own. The fellow who made such a so-called argument should put his head in soak.

TO OUR READERS.

You will kindly pardon us for the appearance of so much reading matter along the line of temperance. We are very much in earnest along this line. We believe that the saloon is an awful curse to this city and its citizens; a destroyer of prosperity; a destroyer of morals; a destroyer of property; an element which very heavily increases taxation; an absolute curse to our workingmen, the best men in the nation, representing the middle classes, upon which our government is founded; the robber of women and children; the producer of criminals and the destroyer of the bodies of our very best young men, men who, if the saloon were barred out, would be an ornament to society, as the saloon is the chief feeder from which the liquor traffic draws its life and is enabled to exist. Believing this in our heart, and standing as the friend of every honest and honorable man in this city, we dare not do otherwise than we are doing. May God defend the right, and grant that the good citizens of East Liverpool, as instruments in His hands, shall bar the accursed saloon from our midst.

BUILD HOMES.

Read article over signature of "Cives" on our first page. "Build Homes—not saloons. There is power and force and conviction in the thought. Homes for yourselves, workmen; not homes for the saloonist. Dress your wives and children well; not the wives and children of the saloon keeper. Build cosy, comfortable and neat little homes for yourselves; not great brick residences and palaces for the wholesale liquor dealers, distiller, brewer and saloon keeper. A little, cheap piece of paper will do the business for you on Saturday, July 21, 1900. Men call it a ballot, a vote; insignificant in appearance, but an awful power for good or for evil in your hands. Men of East Liverpool, drinkers and non-drinkers, by everything you hold dear and sacred; by mother's tears and wife's sorrows; by children's cries and moans of hunger, by the memory of dishonored fathers, brothers and sons, ruined and degraded by the saloon; by the hopes you have of heaven; by the mercy of God, kill the foul saloon in East Liverpool on Saturday, July 21.

BOOMERANGS.

Ho, there, all good and honest and truthful citizens of East Liverpool. Ho, there, all men who have been cursed by the nasty saloon, and who desire to get away from its influence and to get back into clean life once more, respecting yourselves and having the respect and esteem of your friends and neighbors. Ho, there, all men who hate and despise liars, falsifiers and all such skull-duggery, make note that the liquor and saloon element of East Liverpool are engaged in all manner of trickery and unfairness, falsehood and misrepresentations. They have had a man in East Palestine and Columbiana, and this man will make to them, and they to the public, all manner of misrepresentations respecting these towns, asserting that citizens at large regret that those towns are dry. This same fellow will assert that the trade of those towns is going to Waterford, a very wet town, to the detriment and regret of the merchants of Columbiana and East Palestine. Such statements are absolute, plain, unvarnished lies. No gentler word or expression will do justice to the occasion. We can prove this by a large mass of citizens of those places. All the speakeasies that the liquor league can build around Palestine cannot make the majority of the citizens, business men, merchants, artisans and toilers sorry that the infamous saloon has been barred out of the town, and this majority will so express itself in unmistakable terms. The liquor element is sparing no expense in the manufacture of falsehoods and in the support of speakeasies; but they have counted without their host. Their traveling tool has talked too much. He has been hurling boomerangs, and the weapons made use of

will return and kill himself and his employers.

CASE WILL BE DROPPED.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnes Have Relinquished all Claim to the Child Which They Have Been Caring For.

It is likely the case against Mrs. John Barnes will be withdrawn and nothing further done in the matter, as the humane authorities have succeeded in having the husband punished for his alleged cruelty. An effort is being made to provide for the child, Frances Barnes, as the Barnes people have relinquished all claim to her and it is probable an application will be made to have Mrs. Vincent appointed guardian of the girl.

Pipe Line Obstructions.

Pilots complain that pipe lines in the Ohio river are proving dangerous obstructions to navigation. A line is now being laid across the river at Wellsville, and it is thought that no permission has been granted to lay it. The line is not being buried, which is contrary to law. At New Martinsville there is also an exposed gas line. It appears that every rise in the river causes the line to raise and it is not regarded safe for boats to land near the place.

Leased Some Territory.

The Standard Oil company has leased 4,000 acres of land in Trumbull county and will thoroughly test it for oil. Drilling will commence in Brookfield township this week.

Second Kiln Fired.

The Wellsville China company today fired their second kiln at their new plant.

The greatest of all human benefits, that, at least, without which no other benefit can be truly enjoyed, is independence.—Parke Godwin.

They are a grand class of men. As a rule, they are not the tools and playthings of the liquor league or the saloon. The saloonists find that it never pays to run a saloon in the rural districts. They kill off speakeasies in the country.

SPEAKEASIES.

Liverpool township is prohibition. St. Clair township is prohibition. Yellow Creek township is prohibition. Let this city go dry, and the liquor dealers attempt to carry their threat of the establishment of speakeasies into effect, and the state officials will make the lawbreakers and criminals very, very weary. We know whereof we speak, and so do the liquor dealers.

SPEAKEASIES.

Common sense is the best sense ever granted unto men—a God-given gift. A common sense writer "Cives" says in today's issue, speaking of the threats of the saloonkeepers respecting speakesies: "If law can be evaded and speakeasies be run, no man will pay Dow tax to run an open saloon." Comment is unnecessary.

HON. C. C. BAKER.

Boomerangs are dangerous weapons to trifle with. The hands that hurl them may be broken and crushed. The liquor element will find this to be the case in the outrageous lie they published and quoted as coming from him, and which he today brands as a lie out of the whole cloth. Surely the liquor element is treading on dangerous ground when they thus traduce and malign and misrepresent a good and clean citizen.

MINERVA.

Read article elsewhere respecting Minerva, Stark county, Ohio, almost at your doors. The saloon and liquor men have intimated that Minerva, as a dry town, is a failure. Very many thousands of men in this state of Ohio would glory in having such failures in their social and business life. Minerva is on the of the best and most prosperous towns in the nation—made so by the citizens voting the saloon out of existence. See that you do the same, citizen voters of East Liverpool.

HIS BRAINS "WOBBLED."

That writer for the saloon element and in favor of booze, who wrote a paid article for a local on Monday, on their first page, under the head of "Communicated," must have had the "jim jams" at the time. He said:

"First—Where there are no saloons there will be more liquor drank than where there are saloons."

And then this brain wobbler, mixed in his attempted argument by the influence of tangle foot, or having caught the breath of his employers, says:

"Second—Driving out the saloons we drive out the business of the town, for it will go where liquor can be had."

Say, readers of the News Review, it's a clear case of the devil destroying his own. The fellow who made such a so-called argument should put his head in soak.

TO OUR READERS.

You will kindly pardon us for the appearance of so much reading matter along the line of temperance. We are very much in earnest along this line. We believe that the saloon is an awful curse to this city and its citizens; a destroyer of prosperity; a destroyer of morals; a destroyer of property; an element which very heavily increases taxation; an absolute curse to our workingmen, the best men in the nation, representing the middle classes, upon which our government is founded; the robber of women and children; the producer of criminals and the destroyer of the bodies of our very best young men, men who, if the saloon were barred out, would be an ornament to society, as the saloon is the chief feeder from which the liquor traffic draws its life and is enabled to exist. Believing this in our heart, and standing as the friend of every honest and honorable man in this city, we dare not do otherwise than we are doing. May God defend the right, and grant that the good citizens of East Liverpool, as instruments in His hands, shall bar the accursed saloon from our midst.

BUILD HOMES.

Read article over signature of "Cives" on our first page. "Build Homes—not saloons. There is power and force and conviction in the thought. Homes for yourselves, workingmen; not homes for the saloonist. Dress your wives and children well; not the wives and children of the saloon keeper. Build cosy, comfortable and neat little homes for yourselves; not great brick residences and palaces for the wholesale liquor dealers, distiller, brewer and saloon keeper. A little, cheap piece of paper will do the business for you on Saturday, July 21, 1900. Men call it a ballot, a vote; insignificant in appearance, but an awful power for good or for evil in your hands. Men of East Liverpool, drinkers and non-drinkers, by everything you hold dear and sacred; by mother's tears and wife's sorrows; by children's cries and moans of hunger, by

BOOMERANGS.

Ho, there, all good and honest and truthful citizens of East Liverpool. Ho, there, all men who have been cursed by the nasty saloon, and who desire to get away from its influence and to get back into clean life once more, respecting yourselves and having the respect and esteem of your friends and neighbors. Ho, there, all men who hate and despise liars, falsifiers and all such skull-duggery, make note that the liquor and saloon element of East Liverpool are engaged in all manner of trickery and unfairness, falsehood and misrepresentations. They have had a man in East Palestine and Columbiana, and this man will make to them, and they to the public, all manner of misrepresentations respecting these towns, asserting that citizens at large regret that those towns are dry. This same fellow will assert that the trade of those towns is going to Waterford, a very wet town, to the detriment and regret of the merchants of Columbiana and East Palestine. Such statements are absolute, plain, unvarnished lies. No gentler word or expression will do justice to the occasion. We can prove this by a large mass of citizens of those places. All the speakeasies that the liquor league can build around Palestine cannot make the majority of the citizens, business men, merchants, artisans and toilers sorry that the infamous saloon has been barred out of the town, and this majority will so express itself in unmistakable terms. The liquor element is sparing no expense in the manufacture of falsehoods and in the support of speakeasies; but they have counted without their host. Their traveling tool has talked too much. He has been hurling boomerangs, and the weapons made use of

CASE WILL BE DROPPED.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnes Have Relinquished all Claim to the Child Which They Have Been Caring For.

It is likely the case against Mrs. John Barnes will be withdrawn and nothing further done in the matter, as the humane authorities have succeeded in having the husband punished for his alleged cruelty. An effort is being made to provide for the child, Frances Barnes, as the Barnes people have relinquished all claim to her and it is probable an application will be made to have Mrs. Vincent appointed guardian of the girl.

Pipe Line Obstructions.

Pilots complain that pipe lines in the Ohio river are proving dangerous obstructions to navigation. A line is now being laid across the river at Wellsville, and it is thought that no permission has been granted to lay it. The line is not being buried, which is contrary to law. At New Martinsville there is also an exposed gas line. It appears that every rise in the river causes the line to raise and it is not regarded safe for boats to land near the place.

Leased Some Territory.

The Standard Oil company has leased 4,000 acres of land in Trumbull county and will thoroughly test it for oil. Drilling will commence in Brookfield township this week.

Second Kiln Fired.

The Wellsville China company today fired their second kiln at their new plant.

Prosecution.

WORE BEAUTIFUL CLOTHES

According to the Testimony of
Mr. Tompkinson, of West
Market Street.

THERE WERE MANY OBJECTIONS

The case against John Barnes and wife, which occupied the attention of Justice McLain and a jury yesterday afternoon, was remarkable for its contradictory evidence, scarcely any two of the 20 odd witnesses agreeing upon a single point.

Attorney W. B. Hill, counsel for the Barnes, preferred to have his clients tried separately, and thought the husband the proper party to deal with first, and it was decided, leaving Mrs. Barnes out of the question for the time.

Attorney Hill made a motion that the affidavit be quashed on the grounds that it was indefinite. Motion was overruled and the case was proceeded with.

Francis Barnes was the first witness for the prosecution and she said the Barnes were not her father and mother, and that she had been treated very badly at their hands. On last Thursday Barnes had whipped her with a strap, cuffed her ears and locked her in the bath room, afterwards letting her out and she rid off the table, but had no supper. Witness wore a red calico gown somewhat faded and considerably the worse for wear, which, she said, being asked the question, was all she had to wear except her serge dress, which was too heavy for this kind of weather. She went down to Mrs. Vincent's after cleaning away the supper and was given something to eat; had scarcely started to eat when Barnes called her. Witness said she was frightened, but did not refuse to go.

Attorney Kerr, for the prosecution, became ill at this point and Attorney G. M. Thompson took the witness. She went back in a half hour, but they didn't whip her any more.

On cross-examination Francis said it was on Thursday evening she was whipped and pushed down the stairs.

Mrs. Vincent was called. She said she knew defendant, also Francis; Francis had come to her house Thursday afternoon and washed her dishes and insisted upon assisting her to wash some clothes, which she refused to permit her to do.

Mrs. Vincent here started in relating a conversation which she had held with the child, to which Attorney Hill objected and asked that the jury be instructed to disregard such testimony, as it was not admissible. The objection was sustained.

Witness said Barnes tapped on the window to attract attention of Francis, and that when she responded he grabbed her and whipped her with a strap and hit her on the head, almost knocking her down the stairs. This occurred on a landing at the top of the stairs, and Mrs. Vincent witnessed it from the bottom of the stairway. Shortly afterward Francis had come to her house crying saying she had had no supper, whereupon witness gave her something to eat, but she had scarcely started before Barnes came to the door and Francis ran into an inner room in a very excited and nervous condition, wringing her hands and crying.

is to the part referring to her mental condition, being admitted unless Barnes was present at the time. Objection overruled.

Mrs. Vincent said they frequently abused and misused her, to which Hill again objected, saying the time was too indefinite, whereupon the justice ruled that any time within two or three days or a week would be all that was necessary.

Asked as to whether she had ever heard any threats made to the child, Mrs. Vincent stated she had seen Mrs. Barnes slap her in the face, call her a little cat, and, shaking her two fingers in her face had often used the expression that she would "fix her." Witness said condition of child's clothes was filthy and not fit to wear upon anyone. Child was placed in her charge last Saturday morning and her clothing at that time was in a filthy condition, both inside and out. She had bought the girl suitable clothing. Upon being asked if she would know the clothing the child wore when she came to her the witness said she certainly would and the clothes were submitted in evidence, and Mrs. Vincent identified them. Witness testified that the child was of a very affectionate disposition, a good child to work, having done several small jobs for her, and on the evening after she had been whipped Mrs. Vincent had told Barnes that he shouldn't whip her any more, to which he replied "it was none of her d—d business" whether he whipped her or not.

Dr. Wm. Brindley was the next witness and he said he had been called and examined her nervous condition; found it in very bad condition; her temperature being at 104, indicating a very feverish state; she seemed in a frenzy of fear constantly.

Miss Annie Ball testified that Barnes seemed ashamed of the child's condition, since they attempted to persuade her to change her clothes when she came to the squire's office on the day of the Barnes' arrest.

Defense then swore the following witnesses: Mr. and Mrs. Barnes, Minnie Glass, I. Bentley Pope, Robert Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Tompkinson, Mrs. Howe, John Vodrey, Martha Testill, Mrs. Hughes, J. W. Bagley and Dr. W. A. Hobbs.

Mrs. Barnes was first called and said they had taken Francis from an institution in England when she was 6 years old; she was now between 13 and 14; they had lived in this country since November; they sent the child to school every day and thought as much of her as though she was their own, feeding and clothing her as well as the circumstances would permit, although most of her clothing was after the English fashion and perhaps looked odd to some. On the afternoon in question she and her husband had been lying down and when Mr. Barnes arose he discovered she had gone to Mrs. Vincent's house, and as he had forbidden her to go he whipped her in a gentle manner. Her husband had then told Mrs. Vincent the child shouldn't work for her,

Do you want saloons? If so, why? Who of us want them, and for what? Is time spent in them which could be better spent elsewhere?

Is money spent in them which could do more good spent elsewhere?

Is there likely to be gambling in them?

Is any money worse than wasted in them?

Do any fathers set bad examples there for their boys?

Do your boys get good habits there that will make them good men, or habits that may make them good-for-nothing men?

accusing Mrs. Vincent of having Francis wash.

Mrs. Howe testified she had known defendants for 35 years; they have a good reputation and treated the child Francis very kindly. She was out of town when the girl was whipped last week and she knew nothing about it.

On cross-examination Mrs. Howe said she did not say to anyone that the Barnes abused Francis, but she had on one occasion seen Mrs. Barnes shake her by the head.

Robert Williams was a character witness for the Barnes and said as far as he knew the child was treated, fed and clothed as well as any, although he had not been at the house much and was not really in a position to testify as to her treatment while at home.

The balance of the witnesses for the defense testified as to Mr. Barnes' good character; that he was not of a vicious disposition and not likely to abuse anyone.

Mr. Tompkinson, for defense, testified that Francis wore beautiful clothes, as good as any child in town.

Mrs. Hughes said she was at the Barnes home just after the child had been whipped and found Mrs. Barnes with tears in her eyes.

He stated that he had to punish the girl, and seemed worried and distressed about it. She said the child was not crying or complaining when she came, and she didn't know whether it would hurt to be whipped with a belt or not.

Francis was recalled and said the Barnes' whipped her almost every day and on this particular occasion he hit her with the belt on the head and shoulders a dozen or more times, and

husbands of our daughters?

If no money were spent in saloons, would there not be more good trade and less bad debts in business, and more comfort in homes?

Would anybody be hurt by having these places shut up? If so, who? And how would they be hurt?

Would some men be better off today if they had never been in a saloon?

Would some women and children be better fed and clothed?

Would some homes be happier?

Would anybody who is dead be alive today?

Would saloonkeepers themselves, and their families, be better, happier, or more useful in some other business?

Do saloonkeepers want to do us good or to get our money?

Do you like the dictation of the saloons in politics?

almost knocked her down the stairs with a swipe on the side of the head. Upon being asked the witness said she had been with the Barnes ever since she could remember; she did not leave them—never did.

This concluded the principal part of the testimony, and at 5:30 the arguments began. An hour later the case was given to the jury, who disposed of it in short order, bringing in a verdict of guilty as charged, and John Barnes was sentenced to pay a fine of $10 and the costs of prosecution.

The case occupied the attention of the court the entire afternoon.

MINERVA.

This Glorious Stark County Town
Weary.

We have personally visited Minerva and made minute investigation of its commercial and private life as a "dry" town. It is a living, breathing, active witness again the un-American saloon. It is one of the best business towns in Ohio. The merchants do a good and a safe business. The streets are kept in first-class condition. The sidewalks are better than those of East Liverpool. There is no brawling and fighting and cursing upon the thoroughfares. It is a model town. The stuff which has been appearing in a local sheet, at so much per line, condemns Minerva in the same manner as it does other dry towns, and on about the same manufactured and lying testimony, secured and made up by a man who has so far forgot his manhood as to become a tool in the hands of the liquor league and saloon men. We have been close on this fellow's trail, and can prove, by indisputable authority, that his statements are a mass of falsehood. The following from the Minerva News Kodak, a live, clean paper, published in a live, clean town, by a live, clean, fearless man, speaks volumes in favor of the "dry" town:

"We venture the assertion that there is four times more cash business to the volume of business done in Minerva than in any 'wet' town around. And it is equally as evident that as much as twice the volume of legitimate business is done here as in any 'wet' town of like size. One of our prominent merchants remarked Saturday that he had not lost a dollar in bad accounts the past year.—Minerva News Kodak, May 28."

This is the uniform testimony that comes to us from the "dry" towns of the state. It is not an infrequent thing that town officers and prominent citizens, who have opposed making towns "dry" for business reasons confess to us and our friends that they were mistaken, and give in their adherence to the prohibition program. Of all the ineffable rot that was ever faked out by saloon falsifiers, the most silly and baseless is that saloons help the legitimate business of any place.

REMUS SHENKEL WAS IN A RUNOFF

Was Driving Along Trentvale Street With a Moving When Team Started.

HE WAS THROWN OUT

Dragged For Several Yards, Had Three Ribs Broken and Was Considerably Bruised.

COMPANION WAS NOT INJURED

Remus Shenkel met with an accident this morning that might have resulted very seriously.

In company with Raymond Byeirs he was engaged in moving a family to Trentvale street. They had unloaded their wagon and were returning and had reached the intersection of Sheridan avenue when the team started to run. Shenkel held onto the lines, and when the Horn switch was reached the lead horse came loose, turned up the track while the other animal kept straight along West Market street. Both boys were thrown out and Shenkel was thrown under the horses. He became entangled in the lines and was dragged several yards before he was able to escape. After he became loose he walked over to the curb and laid down.

Bystanders who had witnessed the accident realized that he was injured and telephoned for the patrol and he was taken to his home on Cook street, where an examination of his injuries developed the fact that he had three ribs broken, one of them being broken in two places. In addition to this his face was considerably skinned up and he was very badly bruised.

Byeirs escaped injury beyond a few bruises. The team was captured before either of the animals had been injured.

REMUS SHENKEL WAS IN A RUNOFF

HE WAS THROWN OUT

Dragged For Several Yards, Had Three Ribs Broken and Was Considerably Bruised.

COMPANION WAS NOT INJURED

Remus Shenkel met with an accident this morning that might have resulted very seriously.

In company with Raymond Byers he was engaged in moving a family to Trentvale street. They had unloaded their wagon and were returning and had reached the intersection of Sheridan avenue when the team started to run. Shenkel held onto the lines, and when the Horn switch was reached the lead horse came loose, turned up the track while the other animal kept straight along West Market street. Both boys were thrown out and Shenkel was thrown under the horses. He became entangled in the lines and was dragged several yards before he was able to escape. After he became loose he walked over to the curb and laid down.

Bystanders who had witnessed the accident realized that he was injured and telephoned for the patrol and he was taken to his home on Cook street, where an examination of his injuries developed the fact that he had three ribs broken, one of them being broken in two places. In addition to this his face was considerably skinned up and he was very badly bruised.

Byers escaped injury beyond a few bruises. The team was captured before either of the animals had been injured.

An Expensive Monument.

Toronto Tribune.

A. H. Graham has this week delivered and erected a handsome two-base cube Barry granite family monument for William Croxall, of East Liverpool. The monument was erected in Spring Grove cemetery and the cube is 4x6 feet, weighing 49,000 pounds. The freight on the stone cost $151. The monument complete cost just $2,000, and it is probably the most expensive one of its kind in this vicinity.

Terry Back in Salem.

MAKE THEM HAPPY.

This Lady Takes a Full Hand in Favor of the Little Ones.

Mont Lawn, New York, is a paradise for needy little ones. The cost of one child for a 10 days' outing from New York city is $3, covering transportation, food shelter, medical and caretaker's attention. A noble Christian woman of this city today handed in $3 to the News Review office and the sum was at once forwarded to the "Fresh Air Fund, Christian Herald, care Bible House, New York city." God bless the donor and let her remember the words of the Master respecting little children.

DISMISSED THE CASE.

Minnie Reed Charged George Shiffer With False and Malicious Libel.

A case in which Minnie Reed charged George Shiffer with false and malicious libel was tried before Justice McCarron this morning. Owing to the extreme youth of defendant, being only 13 years of age, the justice dismissed the case and assessed the costs upon the boy's father.

THREE COLORED YOUNG MEN

Get Themselves In Trouble For Fighting on Second Street and Were Arrested.

TWO OTHER MEN RUN IN

Chief Thompson and Officer Homer Morris this morning took Si Hanselman, John Brown, Neal Laird and George Cox to Lisbon, where they will answer to the court, Hanselman, Laird and Cox for stealing copper wire and Brown for assisting the three men to escape from the city jail.

Mrs. Obney did not enter a charge against John Grim for taking her watch. Investigation proved that Grim was entirely innocent and had no part in the loss of the watch.

William Dewey, George Brown and Dave Brown, well-known colored people of the city, were arrested last night upon a charge of fighting on Second street. They had a battle on Second street several days ago with George Brown, a bricklayer from the Southside. It cost them each $2 and costs when they faced the mayor. They put up security and were released.

John Hancock was arrested upon a charge of being disorderly at his home on Third street. Mayor Davidson assessed him $5 and costs.

John Allison filled up with bad whisky and drifted into McDole's stable to sleep his jag off. Fireman Bettridge arrested him and the mayor fined him $5 and costs.

SOUTH SIDE.

Car off the Track.

A little excitement was caused yesterday afternoon when one of the new Southside cars was derailed on the switch, just across the bridge. It was about 5 o'clock in the evening and the car was heavily loaded with passengers returning from work and others coming from the ball game. All had to pile out in a most undignified manner until the car could be replaced. No one was hurt, but all were well shaken up. The mishap was the result of the spreading of the switch rails.

The Wellsburg Picnic.

The picnic at Rock Springs park yesterday from Wellsburg was attended by 1,500 people, who reported a pleasant time. A most orderly crowd was present, no trouble taking place on the grounds. The crowd departed for home at 8 o'clock, but as usual with a picnic crowd a few missed the train and returned home this morning.

A Candidate Here.

J. H. Settle, of Fairview, nominee on the Democratic ticket for assessor of this county, was in Chester yesterday looking after his interests.

Looking After Their Interests.

Oscar Margaret and David Glass, of New Cumberland, were in Chester yesterday looking after some coal interests in this section of the county.

They Talked Fight.

Two men talking fight furnished amusement for the residents of Chester yesterday. They did not come to blows.

Some Trouble.

On account of the power the Southside street car line experienced much inconvenience yesterday afternoon.

Personal.

RUSSIA.

The "Innkeeper" or Saloonkeeper is an Unmitigated Curse to Russia.

The following article shows that other nations are experiencing the awful curse consequent upon the use of alcoholic stimulants, and the innkeepers or saloonists are looked upon as the cause of all the trouble. The saloon is a curse to the inhabitants of East Liverpool and a curse wherever it raises its hideous head:

"The Russian government is experiencing great difficulty in its efforts to restrict the almost universal use of liquor among the working classes. The Minister of Finance says the government is anxious 'to save the population from the baneful influence of the innkeepers, who, in order to make large profits, adulterated their spirits with noxious and deleterious substances, which were proving ruinous to the lower classes. The average peasant was not content with remaining in a public place until he had spent his last farthing, but often pawned his clothes, furniture and future crops.'"

Lost a Gold Watch.

Yesterday afternoon (Tuesday), July 17, a handsome gold watch was lost at Rock Springs. The case was plain on one side, while on the other was the monogram "T. J. R." A reward of $10 is offered if the finder will return the same to the News Review office.

Kept on the Jump.

"That tall man seems to be the busiest person around the establishment. What does he do?" "It is his duty to see whether the others are working or not."

EAST END.

Rev. Orcutt is Away.

The people in this part of the city would like to know what they will do at the election next Saturday, as Rev. Orcutt, judge of election in this precinct, is out of town, and it is thought he will not return home until after the election.

Returned Home.

Rev. L. L. Gray and wife returned to their home in Knoxville, O., yesterday afternoon. Rev. Gray occupied the pulpit at the Second U. P. church last Sunday.

Getting Better.

Andrew Bricelin, who was injured by falling off Nancy Hanks yesterday, is resting easily today. He will be off duty for several days.

Personal.

Several New Houses.

Alex Chaffin yesterday broke ground for several new houses.

WILL WAIT A WEEK.

The East Liverpool Quartet Will Have to Wait on Judge Boone's Return.

Lisbon, July 18.—(Special)—John Brown, Neal Laird, George Cox and Silas Hanselman were brought to the county jail this morning from East Liverpool. Laird, Cox and Hanselman pleaded guilty to the crime of larceny in an East Liverpool court and will be sentenced by Judge Boone. The men are charged with stealing a lot of copper wire valued at $13. The charge against Brown is aiding the other three to escape from the city jail to which charge he pleaded guilty. Sentence will not be passed for a week owing to the absence of Judge Boone from the city.

Whose Letter is This?

A letter addressed to Miss Mamie Miller, South street, 38th ward, Pittsburgh, Pa., was returned to this office. The letter is merely signed "Your Aunt Louise," and contains a two-dollar bill. By giving the contents of the letter and paying for this insertion the writer can get the letter at the post-office.

—Samuel Larkins returned yesterday from a western trip.

AN INVITATION.

Local Physicians Receive an Invitation to Visit the City of Detroit.

Last week some of the physicians of the city learned in a round about way that an invitation had been extended to the medical fraternity of Columbiana county by Park, Davis & Co., a wholesale drug firm of Detroit, to visit that city and be entertained by them.

Several of the local medical men endeavored to learn from whence the information came, and found that the Lisbon physicians had heard direct from the firm. This all happened yesterday—too late for any of the local men to arrange to attend, as the party were to start today and expected to return Saturday. Through the neglect or misunderstanding several of the physicians of this city are much disappointed in not being able to make the trip.

CHINA DECLARES WAR

Invades Russian Province of Amur.

CAPTURED AND BURNED CAPITAL.

Garrison Held Out Bravely, but Was Finally Overwhelmed and Nearly All Perished—Chinese Troops and Boxers Seized a Russian Transport.

LONDON, July 18.—The Daily Mail published a sensational dispatch from St. Petersburg dated Monday, which asserts that there is no doubt that China has declared war against Russia. He further said in part:

"I hear from a reliable source that the Chinese troops and Boxers seized a Russian transport vessel laden with munitions, near Aigun (on the Amur river, about 18 miles from the Russian frontier), killing almost the entire Russian escort.

"They then suddenly attacked and bombarded the town of Blagoveshensk (capital of the Amur government, on the Amur river). The garrison held out bravely, but was finally overwhelmed. Nearly all perished, and the town was burned."

NO EXTRA SESSION OF U. S. CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—A special cabinet meeting was attended by President McKinley, Secretary Hay, Secretary Root, Secretary Long, Secretary Gage and Postmaster General Smith.

Afterward, Secretary Root gave out the following formal statement of the action of the cabinet:

"The president has determined that the facts now known to us do not require or justify calling an extra session of congress. Should future developments indicate that he is unable to do what is required with the means now at his command and the action of congress is necessary to furnish either men or money or authority, he will not hesitate to call it together."

The decision that an extra session of congress was not demanded by existing conditions was the outcome of the showing which both Secretary Root and Secretary Long were able to make as to the force that can be thrown into China without the authorization of additional troops by congress, and also the decidedly more hopeful feeling entertained by the president and the members of his cabinet as to the safety of Minister Conger and other foreigners in Pekin, due to the cable of Minister Wu reporting the safety of the ministers July 9, two days after their reported massacre.

While this cable is not regarded as conclusive, it is accepted in good faith for the present. But the administration, it can be definitely stated, has set in motion some machinery by which it is confidently predicted absolutely authentic news as to the fate of our minister and the other foreigners at Pekin will be ascertained. Through what channel the administration expects to receive this all-important news is not known, but that definite statement of the situation in Pekin is daily, if not hourly expected can be stated with the utmost positiveness. The advice received from Pekin probably will be the determining factor in blazing the future course of this government. If Minister Conger has been murdered, an extra session of congress seems inevitable.

The message of Admiral Remey, noting the successful fighting at Tien Tsin also made the situation more hopeful, but the message received by Wu was responsible for the really hopeful feeling of the president.

Secretary Root furnished to the cabinet a summary of the troops available not only in this country, but in Cuba, and gave it as his opinion that between 10,000 and 12,000 troops in all could be spared for service in China. These reinforcements are to be rushed through at the earliest possible moment. Most, if not all of them, it is believed, can be landed by the end of August or early in September.

General Haywood was summoned and he showed that 1,000 more marines would be enlisted. He was told to hurry up the enlistment.

It was decided also that the battalion of marines, 800 in number, who were to have left for the far east at the end of the month, should go forward next Sunday in command of Major Randolph Dickens.

It is the present purpose of the president to return to Canton on Thursday evening, unless his presence here is deemed necessary at that time. Colonel Webb Hayes and William Barber, the president's nephew, accompanied the president here, as did Secretary Cortelyou.

FOREIGNERS SAFE JULY 9.

Minister Wu Received Such a Message. Li Hung Chang Ordered to Pekin.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The Chinese minister received a dispatch from the minister at London, authenticated by Sheng, the imperial inspector of posts and telegraphs at Shanghai and by two viceroys, declaring that the foreigners in Pekin were safe on July 9, and were receiving the protection of the government. This is two days after the reported massacre. Minister Wu has laid the message before Secretary Hay.

"The utmost efforts have been made to protect foreign ministers who were well on the 13th (Chinese calendar corresponding to our July 9). If Tien Tsin city should be destroyed it would be difficult to restore the same in 100 years. Request the powers to preserve it, as the consequences would affect Chinese and foreign commerce. Earl Li Hung Chang is transferred to North China as viceroy to China and viceroy to Chi Li. Please transmit this dispatch to the ministers at other capitals."

This dispatch, which is dated July 16, was signed by Viceroys Liu Kun Yi and Chang Chih Tung, of Tanking, and Wu Chang respectively, and also by Sheng, director of posts and telegraphs at Shanghai. It was addressed to the Chinese minister in London and by him transmitted to Minister Wu under July 17 date.

In accordance with the request contained in the cablegram, Minister Wu asked Secretary Hay to agree with the other powers, to preserve Tien Tsin from destruction.

So far as the United States is concerned, there has been no purpose wanting to destroy this walled city, although the latest news from the scene of action indicates that the walls themselves have been battered down and a considerable portion of the city destroyed. Mr. Wu said afterward that he feared the destruction of the city was little short of complete.

The minister expressed the most complete confidence in the accuracy of the message showing that the foreign ministers were well on the 9th inst. When a bystander expressed some doubt on this subject, Mr. Wu inquired with some warmth:

"Why is it that you believe the exaggerated reports from unknown sources, and yet you choose to doubt this report, signed by our highest officials and containing inherent evidence of accuracy?"

The minister went on to show that this dispatch contained three distinct statements. One of them, the appointment of Li Hung Chang as viceroy of

as one of the most important developments in the entire situation. Chi-Li is the great province in which Pekin is located, and is the very heart of the Boxer movement, so that the great viceroy now assumes supreme power at the point of greatest danger.

The state department officials are anxious to accept Wu's message as accurate, but there are some clouds of doubt about it. The question naturally arises, as it has many times in the past two weeks, if the Chinese government can communicate in this way with its representatives abroad why can it not permit the foreign ministers represented to be under its protection also to communicate with their governments?

Confirmation of the transfer of Li Hung Chang to the north came to the state department not only from Minister Wu but in a cablegram from Consul General Goodnow at Shanghai. It is stated that Li Hung Chang has started from Canton on his way to Pekin.

If the viceroy can get into Pekin, he also can carry messages to the foreign ministers if they are still alive, and the state department as well as the European prime ministers may seize the opportunity to make one more test of the truth of the latest reports respecting the safety of the legationaries.

LONDON, July 18.—William Pritchard-Morgan, member of parliament for Merthyr Tydvil, July 17, received by cable positive assurance from a source upon which he relied that the British legation at Peking was still standing July 9.

ALLIES TAKE TIEN TSIN.

The Native City Captured After More Desperate Fighting—Losses of the Allies Very Heavy.

"CHE FOO, July 17.

"Bureau of Navigation, Washington: 'Today hope to get our wounded from Tien Tsin either in the hostilities at Taku or aboard of the Solace. Communication is very uncertain. The following casualties apparently are confirmed: Marines, Captain Davis, killed; Captain Lemly and Lieutenants Butler and Leonard, wounded; army, Colonel Liscum, killed; Majors Regan and Lee, Captains Noyes, Brewster and Bookmiller, Lieutenants Naylor, Lawton, Hammond and Waldron, wounded.

"The total killed and wounded is reported at 775. The Russians and Japanese lost heavily.

"Our total loss is reported at 215, about 40 being marines, but the numbers are believed to be exaggerated. I have an officer on shore especially to get authentic numbers and names, which will be promptly telegraphed.

"The city and forts now are in the hands of the allies. Admiral Seymour has returned to the fleet. The ranking officer ashore is Admiral Alexieff, at Tien Tsin.

YERKES FOR GOVERNOR.

Nominated by the Republicans of Kentucky—Wife and Daughters of Governor Taylor Cheered.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 18.—John W. Yerkes, of Danville, was nominated for governor by the Republican convention held in this city. A platform was adopted declaring the issue of the election to be the Goebel election law. The convention adjourned within three hours. There were some anti-Goebel Democrats in the convention, but as to how many, figures differ. In the Shelby county delegation there were, according to a statement made from the platform, 19 Democrats.

A feature of the speeches made was that they all paid tributes to what the Democratic party has done in the past, though the speakers unsparingly denounced the present Democratic state administration and the Democratic legislature, thus indicating a purpose to welcome into the Republican party all Democrats who are opposed to the Goebel election law.

Many ladies occupied boxes, among them being Mrs. W. S. Taylor and four daughters. The convention gave her three cheers when she entered the box.

PROVIDENTIAL RAINS.

More Cheerful Outlook in Some Districts in India.

BARODA, India, July 18.—Special and official telegrams received here from the famine districts indicate a more cheerful outlook. Scant rains have fallen in Madras and Gujarat, in which latter province the famine has been most severe and the mortality greatest. Elsewhere the rainfall has been fair, making the general prospects brighter.

Worrying is one of the greatest drawbacks to happiness. Most of it can be avoided if we only determine not to let trifles annoy us; for the largest amount of worrying is caused by the smallest trifles.

TAKE THEIR CHOICE.

Gold Standard Empire or Bimetallic Republic.

COL. BRYAN TO THE WAVERING.

His Statement Regarding Those Gold Democrats, Who Oppose the Question of Imperialism, but Think of Withholding Support Owing to the Silver Plank.

LINCOLN, July 18.—Wm. J. Bryan's attention was called to the fact that some anti-imperialist had announced they would be opposed to him on account of the silver plank in the platform and he was asked as to whether this fact would seriously affect the anti-imperialist vote. He said:

"Several gold standard opponents of imperialism have already announced their intention to support the Democratic ticket, although the anti-imperialist league has not acted officially. In such a matter each individual is governed by his own views as to the relative importance of the issues. The Democratic platform declares the question of imperialism to be the paramount issue.

"If any opponent of imperialism refuses to support the Democratic ticket because of the silver plank, it must be because he considers the money question more important than the Philippine question; that is, he prefers a gold standard empire to a bimetallic republic. When the test comes, I believe that those who adhere to the doctrine that governments derive their just powers, not from superior forces, but from the consent of the governed, will support our ticket, even though they do not endorse the silver plank.

"A large majority of the Democrats believe that a restoration of bimetalism would prove a blessing, but the anti-imperialists who dispute this will admit that any evils that might arise from bimetalism could be corrected more easily that the evils which would follow from the deliberate endorsement of militarism and imperialism."

CLARK AND BAER AGAIN HONORED.

Re-Elected by the World Christian Endeavorers—Baer Advocates Arbitration Between England and America.

LONDON, July 18.—Although now and then young ladies were carried out of the crowded meetings, fainting and overcome by heat, the enthusiasm marking the world's convention of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor, at Alexandra palace grounds, was as strong as ever. The delegates burst into song with the same boundless enthusiasm as heretofore. The morning was given up to demonstrations of the worldwide extent of the Endeavor movement. Anxious inquiries for ministers whose names appeared on the program were largely the result of delay in travel caused by the burning of the steamship Saale in New York harbor.

Secretary John Willis Baer speaking of the growth of the movement said that the Christian Endeavor badge was worn by more than one brawny Briton from her majesty's ship Powerful in the famous siege of Ladysmith.

Mr. Baer strongly demanded that arbitration between Great Britain and America be made compulsory.

The Rev. Francis E. Clark, president of the society of Christian Endeavor, delivered the presidential address. He spoke of Christian Endeavor in the far east. "In progressive Japan, in distracted China and with hopeful beginnings in Korea.

His tour of the world, Mr. Clark said, had convinced him that "the Christian Endeavor tree would bear fruit in any soil." Describing the greetings he had received everywhere, Mr. Clark said that in China it was "peace, peace, peace."

The Rev. Mr. Francis E. Clark and Mr. John Willis Baer were elected, respectively, world's president and world's secretary of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor. They and other prominent members of the society will go to Paris to attend the Christian Endeavor convention there July 23. Mr. Clark will be occupied in attending various European conventions of Christian Endeavorers until Sept. 1.

These reinforcements are to be rushed through at the earliest possible moment. Most, if not all of them, it is believed, can be landed by the end of August or early in September.

General Haywood was summoned and he showed that 1,000 more marines would be enlisted. He was told to hurry up the enlistment.

It was decided also that the battalion of marines, 800 in number, who were to have left for the far east at the end of the month, should go forward next Sunday in command of Major Randolph Dickens.

It is the present purpose of the president to return to Canton on Thursday evening, unless his presence here is deemed necessary at that time. Colonel Webb Hayes and William Barber, the president's nephew, accompanied the president here, as did Secretary Cortelyou.

FOREIGNERS SAFE JULY 9.

Minister Wu Received Such a Message. Li Hung Chang Ordered to Peking.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The Chinese minister received a dispatch from the minister at London, authenticated by Sheng, the imperial inspector of posts and telegraphs at Shanghai and by two viceroys, declaring that the foreigners in Peking were safe on July 9, and were receiving the protection of the government. This is two days after the reported massacre. Minister Wu has laid the message before Secretary Hay.

"The utmost efforts have been made to protect foreign ministers who were well on the 13th (Chinese calendar corresponding to our July 9). If Tien Tsin city should be destroyed it would be difficult to restore the same in 100 years. Request the powers to preserve it, as the consequences would affect Chinese and foreign commerce. Earl Li Hung Chang is transferred to North China as viceroy to China and viceroy to Chi Li. Please transmit this dispatch to the ministers at other capitals."

This dispatch, which is dated July 16, was signed by Viceroys Liu Kun Yi and Chang Chih Tung, of Tanking, and Wu Chang respectively, and also by Sheng, director of posts and telegraphs at Shanghai. It was addressed to the Chinese minister in London and by him transmitted to Minister Wu under July 17 date.

In accordance with the request contained in the cablegram, Minister Wu asked Secretary Hay to agree with the other powers, to preserve Tien Tsin from destruction.

So far as the United States is concerned, there has been no purpose wanted to destroy this walled city, although the latest news from the scene of action indicates that the walls themselves have been battered down and a considerable portion of the city destroyed. Mr. Wu said afterward that he feared the destruction of the city was little short of complete.

The minister expressed the most complete confidence in the accuracy of the message showing that the foreign ministers were well on the 9th inst. When a bystander expressed some doubt on this subject, Mr. Wu inquired with some warmth:

"Why is it that you believe the exaggerated reports from unknown sources, and yet you choose to doubt this report, signed by our highest officials and containing inherent evidence of accuracy?"

The minister went on to show that this dispatch contained three distinct statements. One of them, the appointment of Li Hung Chang as viceroy of

as one of the most important developments in the entire situation. Chi-Li is the great province in which Peking is located, and is the very heart of the Boxer movement, so that the great viceroy now assumes supreme power at the point of greatest danger.

The state department officials are anxious to accept Wu's message as accurate, but there are some clouds of doubt about it. The question naturally arises, as it has many times in the past two weeks, if the Chinese government can communicate in this way with its representatives abroad why can it not permit the foreign ministers represented to be under its protection also to communicate with their governments?

Confirmation of the transfer of Li Hung Chang to the north came to the state department not only from Minister Wu but in a cablegram from Consul General Goodnow at Shanghai. It is stated that Li Hung Chang has started from Canton on his way to Peking.

If the viceroy can get into Peking, he also can carry messages to the foreign ministers if they are still alive, and the state department as well as the European prime ministers may seize the opportunity to make one more test of the truth of the latest reports respecting the safety of the legation.

LONDON, July 18.—William Pritchard-Morgan, member of parliament for Merthyr Tydvil, July 17, received by cable positive assurance from a source upon which he relied that the British legation at Peking was still standing July 9.

ALLIES TAKE TIEN TSIN.

The Native City Captured After More Desperate Fighting—Losses of the Allies Very Heavy.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Admiral Remy sent the navy department a dispatch containing the following:

"Bureau of Navigation, Washington:

"Today hope to get our wounded from Tien Tsin either in the hostilities at Taku or aboard of the Solace. Communication is very uncertain. The following casualties apparently are confirmed: Marines, Captain Davis, killed; Captain Lemly and Lieutenants Butler and Leonard, wounded; army, Colonel Liscum, killed; Majors Regan and Lee, Captains Noyes, Brewster and Bookmiller, Lieutenants Naylor, Lawton, Hammond and Waldron, wounded.

"The total killed and wounded is reported at 775. The Russians and Japanese lost heavily.

"Our total loss is reported at 215, about 40 being marines, but the numbers are believed to be exaggerated. I have an officer on shore especially to get authentic numbers and names, which will be promptly telegraphed.

"The city and forts now are in the hands of the allies. Admiral Seymour has returned to the fleet. The ranking officer ashore is Admiral Alexieff, at Tien Tsin.

YERKES FOR GOVERNOR.

Nominated by the Republicans of Kentucky—Wife and Daughters of Governor Taylor Cheered.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 18.—John W. Yerkes, of Danville, was nominated for governor by the Republican convention held in this city. A platform was adopted declaring the issue of the election to be the Goebel election law. The convention adjourned within three hours. There were some anti-Goebel Democrats in the convention, but as to how many, figures differ. In the Shelby county delegation there were, according to a statement made from the platform, 19 Democrats.

A feature of the speeches made was that they all paid tribute to what the Democratic party has done in the past, though the speakers unsparingly denounced the present Democratic state administration and the Democratic legislature, thus indicating a purpose to welcome into the Republican party all Democrats who are opposed to the Goebel election law.

Many ladies occupied boxes, among them being Mrs. W. S. Taylor and four daughters. The convention gave her three cheers when she entered the box.

PROVIDENTIAL RAINS.

More Cheerful Outlook in Some Districts in India.

BARODA, India, July 18.—Special and official telegrams received here from the famine districts indicate a more cheerful outlook. Scant rains have fallen in Madras and Gujarat, in which latter province the famine has been most severe and the mortality greatest. Elsewhere the rainfall has been fair, making the general prospects brighter.

Worrying is one of the greatest drawbacks to happiness. Most of it can be avoided if we only determine not to be trifled with; for the largest amount of worrying is caused by the smallest trifles.

TAKE THEIR CHOICE.

Gold Standard Empire or Bimetallic Republic.

COL. BRYAN TO THE WAVERING.

His Statement Regarding Those Gold Democrats, Who Oppose the Question of Imperialism, but Think of Withholding Support Owing to the Silver Plank.

LINCOLN, July 18.—Wm. J. Bryan's attention was called to the fact that some anti-imperialist had announced they would be opposed to him on account of the silver plank in the platform and he was asked as to whether this fact would seriously affect the anti-imperialist vote. He said:

"Several gold standard opponents of imperialism have already announced their intention to support the Democratic ticket, although the anti-imperialist league has not acted officially. In such a matter each individual is governed by his own views as to the relative importance of the issues. The Democratic platform declares the question of imperialism to be the paramount issue.

"If any opponent of imperialism refuses to support the Democratic ticket because of the silver plank, it must be because he considers the money question more important than the Philippine question; that is, he prefers a gold standard empire to a bimetallic republic. When the test comes, I believe that those who adhere to the doctrine that governments derive their just powers, not from superior forces, but from the consent of the governed, will support our ticket, even though they do not endorse the silver plank.

"A large majority of the Democrats believe that a restoration of bimetalism would prove a blessing, but the anti-imperialists who dispute this will admit that any evils that might arise from bimetalism could be corrected more easily than the evils which would follow from the deliberate endorsement of militarism and imperialism."

CLARK AND BAER AGAIN HONORED.

Re-Elected by the World Christian Endeavorers—Baer Advocates Arbitration Between England and America.

LONDON, July 18.—Although now and then young ladies were carried out of the crowded meetings, fainting and overcome by heat, the enthusiasm marking the world's convention of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor, at Alexandra palace grounds, was as strong as ever. The delegates burst into song with the same boundless enthusiasm as heretofore. The morning was given up to demonstrations of the worldwide extent of the Endeavor movement. Anxious inquiries for ministers whose names appeared on the program were largely the result of delay in travel caused by the burning of the steamship Saale in New York harbor.

Secretary John Willis Baer speaking of the growth of the movement said that the Christian Endeavor badge was worn by more than one brawny Briton from her majesty's ship Powerful in the famous siege of Ladysmith.

Mr. Baer strongly demanded that arbitration between Great Britain and America be made compulsory.

The Rev. Francis E. Clark, president of the society of Christian Endeavor, delivered the presidential address. He spoke of Christian Endeavor in the far east, "in progressive Japan, in distracted China and with hopeful beginnings in Korea.

His tour of the world, Mr. Clark said, had convinced him that "the Christian Endeavor tree would bear fruit in any soil." Describing the greetings he had received everywhere, Mr. Clark said that in China it was "peace, peace, peace."

The Rev. Mr. Francis E. Clark and Mr. John Willis Baer were elected, respectively, world's president and world's secretary of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor. They and other prominent members of the society will go to Paris to attend the Christian Endeavor convention there July 22. Mr. Clark will be occupied in attending various European conventions of Christian Endeavorers until Sept. 1.

From Pittsburg and Pennsylvania Lines Points to Denver.

Arrangements have been completed to take delegates and friends to the twelfth annual convention of the Young People's Christian Union at Denver from Pittsburg and other points over the Pennsylvania lines. A special train to be known as the Y. P. C. U. special will leave Pittsburg Union station at 8:05 a. m., Pittsburg time, on Monday, July 23, and run via Chicago, reaching Denver Wednesday morning, July 25, in time for breakfast. The trip will be via Steubenville and Columbus.

All eastern states, as well as Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia and Indiana will be represented on the Y. P. C. U. special, and a cordial invitation is extended to all delegates and friends, and to persons wishing to make an enjoyable trip to the west, to join this congenial party. By leaving Washington, Pa., at 6:15 a. m., Canonsburg 6:36 a. m., Carnegie 7:25 a. m., Oakdale 7:40 a. m., McDonald 7:50 a. m., East Liverpool 8:00 a. m., Wellsville 8:10 a. m., Wheeling 8:25 a. m., Wellsburg 8:57 a. m. and Steubenville 8:29 a. m., central time, excursionists may join the party on the Y. P. C. U. special. Persons from Rochester, Beaver Falls, New Brighton, New Castle, Youngstown and other stations on the Fort Wayne route may make the trip to Chicago on train No. 9 over that route and join the special party in Chicago Union station. Special sleeping cars will be provided to run through to Denver from Chicago, also free reclining chair cars from Chicago.

Excursion tickets to Denver for the Y. P. C. U. convention will also be sold for regular trains over the Pennsylvania lines July 22 and 23, with choice of routes west of Chicago. Full information will be furnished by local agents of the Pennsylvania lines, or may be secured by addressing District Passenger Agent J. K. Dillon, room 306 Park building, Pittsburg.

Pennsylvania Lines Second $10—Excursion to the Ocean July 19.

Atlantic City, Cape May and other seaside summer resorts will be sought by the excursionists Thursday, July 19, and August 2 and 16, the dates of the popular $10 round trip to the sea with return limit of 16 days, giving opportunity for rest and recreation by the mighty water. Trains will leave Wellsville 3:50 a. m., 11:10 a. m., 3:02 p. m., 5:20 p. m.; East Liverpool 4:01 a. m., 11:25 a. m., 3:12 p. m., 5:34 p. m., central time. The first afternoon train will have Pullman sleeping car through to Atlantic City without change. For further particulars please address or call upon local ticket agents of Pennsylvania lines.

Change in Time on Trains on Pennsylvania Lines.

Under a new schedule in effect May 27, 1900, passenger trains over the Pennsylvania lines leave East Liverpool station as follows:

For the east—4:01, 7:03, 11:25 a. m.; 3:12, 7:06 p. m.
For the west—12:31, 7:03, 8:53 a. m.; 2:49, 6:08 p. m.
Sundays only—Going east, 5:23 p. m.; going west, 8:53 a. m.

FARMERS.

They are a grand class of men. As a rule, they are not the tools and playthings of the liquor league or the saloon. The saloonists find that it never pays to run a saloon in the rural districts. They kill off speakeasies in the country.

SPEAKEASIES.

ers attempt to carry their threat of the establishment of speakeasies into effect, and the state officials will make the lawbreakers and criminals very, very weary. We know whereof we speak, and so do the liquor dealers.

SPEAKEASIES.

Common sense is the best sense ever granted unto men—a God-given gift. A common sense writer "Cives" says in today's issue, speaking of the threats of the saloonkeepers respecting speakesies: "If law can be evaded and speakeasies be run, no man will pay Dow tax to run an open saloon." Comment is unnecessary.

HON. C. C. BAKER.

Boomerangs are dangerous weapons to trifle with. The hands that hurl them may be broken and crushed. The liquor element will find this to be the case in the outrageous lie they published and quoted as coming from him, and which he today brands as a lie out of the whole cloth. Surely the liquor element is treading on dangerous ground when they thus traduce and malign and misrepresent a good and clean citizen.

MINERVA.

Read article elsewhere respecting Minerva, Stark county, Ohio, almost at your doors. The saloon and liquor men have intimated that Minerva, as a dry town, is a failure. Very many thousands of men in this state of Ohio would glory in having such failures in their social and business life. Minerva is on the of the best and most prosperous towns in the nation—made so by the citizens voting the saloon out of existence. See that you do the same, citizen voters of East Liverpool.

HIS BRAINS "WOBBLED."

That writer for the saloon element and in favor of booze, who wrote a paid article for a local on Monday, on their first page, under the head of "Communicated," must have had the "jim jams" at the time. He said:

"First—Where there are no saloons there will be more liquor drank than where there are saloons."

And then this brain wobbler, mixed in his attempted argument by the influence of tangle foot, or having caught the breath of his employers, says:

"Second—Driving out the saloons we drive out the business of the town, for it will go where liquor can be had."

Say, readers of the News Review, it's a clear case of the devil destroying his own. The fellow who made such a so-called argument should put his head in soak.

TO OUR READERS.

You will kindly pardon us for the appearance of so much reading matter along the line of temperance. We are very much in earnest along this line. We believe that the saloon is an awful curse to this city and its citizens; a destroyer of prosperity; a destroyer of morals; a destroyer of property; an element which very heavily increases taxation; an absolute curse to our workingmen, the best men in the nation, representing the middle classes, upon which our government is founded; the robber of women and children; the producer of criminals and the destroyer of the bodies of our very best young men, men who, if the saloon were barred out, would be an ornament to society, as the saloon is the chief feeder from which the liquor traffic draws its life and is enabled to exist. Believing this in our heart, and standing as the friend of every honest and honorable man in this city, we dare not do otherwise than we are doing. May God defend the right, and grant that the good citizens of East Liverpool, as instruments in His hands, shall bar the accursed saloon from our midst.

BUILD HOMES.

Read article over signature of "Cives" on our first page. "Build Homes—not saloons. There is power and force and conviction in the thought. Homes for yourselves, workingmen; not homes for the saloonist. Dress your wives and children well; not the wives and children of the saloon keeper. Build cosy, comfortable and neat little homes for yourselves; not great brick residences and palaces for the wholesale liquor dealers, distiller, brewer and saloon keeper. A little, cheap piece of paper will do the business for you on Saturday, July 21, 1900. Men call it a ballot, a vote; insignificant in appearance, but an awful power for good or for evil in your hands. Men of East Liverpool, drinkers and non-drinkers, by everything you hold dear and sacred; by mother's tears and wife's sorrows; by children's cries and moans of hunger; by the memory of dishonored fathers, brothers and sons, ruined and degraded by the saloon; by the hopes you have of heaven; by the mercy of God, kill the foul saloon in East Liverpool on Saturday, July 21.

BOOMERANGS.

Ho, there, all good and honest and truthful citizens of East Liverpool. Ho, there, all men who have been cursed by the nasty saloon, and who desire to get away from its influence and to get back into clean life once more, respecting yourselves and having the respect and esteem of your friends and neighbors. Ho, there, all men who hate and despise liars, falsifiers and all such skull-duggery, make note that the liquor and saloon element of East Liverpool are engaged in all manner of trickery and unfairness, falsehood and misrepresentations. They have had a man in East Palestine and Columbiana, and this man will make to them, and they to the public, all manner of misrepresentations respecting these towns, asserting that citizens at large regret that those towns are dry. This same fellow will assert that the trade of those towns is going to Waterford, a very wet town, to the detriment and regret of the merchants of Columbiana and East Palestine. Such statements are absolute, plain, unvarnished lies. No gentler word or expression will do justice to the occasion. We can prove this by a large mass of citizens of those places. All the speakeasies that the liquor league can build around Palestine cannot make the majority of the citizens, business men, merchants, artisans and toilers sorry that the infamous saloon has been barred out of the town, and this majority will so express itself in unmistakable terms. The liquor element is sparing no expense in the manufacture of falsehoods and in the support of speakeasies; but they have counted without their host. Their traveling tool has talked too much. He has been hurling boomerangs, and the weapons made use of

CASE WILL BE DROPPED.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnes Have Relinquished all Claim to the Child Which They Have Been Caring For.

It is likely the case against Mrs. John Barnes will be withdrawn and nothing further done in the matter, as the humane authorities have succeeded in having the husband punished for his alleged cruelty. An effort is being made to provide for the child, Frances Barnes, as the Barnes people have relinquished all claim to her and it is probable an application will be made to have Mrs. Vincent appointed guardian of the girl.

Pipe Line Obstructions.

Pilots complain that pipe lines in the Ohio river are proving dangerous obstructions to navigation. A line is now being laid across the river at Wellsville, and it is thought that no permission has been granted to lay it. The line is not being buried, which is contrary to law. At New Martinsville there is also an exposed gas line. It appears that every rise in the river causes the line to raise and it is not regarded safe for boats to land near the place.

Leased Some Territory.

The Standard Oil company has leased 4,000 acres of land in Trumbull county and will thoroughly test it for oil. Drilling will commence in Brookfield township this week.

Second Kiln Fired.

The Wellsville China company today fired their second kiln at their new plant.

MILITARISM A MYTH.

Democrats Claim a Fallacy,
Said Roosevelt.

ALLEGED DESERTION OF IDOLS.

Louisiana Purchase—MacArthur Fighting Tagals as Jackson Did Seminoles.

ST. PAUL, July 18.—Colonel George
Stone, of California, president of the National League of Republican clubs, called to order the twelfth convention
of the league in the Auditorium.
Rev. Dr. S. C. Smith, of St. Paul,
offered prayer.

Secretary Stine read the call for the twelfth annual convention. On the roll call of state about half the number responded. Welcoming addresses were made by city officials.

F. B. Wright, past president of the national league, was among those who spoke.

Governor Roosevelt, escorted by Former President Woodmansee, appeared on the platform. Afterward Governor
Roosevelt was introduced by President
Stone. The governor was received with prolonged cheers. He made a brief speech.

United States Senator Nelson, of Minnesota, later addressed the convention
Retiring President Stone afterward
addressed the convention.

A motion that the addresses of President Stone and Senator Nelson be published in the proceedings of the convention was adopted.

A resolution which was adopted
unanimously was presented by Hayes,
of Ohio, endorsing the wise and patriotic administration of President McKinley and heartily approving the character and principles of the gallant rough rider, Theodore Roosevelt.

Standing committees of the league
were appointed and the convention adjourned until today.

After appearing before the league convention and speaking briefly, Governor
Roosevelt was driven to the Commercial club, where he was tendered an informal reception and luncheon. Later, a public reception was held at the hotel.

Governor Roosevelt addressed a mass-meeting here last night. In talking about the Democratic platform, he said
in part:

"They rant about trusts, but they have nothing practicable to advance in the way of remedy; nor is this to be wondered at, when one of the makers of their platform, the representative from New York, and the leader of their organization in New York, are both themselves among the most prominent stockholders in the worst trust to be found
today in the United States, the ice trust, which had justly exposed itself to the criticism which our opponents often unjustly apply to every form of industrial effort. They have invented the imaginary danger of imperialism, and about that they also rave. Yet so conscious are they of the hollowness of their attack, so well aware that to follow out their professions would mean to trail
the American flag in the dust, that they are obliged to pretend that really, after all, they are for expansion. After infinite labor, they finally did decide that they still believed in free silver. This decision was reached in their committee
by a vote of 26 to 24; so that it appears that they only have 52 per cent of faith in their 48 cent dollar after all. Even this amount of faith they were able to reach purely by the aid of Hawaii, and yet four years ago they objected as much to our expansion over Hawaii as they now object to our expansion over the Philippines.

"It is hardly necessary to discuss what they say about 'The constitution following the flag.' The Democratic party never championed the doctrine
thus set forth save in the dark days
when it had become the hand maiden of slavery and rebellion, and danced to
any tune which the apostles of slavery chose to pipe. When under Jefferson
the great west beyond the Mississippi was acquired, when largely through the instrumentality of Jackson, Florida
was added to the union, the new provinces, with their Indian populations, were governed precisely and exactly on
the theory under which the Philippines are now governed. President Jefferson secured the Philippines, and Andrew Jackson warred against the Seminoles
when we had acquired Florida from Spain precisely as General MacArthur is now warring against the bandits
among the Tagals in Luzon.

"Unless we were willing to deprive Jefferson and Jackson of the meed of honor, which has been held to be peculiarly theirs, we cannot deny the same high praise to President McKinley. At Kansas City the men engaged in preaching the gospel of dishonor and repudiation solemnly asserted that 'imperialism abroad will lead quickly and inevitably to despotism at home.' You men of Minnesota and the Dakotas, who are here this evening, can appreciate the fatuousness of this statement, by the simple process of thinking whether your liberties have been abridged by the return of the Minnesota and Dakota

troops who won such honor for themselves in the Philippines. If it were worth while I would point out its dishonesty and insincerity. But flagrant though these are, its absurdity is so much more flagrant that nothing need
be said. It is with their cant about militarism and 'intimidation and oppression at home,' as following what they are pleased to call 'conquest abroad.' We cannot argue with them
on this proposition, because no serious man thinks for one moment that they believe what they assert.

"During the great civil war there were many preachers of the gospel of disloyalty among the so-called Copper-heads of the north, and these men like their representatives along our opponents today prophesied the subversion
of the country when the great armies of Grant and Sherman should come back from the war; but the great armies of Grant and Sherman returned to civil life and were swallowed up among their fellow citizens without a ripple. A considerable army was kept for a year or two on the Indian frontier and in some of the southern states; but it never entered the head of a human being to attempt what the Copperhead prophets of disaster had frantically foretold. In

'98 or '99 you yourselves saw regiments
and brigades and divisions return from Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines.
to be disbanded and swallowed up in
the mass of the people if volunteers, and if regulars, to resume their ordinary work in fort and cantonment; and after greeting them on the day they returned,
the bulk of people would never have been able to tell, except by the newspapers, whether they had come back or not. Of all idle chatter, the talk of danger of militarism is the idlest.
The army we have now is relatively to
the population of the country less in size than it has been again and again
during the last century and a quarter,
in times when we had only our own Indians to guard against.

Movement in the Market—Prices
Somewhat Advanced.

NEW YORK, July 18.—The stock market gave continued evidence Tuesday of operations by an influential bull party.
Their efforts to advance prices met with considerable success and were assisted by a sharp upward movement in a number of individual stocks, in which an outstanding short interest was driven to
part in professional hands. The general list was rather neglected and its price movements were unimportant, but
net gains were generally registered at the close of the day. The manipulative character of the market was evident
from the circulation from time to time
of some rather extravagant rumors. But the resulting gains were pretty well held, and the pressure of profit taking
at the advance was not sufficient to cause any very notable set back. The tone of the market at the close, however, was rather easy and dull at concessions from the best. This was due rather to a pause in the bull manipulation than to any large selling. Union Pacific was the most conspicuous stock
in the list and resumed its upward movement early in the day.

The buying of grain carrying roads
was reputed to have its origin in the west, where the bull movement in grain
has run parallel with a bear speculation
in the grangers. Denials of a probability that congress would be convened in extra session relieved some apprehension which was felt late Monday. The check to the advance in sterling exchange was due to the offerings of bills against gold exports. Arrangements are reported to have been already made for sending $1,500,000 in gold bars by tomorrow's steamer, and exchange houses estimate that the total for the week will run up to between $3,000,000
and $4,000,000. Money on call and for short time loans continue easy and abundant, but lenders are indisposed to place loans for the longer periods.

The bond market was dull and the movement of prices continued irregular.
Total sales, par value, $885,000.
United States old 4s and 5s advanced

WOULD KILL GOEBEL.

Witness Said Powers Declared His Purpose, If Nobody Else Committed
the Crime.

GEORGETOWN, Ky., July 18.—In the trial of Caleb Powers, charged with complicity in the Goebel shooting, Finley Anderson testified that on Jan. 24
Caleb Powers told him the crowd of mountaineers which was being organized was going to Frankfort to intimidate the legislature, and if necessary, to kill enough Democrats to give the Republicans a majority. He said: "Powers told me Goebel would never live to be governor, and said he (Powers) would kill him if nobody else did."

On cross-examination, the witness became considerably confused, admitting that he had called on Colonel T. C.
Campbell, of counsel for the prosecution, in Cincinnati. Witness admitted securing a position in Cincinnati, but denied that it was due to his willingness to testify in this case.

Lucy Brock, of London, testified that Powers called on her in January. He told witness he was getting up a crowd
of 1,000 mountain men to go to Frankfort, "so that in case the Democrats robbed them of the state offices they could take care of themselves." The plan was Governor Taylor's.

His Musical Sense.

"What is your favorite opera?" asked
the foreign gentleman.
Mr. Cunrox was about to answer
"The Mikado," when he observed that the eyes of his wife and daughter were upon him. Then he assumed an air of nonchalance and answered:
"Oh, I don't care particular about the names of cigars or the titles of operas.
I like to change around. I just tell 'em to give me a 25 cent cigar when I feel like smoking, and when I want music
I enjoy any old $5 a seat opera."—

REMUS SHENKEL WAS IN A RUNOFF

HE WAS THROWN OUT

Dragged For Several Yards, Had Three Ribs Broken and Was Considerably Bruised.

COMPANION WAS NOT INJURED

Remus Shenkel met with an accident this morning that might have resulted very seriously.

In company with Raymond Byeirs he was engaged in moving a family to Trentvale street. They had unloaded their wagon and were returning and had reached the intersection of Sheridan avenue when the team started to run. Shenkel held onto the lines, and when the Horn switch was reached the lead horse came loose, turned up the track while the other animal kept straight along West Market street. Both boys were thrown out and Shenkel was thrown under the horses. He became entangled in the lines and was dragged several yards before he was able to escape. After he became loose he walked over to the curb and laid down.

Bystanders who had witnessed the accident realized that he was injured and telephoned for the patrol and he was taken to his home on Cook street, where an examination of his injuries developed the fact that he had three ribs broken, one of them being broken in two places. In addition to this his face was considerably skinned up and he was very badly bruised.

Byeirs escaped injury beyond a few bruises. The team was captured before either of the animals had been injured.

An Expensive Monument.

Toronto Tribune.

A. H. Graham has this week delivered and erected a handsome two-base cube Barry granite family monument for William Croxall, of East Liverpool. The monument was erected in Spring Grove cemetery and the cube is 4x6 feet, weighing 49,000 pounds. The freight on the stone cost $151. The monument complete cost just $2,000, and it is probably the most expensive one of its kind in this vicinity.

TWO OTHER MEN RUN IN

Chief Thompson and Officer Homer Morris this morning took Si Hanselman, John Brown, Neal Laird and George Cox to Lisbon, where they will answer to the court, Hanselman, Laird and Cox for stealing copper wire and Brown for assisting the three men to escape from the city jail.

Mrs. Obney did not enter a charge against John Grim for taking her watch. Investigation proved that Grim was entirely innocent and had no part in the loss of the watch.

William Dewey, George Brown and Dave Brown, well-known colored people of the city, were arrested last night upon a charge of fighting on Second street. They had a battle on Second street several days ago with George Brown, a bricklayer from the Southside. It cost them each $2 and costs when they faced the mayor. They put up security and were released.

John Hancock was arrested upon a charge of being disorderly at his home on Third street. Mayor Davidson assessed him $5 and costs.

John Allison filled up with bad whisky and drifted into McDole's stable to sleep his jag off. Fireman Bettridge arrested him and the mayor fined him $5 and costs.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Justice Rose has booked 16 cases since Monday.

The old Metsch cottage at the camp ground is being torn down.

Trades council will meet this evening and transact some important business.

Frank McNutt and family will move to Spring Grove camp ground this week.

Daniel Madden returned to the city yesterday after a two weeks' visit in the east.

The St. Stephen's Episcopal church carnival is being held today at Rock Springs.

The biscuit warehouse women's union will meet tomorrow night and initiate six candidates.

The Shamrock and Eclipse base ball teams will play their first game of the series of five for the championship of the city next Monday.

The contract for grading Calcutta road will not be let until August 1, and it is not probable much work will be done toward improving the road this year.

George Carey's hitting has helped Buffalo out of last place in the American association. In the game yesterday he had two hits, one of them a double.

The News Review yesterday through an oversight failed to include the name of Samuel Johnson in the list of jurymen in the case of Ohio versus Barnes.

A. M. Rayl has sued Jennie Gilmore for forcible detention in the court of Justice McCarron. The case has been set for trial next Monday at 1 o'clock.

A sneak thief paid a visit to the camp ground Tuesday night. He didn't get much for his trouble, but drank all the milk in the refrigerator of E. H. Wells.

Council didn't meet last night. The only members present at the appointed time were McLane and Fisher. Solicitor Gaston was also present, and after waiting until after 8 o'clock the party adjourned.

Yesterday a couple of dogs got in the sewer at the ball ground. The small boys in the vicinity worked almost all day and finally succeeded in getting the grating loose so that the dogs could be released.

Owing to low water the Queen City laid over at this port over night and today made some repairs to the boat. They waited for passengers that came down from Pittsburg on the afternoon train and then left for Cincinnati.

The Pittsburg Dispatch says today: "Charles E. Macrum, ex-consul to Pretoria, whose home is in East Liverpool, O., arrived in Pittsburg yesterday afternoon and registered at the Hotel Lincoln. The purpose of his visit was to perfect arrangements whereby he has become a salesman for the National Glass company."

Charles Wagner, who was taken to the county infirmary last week, has almost entirely recovered from his recent illness, and will return to the city shortly. He was cared for by the directors during a siege of typhoid fever at his boarding house here and was moved to the infirmary as soon as he was able to stand the trip.

STAVING OFF A BILL.

THE GRAND PROMOTER EXEMPLIFIES IT AS A FINE ART.

[Copyright, 1900, by C. B. Lewis.]

It was the printer with his bill for 5,000 office cards, and he knocked on Major Crofoot's office door in that half hearted way adopted by creditors who feel that they must call and yet have no faith that the bill will be paid.

"Come in, and good morning to you—good morning!" shouted the major as he sprang up and extended his hand and shook so heartily that the caller's hat was nearly jostled off his head. When the shaking had been concluded, he said:

"I have been expecting you up here every day for a week, and if you

"Yes, sir," replied the printer as he handed it over.

"Good! Let's see. It's for $4.50, and I pronounce it correct—absolutely correct. There never was a more correct account rendered—never in this commercial world. And now you want a check for it, of course? I must ask you to excuse me that this trifle has run so long, but when a man is dealing in millions he is apt to forget dollars."

"That is all right, major," replied the printer as a soft smile stole over his face, and he began wondering why he had ever called the promoter a dead beat.

"Thanks for your confidence—your financial confidence. I like men to have confidence in me. Let me tell you, sir, that the man who puts his trust in Major Crofoot, grand promoter, gigantic originator and tremendous consolidator, loses nothing by it. Here is a bill for $4.50. It has run for weeks and months. Instead of wearing out the stairs and pounding on my door, you have been content to let time slip along. You felt that your money was safe. You believed that I would pay on presentation. Ah, sir, but I love to witness such exhibitions of confidence—I love to do it! Let us shake hands again."

"I'm in a bit of a hurry this morning," remarked the printer as a doubt suddenly entered his mind and sent a chill up his back.

"Ah, yes, of course you are—of course—and my time is also limited, but do you know what I am going to do? Instead of debating about a bill for $4.50, I am going to talk to you of thousands and hundreds of thousands and millions. My dear man, you have arrived at an opportune moment. It almost seems as if the hand of Providence was in it. Having displayed your confidence in the financial integrity of Major Crofoot and arrived at an opportune moment, what follows?"

"You pay the bill for $4.50," replied the printer.

"It follows, sir—it follows as naturally as night follows day, but with a heap more cash in it—that I take you in on the ground floor. Behold those papers on my desk. I had just ceased to figure when you came in. I had finished the last line of my prospectus. Behold, sir—behold the organization of the Wide World Chicken and Infant Raising company with a capital of $20,000,000!"

"Major, I called!"

"You called, sir—you called at an opportune moment. By calling you put it in my power to prove my gratitude in something besides words. What is the Wide World Chicken and Infant Raising company? As its name implies, the object is to raise chickens and infants. How, sir, how? Ah, that is Major Crofoot's great discovery, which has enabled him to organize a company on a basis of $20,000,000. The discovery is not original, but we apply it as it has never been applied before. We incubate chickens, but by the million instead of the score. Take your pencil and figure a little."

"But I came up for my $4.50," said the printer in ugly tones.

"Take your pencil and figure. Eggs can be bought for 20 cents a dozen. For 2 cents additional one dozen chickens can be produced. Four cents more and you have a dozen spring chickens worth 50 cents apiece at the incubator; total for eggs, incubating and feeding, 30 cents; total for chickens, $6; clear profit to divide up on every dozen, $5.70. Can Cripple Creek or the diamond mines beat it? We produce 20,000,000 dozen chickens per year. Figure it out, man, figure it out. Do you want greater dividends than 70 per cent on your capital? If you do—"

"What about this bill?" demanded the printer as he lifted it off the desk and laid it back again.

"If you do," continued the major as he walked about the room with hands crossed under his coattails, "then you shall have it. We incubate infants in the same machines, with only a thin partition between. We take infants after they are 24 hours old—white, black or any other color and without reference to sex—and we bring them up until they are a year old at so much per week. Terms are strictly cash in advance every Monday morning, and every kid is marked on the right heel with our stamp and can't get lost or mixed up in the shuffle. While we are hatching 1,000,000 dozen eggs we are bringing up 100,000 infants. I put the number at that, but it may be a few dozen more or less. Two dollars a week for 100,000 infants is over $10,000,000 per year. Call the expense for milk, paregoric and toast $1,000,000, and what profit do you have left?"

"But I have come here to collect a bill."

"The $9,000,000 profit on the infants added to the profits on the chickens gives us a dividend of $1.20 on the dollar, and can you ask for more, sir—can you do it? Why, man, the wealth of Golconda is not in it! The De Beers diamond bonds are waste paper in comparison! And you are to share in it. You are no longer a struggling printer on the seventh floor back, but a millionaire on the first floor front. I take you in. I allot you $100,000 worth of stock at 30 cents on the dollar, and in two weeks, if you care to sell out, I buy it at par. That's your reward for your confidence in Major Crofoot; that's what comes!"

"But I have no confidence in you," shouted the creditor. "Pay this bill and you can incubate and be hatched and keep all the profits!"

"You have simply to rest easy," continued the major as he began to walk toward the door. "Just keep quiet

CHINA DECLARES WAR

Invades Russian Province of Amur.

Garrison Held Out Bravely, but Was Finally Overwhelmed and Nearly All Perished—Chinese Troops and Boxers Seized a Russian Transport.

LONDON, July 18.—The Daily Mail published a sensational dispatch from St. Petersburg dated Monday, which asserts that there is no doubt that China has declared war against Russia. He further said in part: "I hear from a reliable source that the Chinese troops and Boxers seized a Russian transport vessel laden with munitions, near Aigun (on the Amur river, about 18 miles from the Russian frontier), killing almost the entire Russian escort. "They then suddenly attacked and bombarded the town of Blagoveshensk (capital of the Amur government, on the Amur river). The garrison held out bravely, but was finally overwhelmed. Nearly all perished, and the town was burned."

NO EXTRA SESSION OF U. S. CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—A special cabinet meeting was attended by President McKinley, Secretary Hay, Secretary Root, Secretary Long, Secretary Gage and Postmaster General Smith. Afterward, Secretary Root gave out the following formal statement of the action of the cabinet: "The president has determined that the facts now known to us do not require or justify calling an extra session of congress. Should future developments indicate that he is unable to do what is required with the means now at his command and the action of congress is necessary to furnish either men or money or authority, he will not hesitate to call it together." The decision that an extra session of congress was not demanded by existing conditions was the outcome of the showing which both Secretary Root and Secretary Long were able to make as to the force that can be thrown into China without the authorization of additional troops by congress, and also the decidedly more hopeful feeling entertained by the president and the members of his cabinet as to the safety of Minister Conger and other foreigners in Peking, due to the cable of Minister Wu reporting the safety of the ministers July 9, two days after their reported massacre.

While this cable is not regarded as conclusive, it is accepted in good faith for the present. But the administration, it can be definitely stated, has set in motion some machinery by which it is confidently predicted absolutely authentic news as to the fate of our minister and the other foreigners at Peking will be ascertained. Through what channel the administration expects to receive this all-important news is not known, but that definite statement of the situation in Peking is daily, if not hourly expected can be stated with the utmost positiveness. The advice received from Peking probably will be the determining factor in blazing the future course of this government. If Minister Conger has been murdered, an extra session of congress seems inevitable.

The message of Admiral Remy, noting the successful fighting at Tien Tsin also made the situation more hopeful, but the message received by Wu was responsible for the really hopeful feeling of the president.

Secretary Root furnished to the cabinet a summary of the troops available not only in this country, but in Cuba, and gave it as his opinion that between 10,000 and 12,000 troops in all could be spared for service in China. These reinforcements are to be rushed through at the earliest possible moment. Most, if not all of them, it is believed, can be landed by the end of August or early in September.

General Haywood was summoned and he showed that 1,000 more marines would be enlisted. He was told to hurry up the enlistment.

It was decided also that the battalion of marines, 800 in number, who were to have left for the far east at the end of the month, should go forward next Sunday in command of Major Rauldolph Dickens.

It is the present purpose of the president to return to Canton on Thursday evening, unless his presence here is deemed necessary at that time. Colonel Webb Hayes and William Barber, the president's nephew, accompanied the president here, as did Secretary Cortelyou.

FOREIGNERS SAFE JULY 9.

Minister Wu Received Such a Message. Li Hung Chang Ordered to Peking.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The Chinese minister received a dispatch from the minister at London, authenticated by Sheng, the imperial inspector of posts and telegraphs at Shanghai and by two viceroys, declaring that the foreigners in Peking were safe on July 9, and were receiving the protection of the government. This is two days after the reported massacre. Minister Wu has laid the message before Secretary Hay.

The text of the dispatch received by Minister Wu is as follows:

"The utmost efforts have been made to protect foreign ministers who were well on the 13th (Chinese calendar corresponding to our July 9). If Tien Tsin city should be destroyed it would be difficult to restore the same in 100 years. Request the powers to preserve it, as the consequences would affect Chinese and foreign commerce. Earl Li Hung Chang is transferred to North China as viceroy to China and viceroy to Chi Li. Please transmit this dispatch to the ministers at other capitals."

This dispatch, which is dated July 16, was signed by Viceroys Liu Kun Yi and Chang Chih Tung, of Tanking, and Wu Chang respectively, and also by Sheng, director of posts and telegraphs at Shanghai. It was addressed to the Chinese minister in London and by him transmitted to Minister Wu under July 17 date.

In accordance with the request contained in the cablegram, Minister Wu asked Secretary Hay to agree with the other powers, to preserve Tien Tsin from destruction.

So far as the United States is concerned, there has been no purpose wanted to destroy this walled city, although the latest news from the scene of action indicates that the walls themselves have been battered down and a considerable portion of the city destroyed. Mr. Wu said afterward that he feared the destruction of the city was little short of complete.

The minister expressed the most complete confidence in the accuracy of the message showing that the foreign ministers were well on the 9th inst. When a bystander expressed some doubt on this subject, Mr. Wu inquired with some warmth:

"Why is it that you believe the exaggerated reports from unknown sources, and yet you choose to doubt this report, signed by our highest officials and containing inherent evidence of accuracy?"

The minister went on to show that this dispatch contained three distinct statements. One of them, the appointment of Li Hung Chang as viceroy of TAOTIA SHENG. Imperial director general of railways and telegraphs.

Chi-Li, had been confirmed already by the state department. Moreover, he said all three statements bore evidence of having originated at Peking, including that as to Li Hung Chang, whose appointment necessarily must originate with the government at Peking.

The appointment of Earl Li as viceroy of Chi-Li is considered by Minister Wu

as one of the most important developments in the entire situation. Chi-Li is the great province in which Peking is located, and is the very heart of the Boxer movement, so that the great viceroy now assumes supreme power at the point of greatest danger.

The state department officials are anxious to accept Wu's message as accurate, but there are some clouds of doubt about it. The question naturally arises, as it has many times in the past two weeks, if the Chinese government can communicate in this way with its representatives abroad why can it not permit the foreign ministers represented to be under its protection also to communicate with their governments?

Confirmation of the transfer of Li Hung Chang to the north came to the state department not only from Minister Wu but in a cablegram from Consul General Goodnow at Shanghai. It is stated that Li Hung Chang has started from Canton on his way to Peking.

If the viceroy can get into Peking, he also can carry messages to the foreign ministers if they are still alive, and the state department as well as the European prime ministers may seize the opportunity to make one more test of the truth of the latest reports respecting the safety of the legationers.

LONDON, July 18.—William Pritchard-Morgan, member of parliament for Merthyr Tydvil, July 17, received by cable positive assurance from a source upon which he relied that the British legation at Peking was still standing July 9.

ALLIES TAKE TIEN TSIN.

The Native City Captured After More Desperate Fighting—Losses of the Allies Very Heavy.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Admiral Remy sent the navy department a dispatch containing the following:

"CHE FOO, July 17. "Bureau of Navigation, Washington:

"Today hope to get our wounded from Tien Tsin either in the hostitals at Taku or aboard of the Solace. Communication is very uncertain. The following casualties apparently are confirmed: Marines, Captain Davis, killed; Captain Lemly and Lieutenants Butler and Leonard, wounded; army, Colonel Liscum, killed; Majors Regan and Lee. Captains Noyes, Brewster and Bookmiller, Lieutenants Naylor, Lawton, Hammond and Waldron, wounded.

"The total killed and wounded is reported at 775. The Russians and Japanese lost heavily.

"Our total loss is reported at 215, about 40 being marines, but the numbers are believed to be exaggerated. I have an officer on shore especially to get authentic numbers and names, which will be promptly telegraphed.

"The city and forts now are in the hands of the allies. Admiral Seymour has returned to the fleet. The ranking officer ashore is Admiral Alexieff, at Tien Tsin.

YERKES FOR GOVERNOR.

Nominated by the Republicans of Kentucky—Wife and Daughters of Governor Taylor Cheered.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 18.—John W. Yerkes, of Danville, was nominated for governor by the Republican convention held in this city. A platform was adopted declaring the issue of the election to be the Goebel election law. The convention adjourned within three hours. There were some anti-Goebel Democrats in the convention, but as to how many, figures differ. In the Shelby county delegation there were, according to a statement made from the platform, 19 Democrats.

A feature of the speeches made was that they all paid tributes to what the Democratic party has done in the past, though the speakers unsparingly denounced the present Democratic state administration and the Democratic legislature, thus indicating a purpose to welcome into the Republican party all Democrats who are opposed to the Goebel election law.

Many ladies occupied boxes, among them being Mrs. W. S. Taylor and four daughters. The convention gave her three cheers when she entered the box.

PROVIDENTIAL RAINS.

More Cheerful Outlook in Some Districts in India.

BARODA, India, July 18.—Special and official telegrams received here from the famine districts indicate a more cheerful outlook. Scant rains have fallen in Madras and Gujarat, in which latter province the famine has been most severe and the mortality greatest. Elsewhere the rainfall has been fair, making the general prospects brighter.

Worrying is one of the greatest drawbacks to happiness. Most of it can be avoided if we only determine not to be trifles annoy us; for the largest amount of worrying is caused by the smallest trifles.

TAKE THEIR CHOICE.

Gold Standard Empire or Bimetallic Republic.

COL. BRYAN TO THE WAVERING.

His Statement Regarding Those Gold Democrats, Who Oppose the Question of Imperialism, but Think of Withholding Support Owing to the Silver Plank.

LINCOLN, July 18.—Wm. J. Bryan's attention was called to the fact that some anti-imperialist had announced they would be opposed to him on account of the silver plank in the platform and he was asked as to whether this fact would seriously affect the anti-imperialist vote. He said:

"Several gold standard opponents of imperialism have already announced their intention to support the Democratic ticket, although the anti-imperialistic league has not acted officially. In such a matter each individual is governed by his own views as to the relative importance of the issues. The Democratic platform declares the question of imperialism to be the paramount issue.

"If any opponent of imperialism refuses to support the Democratic ticket because of the silver plank, it must be because he considers the money question more important than the Philippine question; that is, he prefers a gold standard empire to a bimetallic republic. When the test comes, I believe that those who adhere to the doctrine that governments derive their just powers, not from superior forces, but from the consent of the governed, will support our ticket, even though they do not endorse the silver plank.

"A large majority of the Democrats believe that a restoration of bimetalism would prove a blessing, but the anti-imperialists who dispute this will admit that any evils that might arise from bimetalism could be corrected more easily than the evils which would follow from the deliberate endorsement of militarism and imperialism."

CLARK AND BAER AGAIN HONORED.

Re-Elected by the World Christian Endeavorers—Baer Advocates Arbitration Between England and America.

LONDON, July 18.—Although now and then young ladies were carried out of the crowded meetings, fainting and overcome by heat, the enthusiasm marking the world's convention of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor, at Alexandra palace grounds, was as strong as ever. The delegates burst into song with the same boundless enthusiasm as heretofore. The morning was given up to demonstrations of the worldwide extent of the Endeavor movement. Anxious inquiries for ministers whose names appeared on the program were largely the result of delay in travel caused by the burning of the steamship Saale in New York harbor.

Secretary John Willis Baer speaking of the growth of the movement said that the Christian Endeavor badge was worn by more than one brawny Briton from her majesty's ship Powerful in the famous siege of Ladysmith.

Mr. Baer strongly demanded that arbitration between Great Britain and America be made compulsory.

The Rev. Francis E. Clark, president of the society of Christian Endeavor, delivered the presidential address. He spoke of Christian Endeavor in the far east. "In progressive Japan, in distracted China and with hopeful beginnings in Korea.

His tour of the world, Mr. Clark said, had convinced him that "the Christian Endeavor tree would bear fruit in any soil." Describing the greetings he had received everywhere, Mr. Clark said that in China it was "peace, peace, peace."

The Rev. Mr. Francis E. Clark and Mr. John Willis Baer were elected, respectively, world's president and world's secretary of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor. They and other prominent members of the society will go to Paris to attend the Christian Endeavor convention there July 22. Mr. Clark will be occupied in attending various European conventions of Christian Endeavorers until Sept. 1.

16TH YEAR. NO. 33.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., WEDNESDAY, JULY 18, 1900.

BUILD HOMES NOT SALOONS

IF LAW CAN BE EVADED

And Speakeasies Run No Man Will Pay Dow Tax to Run an Open Saloon.

PROSPEROUS PROHIBITION CITIES

Editor News Review—I want to say a word about those speakeasies that a trembling contemporary sees rising like a specter out of the ashes of the vanquished saloon.

Let this pious sheet be calm. A speakeasy can exist where there are open saloons as well as where there are no saloons. If a man can evade the law and run a speakeasy he will not pay a Dow tax.

Our thirsty friends, our moral monitors thoughtlessly impale themselves on their own arguments. They argue thus:

First—Where there are no saloons there will be more liquor drank than where there are saloons.

Second—Driving out the saloon we drive out the business of the town, for it will go where liquor can be had.

Is more liquor drank where there is no saloon? Who is working for the saloon? The liquor dealer? No. Manufacturers and wholesalers are known to spend thousands of dollars to maintain the saloon in a town. What fools they must be. If your competitors would go away from home far enough his eyes would witness the benefits to Minerva and East Palestine in comparison with saloon ridden towns.

Minerva with no saloons and a much less population buys and sells more goods than Carrollton with its saloons, though it is a county seat.

Let us ask ourselves what we are, anyway. Are we men or pigs?

If pigs, then let us slobber and swill and slobber and swear and tumble into the gutter. If men, then let us act like men. I have never seen a town where the saloon was banished that not only were business conditions improved, but there was an improvement of all that was worthy of the best manhood. Homes were more appreciated and beautified. Education, the library, art and music were more patronized.

The churches, the hospital and other religious and charitable institutions were more flourishing. East Liverpool and Wellsville spends enough every year for liquor to build and equip as fine a hospital as there is in the state.

Let us get our minds on something higher than a beer mug. Let us cultivate a more rational taste than the taste for debauchery and we will be glad to strike from ourselves the bondage of this death.

The proof of the pudding is in the eating. Some of these pigsties allow who never saw a town without a saloon think a town could exist without saloons. Not so. For instance Washington.

For 35 years it has had no saloon. Has it diminished? No. It died out? Fifteen years ago it had 6,000 population. This year's census finds it with 21,000.

Look at its long avenues of fine, beautiful homes; look at its fine public buildings and city improvements. See its splendid school facilities and its prosperous churches and its refined and intelligent population. Is it a dead business town? Though only 30 miles from the large cities of Wheeling and Pittsburg, see its great stores and its large number of prosperous banking houses. During the hard times, when some towns were establishing soup houses and sending out wagons to beg from the farmers, Washington had no hard times.

Why carpenters and plasterers and painters there are able to build themselves homes costing $8,000 to $10,000.

Let us close up these drinking holes. Let us build our homes and not the saloon. Every interest of decency favors no saloon. Appetite and avarice alone clamor for the saloon.

Let us be men, and let not appetite enslave us, nor avarice beguile us. We have tried the saloon long enough, let us try something better.

NICHOLAS GEON.

An Aged Resident of the City Died at His Home Yesterday Afternoon.

Nicholas Geon, who died yesterday afternoon, was among the oldest and best known potters in the city.

Deceased was a native of Ireland and was in his 71st year. He had been a resident of East Liverpool for the last 45 years, coming here in 1855 from Pittsburg, where he had been employed in the Bennett pottery, Birmingham, South Pittsburg. Mr. Geon was employed in the various potteries of the city for many years, although he had not been actively engaged at potting for some time before his death.

Deceased was the father of 10 children, four sons and six daughters, all of whom survive him.

Funeral services will be conducted at St. Aloysius' church tomorrow morning at 8:30 o'clock and interment will be made in the Catholic cemetery.

A DIRTY LIE QUICKLY NAILED

HON. C. C. BAKER SPEAKS OUT

A PECULIAR PIECE OF WORK

Hon. C. C. Baker, at present the president of the board of education at Alliance, Ohio, is a personal friend and comrade of the manager of the News Review. When we read the remarks attributed to him last night, as they appeared in a local paper in this town, under the head of "communicated," we at once pronounced them false, knowing C. C. Baker as we do, and determined to interview the gentleman at his home at Alliance. We did so this morning, through a proper medium, and received the following reply, after reading the article to him which appeared in the local paper above mentioned:

"There is not a word of truth in the paragraph quoted. M. K. Zimmerman called on me on Monday last and attempted to interview me. I asked him how you were and as to the stand you were taking on the battle of saloon or no saloon. He stated that you were on the side of local option and left me under the impression that he was here in your interest and that he was still connected with your paper, and I did not know that you had ceased to employ him. I told Mr. Zimmerman that I was not here at the time that local option held sway, that I knew nothing about the matter from personal knowledge and that I did not desire to be quoted. I further told Mr. Zimmerman that there were plenty of old residents here whom he could interview respecting the matter, men who knew all about it; but he intimated that his time was limited and that he could not interview many people. Let me reiterate my statement:

"The article which appeared in the paper you mention, and which is quoted as being my experience, is a plain LIE, manufactured from the whole cloth.

"Respectfully,

"C. C. BAKER.

In the light of this prompt and unequivocal branding of the lie against Hon. C. C. Baker, have we not the right to say that the liquor league and their miserable tools will resort to any and every means, honorable or dishonorable, for the accomplishment of their vile and unholy purposes?

This lie is a shameful and outrageous one, calculated to seriously injure Hon. C. C. Baker, and the man or men who concocted it should be made pay a heavy penalty. The proper place for creatures who resort to such infamy and trickery is behind prison bars. This act on their part is a fair sample of their method of procedure everywhere. The saloon is and always has been a criminal maker, and the men who manufacture criminals will themselves become criminals on the slightest pretext, when their criminal action will best accomplish their foul and unholy purpose, and when they believe that they stand an even chance of escaping punishment at the hands of an outraged law.

HERE YOU ARE?

Give yourselves a fair show in the race of life, men of East Liverpool. Don't let the saloonists make a monkey of you. They rob you and then laugh at you. Do the laughing for yourself, and let the wife and the babies have the money you throw away in the saloon. Let the saloonist, distiller and brewer make an honest and honorable living, the same as you do, and don't you build houses for him at your expense and at the expense and sorrow of your wife and little ones. Read the following and see the difference in a city under saloon rule and after the saloon was driven out:

"The city of Cambridge, Mass., celebrated on May 1 its 10 years freedom from the liquor traffic. There were children's festivals and public meetings, and in all religious services held a prominent place. A writer in the New York Independent gives the following facts as to the results of the city's policy: 'For 10 years, up to 1886, Cambridge was under license, half of the time under general law and half of the time under local option. Here is a chance to compare 10 years of license with 10 years of no license. Let us see what the figures are: From 1876 to 1886 the valuation of Cambridge dropped from $62,000,000 in round numbers to $59,000,000. In the next 10 years it rose to $83,000,000. Here is a loss of $3,000,000 in the license decade, and a gain of $24,000,000 in the no-license decade. If this fact stood alone it would be very significant; but it does not stand alone. In the 10 license years the average annual gain in population was 1,182; in the 10 no-license years it has been 2,195. In the first decade there were 151 new houses built annually; the average the second decade has been 332. The city gets annually in taxes on the increased valuation of the city under no-license three or four times as much as it would get from license fees, if it called the saloon back.'

"Here are further results as to saving bank deposits: 'During the 10 years of license the Cambridge savings bank made a net gain of $155,333 each year in deposits. During the 10 no-license years the annual net gain has been $366,654. This gain, as an analysis of the returns shows, has been chiefly in small deposits of $50 or less. In East Cambridge, the principal manufacturing section of the city, the deposits last year were four times as large as in the last year of license.'

MILITARISM A MYTH.

Democrats Claim a Fallacy, Said Roosevelt.

ALLEGED DESERTION OF IDOLS.

Declared President McKinley Secured the Philippines, as Did Jefferson the Louisiana Purchase—MacArthur Fighting Tagals as Jackson Did Seminoles.

ST. PAUL, July 18.—Colonel George Stone, of California, president of the National League of Republican clubs, called to order the twelfth convention of the league in the Auditorium.

Rev. Dr. S. C. Smith, of St. Paul, offered prayer.

Secretary Stine read the call for the twelfth annual convention. On the roll call of state about half the number responded. Welcoming addresses were made by city officials.

F. B. Wright, past president of the national league, was among those who spoke.

Governor Roosevelt, escorted by Former President Woodmansee, appeared on the platform. Afterward Governor Roosevelt was introduced by President Stone. The governor was received with prolonged cheers. He made a brief speech.

United States Senator Nelson, of Minnesota, later addressed the convention on the issues of the coming campaign.

Retiring President Stone afterward addressed the convention.

A motion that the addresses of President Stone and Senator Nelson be published in the proceedings of the convention was adopted.

A resolution which was adopted unanimously was presented by Hayes, of Ohio, endorsing the wise and patriotic administration of President McKinley and heartily approving the character and principles of the gallant rough rider, Theodore Roosevelt.

Standing committees of the league were appointed and the convention adjourned until today.

After appearing before the league convention and speaking briefly, Governor Roosevelt was driven to the Commercial club, where he was tendered an informal reception and luncheon. Later, a public reception was held at the hotel.

Governor Roosevelt addressed a mass-meeting here last night. In talking about the Democratic platform, he said in part:

"They rant about trusts, but they have nothing practicable to advance in the way of remedy; nor is this to be wondered at, when one of the makers of their platform, the representative from New York, and the leader of their organization in New York, are both themselves among the most prominent stockholders in the worst trust to be found today in the United States, the ice trust, which had justly exposed itself to the criticism which our opponents often unjustly apply to every form of industrial effort. They have invented the imaginary danger of imperialism, and about that they also rave. Yet so conscious are they of the hollowness of their attack, so well aware that to follow out their professions would mean to trail the American flag in the dust, that they are obliged to pretend that really, after all, they are for expansion. After infinite labor, they finally did decide that they still believed in free silver. This decision was reached in their committee by a vote of 26 to 24; so that it appears that they only have 52 per cent of faith in their 48 cent dollar after all. Even this amount of faith they were able to reach purely by the aid of Hawaii, and yet four years ago they objected as much to our expansion over Hawaii as they now object to our expansion over the Philippines.

"It is hardly necessary to discuss what they say about 'The constitution following the flag.' The Democratic party never championed the doctrine thus set forth save in the dark days when it had become the hand maiden of slavery and rebellion, and danced to any tune which the apostles of slavery chose to pipe. When under Jefferson the great west beyond the Mississippi was acquired, when largely through the instrumentality of Jackson, Florida was added to the union, the new provinces, with their Indian populations, were governed precisely and exactly on the theory under which the Philippines are now governed. President Jefferson secured the Philippines, and Andrew Jackson warred against the Seminoles when we had acquired Florida from Spain precisely as General MacArthur is now warring against the bandits among the Tagals in Luzon.

"Unless we are willing to deprive Jefferson and Jackson of the meed of honor, which has been held to be peculiarly theirs, we cannot deny the same high praise to President McKinley. At Kansas City the men engaged in preaching the gospel of dishonor and repudiation solemnly asserted that 'imperialism abroad will lead quickly and inevitably to despotism at home.' You men of Minnesota and the Dakotas, who are here this evening, can appreciate the fatuousness of this statement, by the simple process of thinking whether your liberties have been abridged by the return of the Minnesota and Dakota troops who won such honor for themselves in the Philippines. If it were worth while I would point out its dishonesty and insincerity. But flagrant though these are, its absurdity is so much more flagrant that nothing need be said. It is with their cant about militarism and 'intimidation and oppression at home,' as following what they are pleased to call 'conquest abroad.' We cannot argue with them on this proposition, because no serious man thinks for one moment that they believe what they assert.

"During the great civil war there were many preachers of the gospel of disloyalty among the so-called Copperheads of the north, and these men like their representatives along our opponents today prophesied the subversion of the country when the great armies of Grant and Sherman should come back from the war; but the great armies of Grant and Sherman returned to civil life and were swallowed up among their fellow citizens without a ripple. A considerable army was kept for a year or two on the Indian frontier and in some of the southern states; but it never entered the head of a human being to attempt what the Copperhead prophets of disaster had frantically foretold. In '98 or '99 you yourselves saw regiments and brigades and divisions return from Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines, to be disbanded and swallowed up in the mass of the people if volunteers, and if regulars, to resume their ordinary work in fort and cantonment; and after greeting them on the day they returned, the bulk of people would never have been able to tell, except by the newspapers, whether they had come back or not. Of all idle chatter, the talk of danger of militarism is the idlest. The army we have now is relatively to the population of the country less in size than it has been again and again during the last century and a quarter, in times when we had only our own Indians to guard against.

NEW YORK, July 18.—The stock market gave continued evidence Tuesday of operations by an influential bull party. Their efforts to advance prices met with considerable success and were assisted by a sharp upward movement in a number of individual stocks, in which an outstanding short interest was driven to cover. Business continued in large part in professional hands. The general list was rather neglected and its price movements were unimportant, but net gains were generally registered at the close of the day. The manipulative character of the market was evident from the circulation from time to time of some rather extravagant rumors. But the resulting gains were pretty well held, and the pressure of profit taking at the advance was not sufficient to cause any very notable set back. The tone of the market at the close, however, was rather easy and dull at concessions from the best. This was due rather to a pause in the bull manipulation than to any large selling. Union Pacific was the most conspicuous stock in the list and resumed its upward movement early in the day.

The buying of grain carrying roads was reputed to have its origin in the west, where the bull movement in grain has run parallel with a bear speculation in the grangers. Denials of a probability that congress would be convened in extra session relieved some apprehension which was felt late Monday. The check to the advance in sterling exchange was due to the offerings of bills against gold exports. Arrangements are reported to have been already made for sending $1,500,000 in gold bars by tomorrow's steamer, and exchange houses estimate that the total for the week will run up to between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000. Money on call and for short time loans continue easy and abundant, but lenders are indisposed to place loans for the longer periods.

The bond market was dull and the movement of prices continued irregular. Total sales, par value, $885,000. United States old 4s and 5s advanced 1/4 in the bid price.

WOULD KILL GOEBEL.

Witness Said Powers Declared His Purpose, If Nobody Else Committed the Crime.

GEORGETOWN, Ky., July 18.—In the trial of Caleb Powers, charged with complicity in the Goebel shooting, Finley Anderson testified that on Jan. 24 Caleb Powers told him the crowd of mountaineers which was being organized was going to Frankfort to intimidate the legislature, and if necessary, to kill enough Democrats to give the Republicans a majority. He said: "Powers told me Goebel would never live to be governor, and said he (Powers) would kill him if nobody else did."

On cross-examination, the witness became considerably confused, admitting that he had called on Colonel T. C. Campbell, of counsel for the prosecution, in Cincinnati. Witness admitted securing a position in Cincinnati, but denied that it was due to his willingness to testify in this case.

Lucy Brock, of London, testified that Powers called on her in January. He told witness he was getting up a crowd of 1,000 mountain men to go to Frankfort, "so that in case the Democrats robbed them of the state offices they could take care of themselves." The plan was Governor Taylor's.

His Musical Sense.

"What is your favorite opera?" asked the foreign gentleman.

Mr. Cumrox was about to answer "The Mikado," when he observed that the eyes of his wife and daughter were upon him. Then he assumed an air of nonchalance and answered:

"Oh, I don't care particular about the names of cigars or the titles of operas. I like to change around. I just tell 'em to give me a 25 cent cigar when I feel like smoking, and when I want music I enjoy any old $5 a seat opera."—Washington Star.

POTTERY OUTFIT.

Practically an Addition of 65 Kilns Will be in Operation Within the Next 60 Days.

Crockery and Glass Journal.

There is a good deal of speculation as to the result of the probable increase in the pottery output this fall. It is found that there will be practically an addition of 65 kilns in regular operation within the next 60 days, including the kilns added to the old potteries during the spring and summer. This merely embraces those additions in the west. It is larger than was generally supposed. The new potteries, including those converted from sanitary and stoneware into white ware are as follows:

This addition to the pottery production of the west will be chiefly semi-porcelain. At an estimate of $30,000 worth of ware per kiln, this increased capacity means about $2,000,000 more American ware to be disposed of annually by our western potters.

Twenty Century Carnival.

The young ladies of the St. Stephen's Episcopal church will hold a fancy work fair and picnic at the pavilion at Rock Springs park on Wednesday afternoon and evening of July 18. Everybody will be welcome.

For several months they have been engaged in making and fashioning dainty pieces of lingerie and various other articles, both useful and ornamental, such as sofa pillows, doily cases, pin cushions, bows for the hair, etc.

Their purpose being to assist by their personal services in raising funds for the new church. The booths will be decorated to represent the allied nations.

Tea, coffee, lemonade, ice cream, berries and cake will be served by the young ladies in appropriate costumes. Nowling's full orchestra will dis-course sweet music during the afternoon and evening.

During the intermissions popular local singers will lend pleasure to the occasion.

Having a Good Time.

Mrs. R. E. Rayman, of Thompson Hill, has received a letter from her husband, Superintendent R. E. Rayman, who is now in the south attending the national educational meeting at Charleston.

Mr. Rayman states that the party has had a very pleasant trip and that the weather in the south at present is about as warm as it is in East Liverpool. He will not return to the this city for about 10 days.

The News Review yesterday through an oversight failed to include the name of Samuel Johnson in the list of jurymen in the case of Ohio versus Barnes.

A. M. Rayl has sued Jennie Gilmore for forcible detention in the court of Justice McCarron. The case has been set for trial next Monday at 1 o'clock.

A sneak thief paid a visit to the camp ground Tuesday night. He didn't get much for his trouble, but drank all the milk in the refrigerator of E. H. Wells.

Council didn't meet last night. The only members present at the appointed time were McLane and Fisher. Solicitor Gaston was also present, and after waiting until after 8 o'clock the party adjourned.

Yesterday a couple of dogs got in the sewer at the ball ground. The small boys in the vicinity worked almost all day and finally succeeded in getting the grating loose so that the dogs could be released.

Owing to low water the Queen City laid over at this port over night and today made some repairs to the boat. They waited for passengers that came down from Pittsburg on the afternoon train and then left for Cincinnati.

The Pittsburg Dispatch says today: "Charles E. Macrum, ex-consul to Pretoria, whose home is in East Liverpool, O., arrived in Pittsburg yesterday afternoon and registered at the Hotel Lincoln. The purpose of his visit was to perfect arrangements whereby he has become a salesman for the National Glass company."

Charles Wagner, who was taken to the county infirmary last week, has almost entirely recovered from his recent illness, and will return to the city shortly. He was cared for by the directors during a siege of typhoid fever at his boarding house here and was moved to the infirmary as soon as he was able to stand the trip.

STAVING OFF A BILL.

THE GRAND PROMOTER EXEMPLIFIES IT AS A FINE ART.

It was the printer with his bill for 2,000 office cards, and he knocked on Major Crofoot's office door in that half hearted way adopted by creditors who feel that they must call and yet have no faith that the bill will be paid.

"Come in, and good morning to you—good morning!" shouted the major as he sprang up and extended his hand and shook so heartily that the caller's hat was nearly jostled off his head. When the shaking had been concluded, he said:

"I have been expecting you up here every day for a week, and if you

"Yes, sir," replied the printer as he handed it over.

"Good! Let's see. It's for $4.50, and I pronounce it correct—absolutely correct. There never was a more correct account rendered—never in this commercial world. And now you want a check for it, of course? I must ask you to excuse me that this trifle has run so long, but when a man is dealing in millions he is apt to forget dollars."

"That is all right, major," replied the printer as a soft smile stole over his face, and he began wondering why he had ever called the promoter a dead beat.

"Thanks for your confidence—your financial confidence. I like men to have confidence in me. Let me tell you, sir, that the man who puts his trust in Major Crofoot, grand promoter, gigantic originator and tremendous consolidator, loses nothing by it. Here is a bill for $4.50. It has run for weeks and months. Instead of wearing out the stairs and pounding on my door, you have been content to let time slip along. You felt that your money was safe. You believed that I would pay on presentation. Ah, sir, but I love to witness such exhibitions of confidence—I love to do it! Let us shake hands again."

"I'm in a bit of a hurry this morning," remarked the printer as a doubt suddenly entered his mind and sent a chill up his back.

"Ah, yes, of course you are—of course—and my time is also limited, but do you know what I am going to do? Instead of debating about a bill for $4.50, I am going to talk to you of thousands and hundreds of thousands and millions. My dear man, you have arrived at an opportune moment. It almost seems as if the hand of Providence was in it. Having displayed your confidence in the financial integrity of Major Crofoot and arrived at an opportune moment, what follows?"

The bill was shoved under the door against his toes. He picked it up, gave the door three hearty kicks and slowly went down stairs. He realized that he had been taken in on the ground floor.

An Odorless Disinfectant.

If one objects to the odor of carbolic acid, he may use for the plumbing an odorless disinfectant prepared as follows: Dissolve half a pound of permanganate of potash in four gallons of water and pour this carefully down the pipes. This solution, if allowed to stand in bowls or basins, will stain them purple. The stains may be removed with a weak solution of oxalic acid. The acid must be rinsed off immediately after it has been used.

The Real Jan Ridd.

A writer, giving some personal memories of Mr. Blackmore, says he could not bear with patience any praise of "Lorna Doone." All the world has been told that "Lorna Doone" is his greatest work, the work in which his fame will live, "but," says the writer, "strange to say, in as far as his gentle nature was capable of irritation he almost resented the mere mention of the book. Once I inquired of him was there a real Jan Ridd."

"Oh, yes," he said, filling his pipe anew.

"And was he the glorious chap he's made out to be in 'Lorna Doone'?"

"Certainly not," said Mr. Blackmore; "he was a coarse brute."—New England Home Magazine.

Thackeray said of the Quartier Latin, the noted art district of Paris: "The life of the young artist here is the easiest, merriest, dirtiest existence possible. He comes to Paris probably at 16 from his province, his parents settle £40 a year on him and pay his master, he establishes himself in the Pays Latin, he arrives at his atelier at a tolerably early hour and labors among a score of companions as merry and as poor as himself." The students' quarter is located south of the Seine, where the principal colleges and schools have been situated for many centuries and where numerous students have lived.

THE EVENING NEWS REVIEW.

16TH YEAR. NO. 33.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., WEDNESDAY, JULY 18, 1900.

BUILD HOMES NOT SALOONS

Fallacy of Liquor Dealers Argument In Regard to Speakeasies Is Shown.

IF LAW CAN BE EVADED

PROSPEROUS PROHIBITION CITIES

Editor News Review—I want to say a word about those speakeasies that a trembling contemporary sees rising like a specter out of the ashes of the vanquished saloon.

Let this pious sheet be calm. A speakeasy can exist where there are open saloons as well as where there are no saloons. If a man can evade the law and run a speakeasy he will not pay a Dow tax.

Our thirsty friends, our moral monitors thoughtlessly impale themselves on their own arguments. They argue thus:

First—Where there are no saloons there will be more liquor drunk than where there are saloons.

Second—Driving out the saloon we drive out the business of the town, for it will go where liquor can be had. Both of these cannot be correct. The two propositions kill each other.

Is more liquor drunk where there is no saloon? Who is working for the saloon? The liquor dealer? No. Manufacturers and wholesalers are known to spend thousands of dollars to maintain the saloon in a town. What fools they must be. If your competitor would go away from home far enough his eyes would witness the benefits to Minerva and East Palestine in comparison with saloon ridden towns.

Minerva with no saloons and a much less population buys and sells more goods than Carrollton with its saloons, though it is a county seat.

Let us ask ourselves what we are, anyway. Are we men or pigs?

If pigs, then let us slobber and swill and slobber and swear and tumble into the gutter. If men, then let us act like men. I have never seen a town where the saloon was banished that not only were business conditions improved, but there was an improvement of all that was worthy of the best manhood. Homes were more appreciated and beautified. Education, the library, art and music were more patronized.

The churches, the hospital and other religious and charitable institutions were more flourishing. East Liverpool and Wellsville spends enough every year for liquor to build and equip as fine a hospital as there is in the state.

Let us get our minds on something higher than a beer mug. Let us cultivate a more rational taste than the taste for debauchery and we will be glad to strike from ourselves the bondage of this death.

The proof of the pudding is in the eating. Some of these ~~men~~ fellows who never saw a town without a saloon think a town could do without saloons. Not so. For instance Washington.

For 35 years it had no saloon. Has it diminished? It died out? Fifteen years ago it had 6,000 population.

lation. This year's census finds it with 21,000.

Look at its long avenues of fine, beautiful homes; look at its fine public buildings and city improvements. See its splendid school facilities and its prosperous churches and its refined and intelligent population. Is it a dead business town? Though only 30 miles from the large cities of Wheeling and Pittsburg, see its great stores and its large number of prosperous banking houses. During the hard times, when some towns were establishing soup houses and sending out wagons to beg from the farmers, Washington had no hard times.

Why carpenters and plasterers and painters there are able to build themselves homes costing $8,000 to $10,000.

Let us close up these drinking holes. Let us build our homes and not the saloon. Every interest of decency favors no saloon. Appetite and avarice alone clamor for the saloon.

Let us be men, and let not appetite enslave us, nor avarice beguile us. We have tried the saloon long enough, let us try something better.

NICHOLAS GEON.

An Aged Resident of the City Died at His Home Yesterday Afternoon.

Nicholas Geon, who died yesterday afternoon, was among the oldest and best known potters in the city.

Deceased was a native of Ireland and was in his 71st year. He had been a resident of East Liverpool for the last 45 years, coming here in 1855 from Pittsburg, where he had been employed in the Bennett pottery, Birmingham, South Pittsburg. Mr. Geon was employed in the various potteries of the city for many years, although he had not been actively engaged at potting for some time before his death.

Deceased was the father of 10 children, four sons and six daughters, all of whom survive him.

Funeral services will be conducted at St. Aloysius' church tomorrow morning at 8:30 o'clock and interment will be made in the Catholic cemetery.

HON. C. C. BAKER SPEAKS OUT

M. K. Zimmerman Created the Impression That He Represented the News Review.

A PECULIAR PIECE OF WORK

Hon. C. C. Baker, at present the president of the board of education at Alliance, Ohio, is a personal friend and comrade of the manager of the News Review. When we read the remarks attributed to him last night, as they appeared in a local paper in this town, under the head of "communicated," we at once pronounced them false, knowing C. C. Baker as we do, and determined to interview the gentleman at his home at Alliance. We did so this morning, through a proper medium, and received the following reply, after reading the article to him which appeared in the local paper above mentioned:

"There is not a word of truth in the paragraph quoted. M. K. Zimmerman called on me on Monday last and attempted to interview me. I asked him how you were and as to the stand you were taking on the battle of saloon or no saloon. He stated that you were on the side of local option and left me under the impression that he was here in your interest and that he was still connected with your paper, and I did not know that you had ceased to employ him. I told Mr. Zimmerman that I was not here at the time that local option held sway, that I knew nothing about the matter from personal knowledge and that I did not desire to be quoted. I further told Mr. Zimmerman that there were plenty of old residents here whom he could interview respecting the matter, men who knew all about it; but he intimated that his time was limited and that he could not interview many people. Let me reiterate my statement:

"The article which appeared in the paper you mention, and which is quoted as being my experience, is a plain LIE, manufactured from the whole cloth.

"Respectfully,

"C. C. BAKER.

Alliance, O., July 18, 1900." In the light of this prompt and unequivocal branding of the lie against Hon. C. C. Baker, have we not the right to say that the liquor league and their miserable tools will resort to any and every means, honorable or dishonorable, for the accomplishment of their vile and unholy purposes?

This lie is a shameful and outrageous one, calculated to seriously injure Hon. C. C. Baker, and the man or men who concocted it should be made pay a heavy penalty. The proper place for creatures who resort to such infamy and trickery is behind prison bars. This act on their part is a fair sample of their method of procedure everywhere. The saloon is and always has been a criminal maker, and the men who manufacture criminals will themselves become criminals on the slightest pretext, when their criminal action will best accomplish their foul and unholy purpose, and when they believe that they stand an even chance of escaping punishment at the hands of an outraged law.

HERE YOU ARE?

Give yourselves a fair show in the race of life, men of East Liverpool. Don't let the saloonists make a monkey of you. They rob you and then laugh at you. Do the laughing for yourself, and let the wife and the babies have the money you throw away in the saloon. Let the saloonist, distiller and brewer make an honest and honorable living, the same as you do, and don't you build houses for him at your expense and at the expense and sorrow of your wife and little ones. Read the following and see the difference in a city under saloon rule and after the saloon was driven out:

"The city of Cambridge, Mass., celebrated on May 1 its 10 years freedom from the liquor traffic. There were children's festivals and public meetings, and in all religious services held a prominent place. A writer in the New York Independent gives the following facts as to the results of the city's policy: 'For 10 years, up to 1886, Cambridge was under license, half of the time under general law and half of the time under local option. Here is a chance to compare 10 years of license with 10 years of no license. Let us see what the figures are: From 1876 to 1886 the valuation of Cambridge dropped from $62,000,000 in round numbers to $59,000,000. In the next 10 years it rose to $83,000,000. Here is a loss of $3,000,000 in the license decade, and a gain of $24,000,000 in the no-license decade. If this fact stood alone it would be very significant; but it does not stand alone. In the 10 license years the average annual gain in population was 1,182; in the 10 no-license years it has been 2,195. In the first decade there were 151 new houses built annually; the average the second decade has been 332. The city gets annually in taxes on the increased valuation of the city under no-license three or four times as much as it would get from license fees, if it called the saloon back.'

SERIOUS QUESTIONS

FOR THE VOTERS
OF EAST LIVERPOOL.

Do you want saloons? If so, why?

Who of us want them, and for what?

Is time spent in them which could be better spent elsewhere?

Is money spent in them which could do more good spent elsewhere?

Is there likely to be gambling in them?

Is any money worse than wasted in them?

Do any fathers set bad examples
there for their boys?

Do your boys get good habits there that will make them good men, or habits that may make them good-for-nothing men?

Are our wives, mothers and sisters made happier by having loafing and drinking places to tempt their husbands, sons and brothers to waste their time and spend their money in drinking and loafing instead of being at home with their families?

Is the saloon a good place to educate the young men, who are to be the husbands of our daughters?

If no money were spent in saloons, would there not be more good trade and less bad debts in business, and more comfort in homes?

Would anybody be hurt by having these places shut up? If so, who?
And how would they be hurt?

Would some men be better off today
if they had never been in a saloon?

Would some women and children be better fed and clothed?

Would some homes be happier?

Would anybody who is dead be alive today?

Would saloonkeepers themselves, and their families, be better, happier,
or more useful in some other business?

Do saloonkeepers want to do us good or to get our money?

Do you like the dictation of the saloons in politics?

Let us think of these questions, and vote as we think is RIGHT, not as those who only want our money wish us to vote.

accusing Mrs. Vincent of having Francis wash.

Mrs. Howe testified she had known defendants for 35 years; they have a good reputation and treated the child Francis very kindly. She was out of town when the girl was whipped last week and she knew nothing about it.

On cross-examination Mrs. Howe said she did not say to anyone that the Barnes abused Francis, but she had on one occasion seen Mrs. Barnes shake her by the head.

Robert Williams was a character witness for the Barnes and said as far as he knew the child was treated, fed and clothed as well as any, although he had not been at the house much and was not really in a position to testify as to her treatment while at home.

The balance of the witnesses for the defense testified as to Mr. Barnes' good character; that he was not of a vicious disposition and not likely to abuse anyone.

Mr. Tompkinson, for defense, testified that Francis wore beautiful clothes, as good as any child in town.
Mrs. Hughes said she was at the Pares home just after the child had been whipped and found Mrs. Barnes with tears in her eyes.

He stated that he had to punish the girl, and seemed worried and distressed about it. She said the child was not crying or complaining when she came, and she didn't know whether it would hurt to be whipped with a belt or not.

Francis was recalled and said the Barnes' whipped her almost every day and on this particular occasion he hit her with the belt on the head and shoulders a dozen or more times, and is to the part referring to her mental condition, being admitted unless Barnes was present at the time. Objection overruled.

Mrs. Vincent said they frequently abused and misused her, to which Hill again objected, saying the time was too indefinite, whereupon the justice ruled that any time within two or three days or a week would be all that was necessary.

Asked as to whether she had ever heard any threats made to the child,
Mrs. Vincent stated she had seen Mrs.
Barnes slap her in the face, call her a little cat, and, shaking her two fingers in her face had often used the expression that she would "fix her." Witness said condition of child's clothes was filthy and not fit to wear upon anyone. Child was placed in her charge last Saturday morning and her clothing at that time was in a filthy condition, both inside and out.
She had bought the girl suitable clothing. Upon being asked if she would know the clothing the child wore when she came to her the witness said she certainly would and the clothes were submitted in evidence, and Mrs. Vincent identified them.
Witness testified that the child was of a very affectionate disposition, a good child to work, having done several small jobs for her, and on the evening after she had been whipped Mrs. Vincent had told Barnes that he shouldn't whip her any more, to which he replied "it was none of her d—d business" whether he whipped her or not.

Dr. Wm. Brindley was the next witness and he said he had been called and examined her nervous condition; found it in very bad condition; her temperature being at 104, indicating a very feverish state; she seemed in a frenzy of fear constantly.

Miss Annie Ball testified that Barnes seemed ashamed of the child's condition, since they attempted to persuade her to change her clothes when she came to the squire's office on the day of the Barnes' arrest.

Defense then swore the following witnesses: Mr. and Mrs. Barnes, Minnie Glass, I. Bentley Pope, Robert Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Tompkinson, Mrs. Howe, John Vodrey, Martha Tes-till, Mrs. Hughes, J. W. Bagley and Dr. W. A. Hobbs.

Mrs. Barnes was first called and said they had taken Francis from an institution in England when she was 6 years old; she was now between 13 and 14; they had lived in this country since November; they sent the child to school every day and thought as much of her as though she was their own, feeding and clothing her as well as the circumstances would permit, although most of her clothing was after the English fashion and perhaps looked odd to some. On the afternoon in question she and her husband had been lying down and when Mr. Barnes arose he discovered she had gone to Mrs. Vincent's house, and as he had forbidden her to go
he whipped her in a gentle manner.
Her husband had then told Mrs. Vincent the child shouldn't work for her,

The case against John Barnes and wife, which occupied the attention of Justice McLain and a jury yesterday afternoon, was remarkable for its contradictory evidence, scarcely any two of the 20 odd witnesses agreeing upon a single point.

Attorney W. B. Hill, counsel for the Barnes, preferred to have his clients tried separately, and thought the husband the proper party to deal with first, and it was decided, leaving Mrs.
Barnes out of the question for the time.

Attorney Hill made a motion that the affidavit be quashed on the grounds that it was indefinite. Motion was overruled and the case was proceeded with.

Francis Barnes was the first witness for the prosecution and she said the Barnes were not her father and mother, and that she had been treated very badly at their hands. On last Thursday Barnes had whipped her with a strap, cuffed her ears and locked her in the bath room, afterwards letting her out and she rid off the table, but had no supper. Witness wore a red calico gown somewhat faded and considerably the worse for wear, which, she said, being asked the question, was all she had to wear except her serge dress, which was too heavy for this kind of weather. She went down to Mrs. Vincent's after cleaning away the supper and was given something to eat; had scarcely started to eat when Barnes called her.
Witness said she was frightened, but did not refuse to go.

Attorney Kerr, for the prosecution, became ill at this point and Attorney G. M. Thompson took the witness. She went back in a half hour, but they didn't whip her any more.

On cross-examination Francis said it was on Thursday evening she was whipped and pushed down the stairs.

Mrs. Vincent was called. She said she knew defendant, also Francis; Francis had come to her house Thursday afternoon and washed her dishes and insisted upon assisting her to wash some clothes, which she refused to permit her to do.

Mrs. Vincent here started in relating a conversation which she had held with the child, to which Attorney Hill objected and asked that the jury be instructed to disregard such testimony, as it was not admissible. The objection was sustained.

Witness said Barnes tapped on the window to attract attention of Francis, and that when she responded he grabbed her and whipped her with a strap and hit her on the head, almost knocking her down the stairs. This occurred on a landing at the top of the stairs, and Mrs. Vincent witnessed it from the bottom of the stairway.
Shortly afterward Francis had come to her house crying saying she had had no supper, whereupon witness gave her something to eat, but she had scarcely started before Barnes came to the door and Francis ran into an inner room in a very excited and nervous condition, wringing her hands and crying.

MINERVA.

This Glorious Stark County Town
Makes Liquor Advocates
Weary.

We have personally visited Minerva and made minute investigation of its commercial and private life as a "dry" town. It is a living, breathing, active witness again the un-American saloon.
It is one of the best business towns in Ohio. The merchants do a good and a safe business. The streets are kept in first-class condition. The sidewalks are better than those of East Liverpool. There is no brawling and fighting and cursing upon the thoroughfares. It is a model town. The stuff which has been appearing in a local sheet, at so much per line, condemns Minerva in the same manner as it does other dry towns, and on about the same manufactured and lying testimony, secured and made up by a man who has so far forgot his manhood as to become a tool in the hands of the liquor league and saloon men. We have been close on this fellow's trail, and can prove, by indisputable authority, that his statements are a mass of falsehood. The following from the Minerva News Kodak, a live, clean paper, published in a live, clean town, by a live, clean, fearless man, speaks volumes in favor of the "dry" town:

"We venture the assertion that there is four times more cash business to the volume of business done in Minerva than in any "wet" town around.
And it is equally as evident that as much as twice the volume of legiti-mate business is done here as in any "wet" town of like size. One of our prominent merchants remarked Saturday that he had not lost a dollar in bad accounts the past year.—Minerva News Kodak, May 28."

This is the uniform testimony that comes to us from the "dry" towns of the state. It is not an infrequent thing that town officers and prominent citizens, who have opposed making towns "dry" for business reasons confess to us and our friends that they were mistaken, and give in their adherence to the prohibition program.
Of all the ineffable rot that was ever faked out by saloon falsifiers, the most silly and baseless is that saloons help the legitimate business of any place.

ENTERTAINED.

Nessley Chapel Christian Endeavor Societies Visited the City
Last Night.

Two Christian Endeavor societies from Nessley chapel enjoyed a hay ride to East Liverpool and were entertained by the Methodist Protestant Christian Endeavor society of this city.
The members of the local church made an excellent welcome which was followed by addresses and music, after which delicious refreshments were served.

THIRD WARD VOTERS

Will Vote at the Woodbine Steam Laundry Instead of McKeever Building.

The voters of the Third ward will take notice that the voting precinct in their ward has been changed from the McKeever building, Sixth street, to the Woodbine steam laundry, Fourth street. The voting places for Saturday are as follows:

- First ward—Robert Hall's office, Broadway.
- Second ward—City Hall.
- Third ward—Woodbine Steam Lau-dry, Fourth street.
- Fourth ward—J. D. West's office, Sixth street.
- Fifth ward—East End fire station.

Very Different.

A man may stand on a sinking ship at sea or plunge through the vortex of destruction upon the field of battle and still be self possessed, but it's different with him when he finds that he has been sitting on fresh paint.

SOUTH SIDE.

Car off the Track.

A little excitement was caused yesterday afternoon when one of the new Southside cars was derailed on the switch, just across the bridge. It was about 5 o'clock in the evening and the car was heavily loaded with passengers returning from work and others coming from the ball game. All had to pile out in a most undignified manner until the car could be replaced. No one was hurt, but all were well shaken up. The mishap was the result of the spreading of the switch rails.

The Wellsburg Picnic.

The picnic at Rock Springs park yesterday from Wellsburg was attended by 1,500 people, who reported a pleasant time. A most orderly crowd was present, no trouble taking place on the grounds. The crowd departed for home at 8 o'clock, but as usual with a picnic crowd a few missed the train and returned home this morning.

A Candidate Here.

J. H. Settle, of Fairview, nominee on the Democratic ticket for assessor of this county, was in Chester yesterday looking after his interests.

Looking After Their Interests.

They Talked Fight.

Two men talking fight furnished amusement for the residents of Chester yesterday. They did not come to blows.

Some Trouble.

On account of the power the Southside street car line experienced much inconvenience yesterday afternoon.

Personal.

Mr. Halderman is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Croxall.

RUSSIA.

The "Innkeeper" or Saloonkeeper is an Unmitigated Curse to Russia.

The following article shows that other nations are experiencing the awful curse consequent upon the use of alcoholic stimulants, and the innkeepers or saloonists are looked upon as the cause of all the trouble. The saloon is a curse to the inhabitants of East Liverpool and a curse wherever it raises its hideous head:

"The Russian government is experiencing great difficulty in its efforts to restrict the almost universal use of liquor among the working classes. The Minister of Finance says the government is anxious to save the population from the baneful influence of the innkeepers, who, in order to make large profits, adulterated their spirits with noxious and deleterious substances, which were proving ruinous to the lower classes. The average peasant was not content with remaining in a public place until he had spent his last farthing, but often pawned his clothes, furniture and future crops."

Lost a Gold Watch.

Yesterday afternoon (Tuesday), July 17, a handsome gold watch was lost at Rock Springs. The case was plain on one side, while on the other was the monogram "T. J. R." A reward of $10 is offered if the finder will return the same to the News Review office.

Kept on the Jump.

That tall man seems to be the busiest person around the establishment. What does he do?
"It is his duty to see whether the others are working or not."

Rev. Orcutt is Away.

The people in this part of the city would like to know what they will do at the election next Saturday, as Rev. Orcutt, judge of election in this precinct, is out of town, and it is thought he will not return home until after the election.

Returned Home.

Rev. L. L. Gray and wife returned to their home in Knoxville, O., yesterday afternoon. Rev. Gray occupied the pulpit at the Second U. P. church last Sunday.

Getting Better.

Andrew Bricelin, who was injured by falling off Nancy Hanks yesterday, is resting easily today. He will be off duty for several days.

Personal.

Several New Houses.

Alex Chaffin yesterday broke ground for several new houses.

WILL WAIT A WEEK.

The East Liverpool Quartet Will Have to Wait on Judge Boone's Return.

Lisbon, July 18.—(Special)—John Brown, Neal Laird, George Cox and Silas Hanselman were brought to the county jail this morning from East Liverpool. Laird, Cox and Hanselman pleaded guilty to the crime of larceny in an East Liverpool court and will be sentenced by Judge Boone. The men are charged with stealing a lot of copper wire valued at $13. The charge against Brown is aiding the other three to escape from the city jail to which charge he pleaded guilty. Sentence will not be passed for a week owing to the absence of Judge Boone from the city.

Whose Letter is This?

A letter addressed to Miss Mamie Miller, South street, 38th ward, Pittsburgh, Pa., was returned to this office. The letter is merely signed "Your Aunt Louise," and contains a two-dollar bill. By giving the contents of the letter and paying for this insertion the writer can get the letter at the post-office.

The Eclipse Club of This City Was Defeated Yesterday by a Score of 8 to 4.

IT WAS A SNAPPY GAME

Tyson Made a Home Run In the Eighth Inning With Two Men on Bases.

WELLSBURG'S TEAM IS FAST

The Wellsburg base ball team proved too fast yesterday for the Eclipse club and won the game by a score of 8 to 4.

The game was a good one and a large crowd of interested spectators witnessed it, a home run by Tyson in the eighth inning with two men on bases helped the score of the local boys.

AN INVITATION.

Local Physicians Receive an Invitation to Visit the City of Detroit.

Last week some of the physicians of the city learned in a round about way that an invitation had been extended to the medical fraternity of Columbiana county by Park, Davis & Co., a wholesale drug firm of Detroit, to visit that city and be entertained by them.

Several of the local medical men endeavored to learn from whence the information came, and found that the Lisbon physicians had heard direct from the firm. This all happened yesterday—too late for any of the local men to arrange to attend, as the party were to start today and expected to return Saturday. Through the neglect or misunderstanding several of the physicians of this city are much disappointed in not being able to make the trip.

RIVERVIEW CEMETERY.

RULES FOR VISITORS.

Section 1. Visitors are reminded that these grounds are sacredly devoted to the interment of the dead, and a strict observance of all that is proper, in a place so dedicated, will be required of all who visit it.

2. Visitors will be admitted to the cemetery at all times during week days. On Sundays no one will be admitted except lot owners or those having a special ticket. Tickets can be procured at office of the secretary in First National bank, or the residence of the superintendent at cemetery.

3. Every person driving in the cemetery shall be responsible for any damage done by him or by the animals in his charge.

4. No vehicle will be allowed to pass through the grounds at a rate exceeding six miles an hour, and no one is permitted to drive on any of the walks. No horse must be left on the grounds unfastened. Drivers must remain on their seats or by their horses during funeral services. Carriages will not be permitted to turn on any avenue.

5. All persons are prohibited from picking any flowers, either wild or cultivated, or breaking any trees, shrub or plant, anywhere within the enclosure; and also from writing upon, defacing, or in any way injuring any ornament, tree or structure in or belonging to the cemetery.

6. Persons with refreshments will not be admitted to the cemetery, and all bags or baskets must be left at the entrance. Children will not be admitted to the cemetery unless in the care of adults.

7. Dogs will not be permitted in the cemetery.

8. Except in case of emergency, when lots are required for immediate use, the superintendent will not attend to the selection or sale of lots on Sunday.

9. Shooting will not be allowed, and no firearms will be permitted within the grounds except at military funerals.

10. The Superintendent and his deputies are vested by an Act of the General Assembly of the State of Ohio with full police power to arrest without warrant and take before a Justice of the Peace any offender in these grounds, and the Association exact the discharge of this duty. They will expel from the cemetery any person disturbing its sanctity by noisy, boisterous or other improper conduct, or who shall violate any of the foregoing rules, and will subject the offender to due punishment.

By Order of Trustees,

DAVID BOYCE, Pres.

Legend of the Narcissus.

Daffodil is a corruption of affodilly, which is derived from Asphodelus. Its other name is narcissus, and the legend of the latter name is well known—how Narcissus, for whom a nymph died, was punished by seeing his own face in a pool of water and becoming so infatuated with it that he was spell-bound to the spot till he pined away and died and was changed into the flower that bears his name today.

FARMERS.

They are a grand class of men. As a rule, they are not the tools and playthings of the liquor league or the saloon. The saloonists find that it never pays to run a saloon in the rural districts. They kill off speakeasies in the country.

SPEAKEASIES.

Liverpool township is prohibition. St. Clair township is prohibition. Yellow Creek township is prohibition. Let this city go dry, and the liquor dealers attempt to carry their threat of the establishment of speakeasies into effect, and the state officials will make the lawbreakers and criminals very, very weary. We know whereof we speak, and so do the liquor dealers.

SPEAKEASIES.

Common sense is the best sense ever granted unto men—a God-given gift. A common sense writer "Cives" says in today's issue, speaking of the threats of the saloonkeepers respecting speakesies: "If law can be evaded and speakeasies be run, no man will pay Dow tax to run an open saloon." Comment is unnecessary.

HON. C. C. BAKER.

Boomerangs are dangerous weapons to trifle with. The hands that hurl them may be broken and crushed. The liquor element will find this to be the case in the outrageous lie they published and quoted as coming from him, and which he today brands as a lie out of the whole cloth." Surely the liquor element is treading on dangerous ground when they thus traduce and malign and misrepresent a good and clean citizen.

MINERVA.

Read article elsewhere respecting Minerva, Stark county, Ohio, almost at your doors. The saloon and liquor men have intimidated that Minerva, as a dry town, is a failure. Very many thousands of men in this state of Ohio would glory in having such failures in their social and business life. Minerva is on the of the best and most prosperous towns in the nation—made so by the citizens voting the saloon out of existence. See that you do the same, citizen voters of East Liverpool.

HIS BRAINS "WOBBLED."

That writer for the saloon element and in favor of booze, who wrote a paid article for a local on Monday, on their first page, under the head of "Communicated," must have had the "jim jams" at the time. He said:

"First—Where there are no saloons there will be more liquor drank than where there are saloons."

And then this brain wobbler, mixed in his attempted argument by the influence of tangle foot, or having caught the breath of his employers, says:

"Second—Driving out the saloons we drive out the business of the town, for it will go where liquor can be had."

Say, readers of the News Review, it's a clear case of the devil destroying his own. The fellow who made such a so-called argument should put his head in soak.

TO OUR READERS.

You will kindly pardon us for the appearance of so much reading matter along the line of temperance. We are very much in earnest along this line. We believe that the saloon is an awful curse to this city and its citizens; a destroyer of prosperity; a destroyer of morals; a destroyer of property; an element which very heavily increases taxation; an absolute curse to our workingmen, the best men in the nation, representing the middle classes, upon which our government is founded; the robber of women and children; the producer of criminals and the destroyer of the bodies of our very best young men, men who, if the saloon were barred out, would be an ornament to society, as the saloon is the chief feeder from which the liquor traffic draws its life and is enabled to exist. Believing this in our heart, and standing as the friend of every honest and honorable man in this city, we dare not do otherwise than we are doing. May God defend the right, and grant that the good citizens of East Liverpool, as instruments in His hands, shall bar the accursed saloon from our midst.

BUILD HOMES.

Read article over signature of "Cives" on our first page. "Build Homes—not saloons. There is power and force and conviction in the thought. Homes for yourselves, workingmen; not homes for the saloonist. Dress your wives and children well; not the wives and children of the saloon keeper. Build cosy, comfortable and neat little homes for yourselves; not great brick residences and palaces for the wholesale liquor dealers, distiller, brewer and saloon keeper. A little, cheap piece of paper will do the business for you on Saturday, July 21, 1900. Men call it a ballot, a vote; insignificant in appearance, but an awful power for good or for evil in your hands. Men of East Liverpool, drinkers and non-drinkers, by everything you hold dear and sacred; by mother's tears and wife's sorrows; by children's cries and moans of hunger; by the memory of dishonored fathers, brothers and sons, ruined and degraded by the saloon; by the hopes you have of heaven; by the mercy of God, kill the foul saloon in East Liverpool on Saturday, July 21.

BOOMERANGS.

Ho, there, all good and honest and truthful citizens of East Liverpool. Ho, there, all men who have been cursed by the nasty saloon, and who desire to get away from its influence and to get back into clean life once more, respecting yourselves and having the respect and esteem of your friends and neighbors. Ho, there, all men who hate and despise liars, falsifiers and all such skull-duggery, make note that the liquor and saloon element of East Liverpool are engaged in all manner of trickery and unfairness, falsehood and misrepresentations. They have had a man in East Palestine and Columbiana, and this man will make to them, and they to the public, all manner of misrepresentations respecting these towns, asserting that citizens at large regret that those towns are dry. This same fellow will assert that the trade of those towns is going to Waterford, a very wet town, to the detriment and regret of the merchants of Columbiana and East Palestine. Such statements are absolute, plain, unvarnished lies. No gentler word or expression will do justice to the occasion. We can prove this by a large mass of citizens of those places. All the speakeasies that the liquor league can build around Palestine cannot make the majority of the citizens, business men, merchants, artisans and toilers sorry that the infamous saloon has been barred out of the town, and this majority will so express itself in unmistakable terms. The liquor element is sparing no expense in the manufacture of falsehoods and in the support of speakeasies; but they have counted without their host. Their traveling tool has talked too much. He has been hurling boomerangs, and the weapons made use of

will return and kill himself and his employers.

CASE WILL BE DROPPED.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnes Have Relinquished all Claim to the Child Which They Have Been Caring For.

It is likely the case against Mrs. John Barnes will be withdrawn and nothing further done in the matter, as the humane authorities have succeeded in having the husband punished for his alleged cruelty. An effort is being made to provide for the child, Frances Barnes, as the Barnes people have relinquished all claim to her and it is probable an application will be made to have Mrs. Vincent appointed guardian of the girl.

Pipe Line Obstructions.

Pilots complain that pipe lines in the Ohio river are proving dangerous obstructions to navigation. A line is now being laid across the river at Wellsville, and it is thought that no permission has been granted to lay it. The line is not being buried, which is contrary to law. At New Martinsville there is also an exposed gas line. It appears that every rise in the river causes the line to raise and it is not regarded safe for boats to land near the place.

Leased Some Territory.

The Standard Oil company has leased 4,000 acres of land in Trumbull county and will thoroughly test it for oil. Drilling will commence in Brookfield township this week.

Second Kiln Fired.

The Wellsville China company today fired their second kiln at their new plant.

REMUS SHENKEL WAS IN A RUNOFF

HE WAS THROWN OUT

Dragged For Several Yards, Had Three Ribs Broken and Was Considerably Bruised.

COMPANION WAS NOT INJURED

Remus Shenkel met with an accident this morning that might have resulted very seriously.

In company with Raymond Byeirs he was engaged in moving a family to Trentvale street. They had unloaded their wagon and were returning and had reached the intersection of Sheridan avenue when the team started to run. Shenkel held onto the lines, and when the horn switch was reached the lead horse came loose, turned up the track while the other animal kept straight along West Market street. Both boys were thrown out and Shenkel was thrown under the horses. He became entangled in the lines and was dragged several yards before he was able to escape. After he became loose he walked over to the curb and laid down.

Bystanders who had witnessed the accident realized that he was injured and telephoned for the patrol and he was taken to his home on Cook street, where an examination of his injuries developed the fact that he had three ribs broken, one of them being broken in two places. In addition to this his face was considerably skinned up and he was very badly bruised.

Byeirs escaped injury beyond a few bruises. The team was captured before either of the animals had been injured.

An Expensive Monument.

Toronto Tribune.

A. H. Graham has this week delivered and erected a handsome two-base cube Barry granite family monument for William Croxall, of East Liverpool. The monument was erected in Spring Grove cemetery and the cube is 4x6 feet, weighing 49,000 pounds. The freight on the stone cost $151. The monument complete cost just $2,000, and it is probably the most expensive one of its kind in this vicinity.

Mont Lawn, New York, is a paradise for needy little ones. The cost of one child for a 10 days' outing from New York city is $3, covering transportation, food shelter, medical and caretaker's attention. A noble Christian woman of this city today handed in $3 to the News Review office and the sum was at once forwarded to the "Fresh Air Fund, Christian Herald, care Bible House, New York city." God bless the donor and let her remember the words of the Master respecting little children.

DISMISSED THE CASE.

Minnie Reed Charged George Shiffler With False and Malicious Libel.

A case in which Minnie Reed charged George Shiffler with false and malicious libel was tried before Justice McCarron this morning. Owing to the extreme youth of defendant, being only 13 years of age, the justice dismissed the case and assessed the costs upon the boy's father.

TWO OTHER MEN RUN IN

Chief Thompson and Officer Homer Morris this morning took Si Hanselman, John Brown, Neal Laird and George Cox to Lisbon, where they will answer to the court, Hanselman, Laird and Cox for stealing copper wire and Brown for assisting the three men to escape from the city jail.

Mrs. Obney did not enter a charge against John Grim for taking her watch. Investigation proved that Grim was entirely innocent and had no part in the loss of the watch.

William Dewey, George Brown and Dave Brown, well-known colored people of the city, were arrested last night upon a charge of fighting on Second street. They had a battle on Second street several days ago with George Brown, a bricklayer from the Southside. It cost them each $2 and costs when they faced the mayor. They put up security and were released.

John Hancock was arrested upon a charge of being disorderly at his home on Third street. Mayor Davidson assessed him $5 and costs.

CHINA DECLARES WAR

Invades Russian Province of Amur.

Garrison Held Out Bravely, but Was Finally Overwhelmed and Nearly All Perished—Chinese Troops and Boxers Seized a Russian Transport.

LONDON, July 18.—The Daily Mail published a sensational dispatch from St. Petersburg dated Monday, which asserts that there is no doubt that China has declared war against Russia. He further said in part: "I hear from a reliable source that the Chinese troops and Boxers seized a Russian transport vessel laden with munitions, near Aigun (on the Amur river, about 18 miles from the Russian frontier), killing almost the entire Russian escort."

"They then suddenly attacked and bombarded the town of Blagoveshensk (capital of the Amur government, on the Amur river). The garrison held out bravely, but was finally overwhelmed. Nearly all perished, and the town was burned."

NO EXTRA SESSION OF U. S. CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—A special cabinet meeting was attended by President McKinley, Secretary Hay, Secretary Root, Secretary Long, Secretary Gage and Postmaster General Smith.

Afterward, Secretary Root gave out the following formal statement of the action of the cabinet:

"The president has determined that the facts now known to us do not require or justify calling an extra session of congress. Should future developments indicate that he is unable to do what is required with the means now at his command and the action of congress is necessary to furnish either men or money or authority, he will not hesitate to call it together."

The decision that an extra session of congress was not demanded by existing conditions was the outcome of the showing which both Secretary Root and Secretary Long were able to make as to the force that can be thrown into China without the authorization of additional troops by congress, and also the decidedly more hopeful feeling entertained by the president and the members of his cabinet as to the safety of Minister Conger and other foreigners in Pekin, due to the cable of Minister Wu reporting the safety of the ministers July 9, two days after their reported massacre.

While this cable is not regarded as conclusive, it is accepted in good faith for the present. But the administration, it can be definitely stated, has set in motion some machinery by which it is confidently predicted absolutely authentic news as to the fate of our minister and the other foreigners at Pekin will be ascertained. Through what channel the administration expects to receive this all-important news is not known, but that definite statement of the situation in Pekin is daily, if not hourly expected can be stated with the utmost positiveness. The advice received from Pekin probably will be the determining factor in blazing the future course of this government. If Minister Conger has been murdered, an extra session of congress seems inevitable.

The message of Admiral Remey, noting the successful fighting at Tien Tsin also made the situation more hopeful, but the message received by Wu was responsible for the really hopeful feeling of the president.

Secretary Root furnished to the cabinet a summary of the troops available not only in this country, but in Cuba, and gave it as his opinion that between 10,000 and 12,000 troops in all could be spared for service in China. These reinforcements are to be rushed through at the earliest possible moment. Most, if not all of them, it is believed, can be landed by the end of August or early in September.

General Haywood was summoned and he showed that 1,000 more marines would be enlisted. He was told to hurry up the enlistment.

It was decided also that the battalion of marines, 800 in number, who were to have left for the far east at the end of the month, should go forward next Sunday in command of Major Randolph Dickens.

It is the present purpose of the president to return to Canton on Thursday evening, unless his presence here is deemed necessary at that time. Colonel Webb Hayes and William Barber, the president's nephew, accompanied the president here, as did Secretary Cortelyou.

FOREIGNERS SAFE JULY 9.

Minister Wu Received Such a Message. Li Hung Chang Ordered to Pekin.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The Chinese minister received a dispatch from the minister at London, authenticated by Sheng, the imperial inspector of posts and telegraphs at Shanghai and by two viceroys, declaring that the foreigners in Pekin were safe on July 9, and were receiving the protection of the government. This is two days after the reported massacre. Minister Wu has laid the message before Secretary Hay.

The text of the dispatch received by Minister Wu is as follows:

"The utmost efforts have been made to protect foreign ministers who were well on the 13th (Chinese calendar corresponding to our July 9). If Tien Tsin city should be destroyed it would be difficult to restore the same in 100 years. Request the powers to preserve it, as the consequences would affect Chinese and foreign commerce. Earl Li Hung Chang is transferred to North China as viceroy to China and viceroy to Chi Li. Please transmit this dispatch to the ministers at other capitals."

This dispatch, which is dated July 16, was signed by Viceroys Liu Kun Yi and Chang Chih Tung, of Tanking, and Wu Chang respectively, and also by Sheng, director of posts and telegraphs at Shanghai. It was addressed to the Chinese minister in London and by him transmitted to Minister Wu under July 17 date.

In accordance with the request contained in the cablegram, Minister Wu asked Secretary Hay to agree with the other powers, to preserve Tien Tsin from destruction.

So far as the United States is concerned, there has been no purpose wittingly to destroy this walled city, although the latest news from the scene of action indicates that the walls themselves have been battered down and a considerable portion of the city destroyed. Mr. Wu said afterward that he feared the destruction of the city was little short of complete.

The minister expressed the most complete confidence in the accuracy of the message showing that the foreign ministers were well on the 9th inst. When a bystander expressed some doubt on this subject, Mr. Wu inquired with some warmth:

"Why is it that you believe the exaggerated reports from unknown sources, and yet you choose to doubt this report, signed by our highest officials and containing inherent evidence of accuracy?"

The minister went on to show that this dispatch contained three distinct statements. One of them, the appointment of Li Hung Chang as viceroy of

as one of the most important developments in the entire situation. Chi-Li is the great province in which Pekin is located, and is the very heart of the Boxer movement, so that the great viceroy now assumes supreme power at the point of greatest danger.

The state department officials are anxious to accept Wu's message as accurate, but there are some clouds of doubt about it. The question naturally arises, as it has many times in the past two weeks, if the Chinese government can communicate in this way with its representatives abroad why can it not permit the foreign ministers represented to be under its protection also to communicate with their governments?

Confirmation of the transfer of Li Hung Chang to the north came to the state department not only from Minister Wu but in a cablegram from Consul General Goodnow at Shanghai. It is stated that Li Hung Chang has started from Canton on his way to Pekin.

If the viceroy can get into Pekin, he also can carry messages to the foreign ministers if they are still alive, and the state department as well as the European prime ministers may seize the opportunity to make one more test of the truth of the latest reports respecting the safety of the legations.

LONDON, July 18.—William Pritchard-Morgan, member of parliament for Merthyr Tydvil, July 17, received by cable positive assurance from a source upon which he relied that the British legation at Peking was still standing July 9.

ALLIES TAKE TIEN TSIN.

The Native City Captured After More Desperate Fighting—Losses of the Allies Very Heavy.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Admiral Remey sent the navy department a dispatch containing the following:

"CHE FOO, July 17. "Bureau of Navigation, Washington:

"Today hope to get our wounded from Tien Tsin either in the hostials at Taku or aboard of the Solace. Communication is very uncertain. The following casualties apparently are confirmed: Marines, Captain Davis, killed; Captain Lemly and Lieutenants Butler and Leonard, wounded; army, Colonel Liscum, killed; Majors Regan and Lee, Captains Noyes, Brewster and Bookmiller, Lieutenants Naylor, Lawton, Hammond and Waldron, wounded.

"The total killed and wounded is reported at 775. The Russians and Japanese lost heavily.

"Our total loss is reported at 215, about 40 being marines, but the numbers are believed to be exaggerated. I have an officer on shore especially to get authentic numbers and names, which will be promptly telegraphed.

"The city and forts now are in the hands of the allies. Admiral Seymour has returned to the fleet. The ranking officer ashore is Admiral Alexieff, at Tien Tsin.

YERKES FOR GOVERNOR.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 18.—John W. Yerkes, of Danville, was nominated for governor by the Republican convention held in this city. A platform was adopted declaring the issue of the election to be the Goebel election law. The convention adjourned within three hours. There were some anti-Goebel Democrats in the convention, but as to how many, figures differ. In the Shelby county delegation there were, according to a statement made from the platform, 19 Democrats.

A feature of the speeches made was that they all paid tribute to what the Democratic party has done in the past, though the speakers unsparingly denounced the present Democratic state administration and the Democratic legislature, thus indicating a purpose to welcome into the Republican party all Democrats who are opposed to the Goebel election law.

Many ladies occupied boxes, among them being Mrs. W. S. Taylor and four daughters. The convention gave her three cheers when she entered the box.

PROVIDENTIAL RAINS.

More Cheerful Outlook in Some Districts in India.

BARODA, India, July 18.—Special and official telegrams received here from the famine districts indicate a more cheerful outlook. Scant rains have fallen in Madras and Gujarat, in which latter province the famine has been most severe and the mortality greatest. Elsewhere the rainfall has been fair, making the general prospects brighter.

Worrying is one of the greatest drawbacks to happiness. Most of it can be avoided if we only determine not to be trifles annoy us; for the largest amount of worrying is caused by the small trifles.

TAKE THEIR CHOICE.

Gold Standard Empire or Bimetallic Republic.

COL. BRYAN TO THE WAVERING.

His Statement Regarding Those Gold Democrats, Who Oppose the Question of Imperialism, but Think of Withholding Support Owing to the Silver Plank.

LINCOLN, July 18.—Wm. J. Bryan's attention was called to the fact that some anti-imperialist had announced they would be opposed to him on account of the silver plank in the platform and he was asked as to whether this fact would seriously affect the anti-imperialist vote. He said:

"Several gold standard opponents of imperialism have already announced their intention to support the Democratic ticket, although the anti-imperialist league has not acted officially. In such a matter each individual is governed by his own views as to the relative importance of the issues. The Democratic platform declares the question of imperialism to be the paramount issue.

"If any opponent of imperialism refuses to support the Democratic ticket because of the silver plank, it must be because he considers the money question more important than the Philippine question; that is, he prefers a gold standard empire to a bimetallic republic. When the test comes, I believe that those who adhere to the doctrine that governments derive their just powers, not from superior forces, but from the consent of the governed, will support our ticket, even though they do not endorse the silver plank.

"A large majority of the Democrats believe that a restoration of bimetalism would prove a blessing, but the anti-imperialists who dispute this will admit that any evils that might arise from bimetalism could be corrected more easily than the evils which would follow from the deliberate endorsement of militarism and imperialism."

CLARK AND BAER AGAIN HONORED.

Re-Elected by the World Christian Endeavorers—Baer Advocates Arbitration Between England and America.

LONDON, July 18.—Although now and then young ladies were carried out of the crowded meetings, fainting and overcome by heat, the enthusiasm marking the world's convention of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor, at Alexandra palace grounds, was as strong as ever. The delegates burst into song with the same boundless enthusiasm as heretofore. The morning was given up to demonstrations of the worldwide extent of the Endeavor movement. Anxious inquiries for ministers whose names appeared on the program were largely the result of delay in travel caused by the burning of the steamship Saale in New York harbor.

Secretary John Willis Baer speaking of the growth of the movement said that the Christian Endeavor badge was worn by more than one brawny Briton from her majesty's ship Powerful in the famous siege of Ladysmith.

Mr. Baer strongly demanded that arbitration between Great Britain and America be made compulsory.

The Rev. Francis E. Clark, president of the society of Christian Endeavor, delivered the presidential address. He spoke of Christian Endeavor in the far east, "in progressive Japan, in distracted China and with hopeful beginnings in Korea."

His tour of the world, Mr. Clark said, had convinced him that "the Christian Endeavor tree would bear fruit in any soil." Describing the greetings he had received everywhere, Mr. Clark said that in China it was "peace, peace, peace."

The Rev. Mr. Francis E. Clark and Mr. John Willis Baer were elected, respectively, world's president and world's secretary of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor. They and other prominent members of the society will go to Paris to attend the Christian Endeavor convention there July 22. Mr. Clark will be occupied in attending various European conventions of Christian Endeavorers until Sept. 1.

MILITARISM A MYTH.

Democrats Claim a Fallacy,
Said Roosevelt.

ALLEGED DESERTION OF IDOLS.

Declared President McKinley Secured the Philippines, as Did Jefferson the Louisiana Purchase—MacArthur Fighting
Tagals as Jackson Did Seminoles.

St. PAUL, July 18.—Colonel George
Stone, of California, president of the National League of Republican clubs,
called to order the twelfth convention
of the league in the Auditorium.

Rev. Dr. S. C. Smith, of St. Paul,
offered prayer.

Secretary Stine read the call for the twelfth annual convention. On the roll
call of state about half the number responded. Welcoming addresses were made by city officials.

F. B. Wright, past president of the national league, was among those who spoke.

Governor Roosevelt, escorted by Former President Woodmansee, appeared on the platform. Afterward Governor
Roosevelt was introduced by President
Stone. The governor was received with prolonged cheers. He made a brief speech.

United States Senator Nelson, of Minnesota, later addressed the convention
on the issues of the coming campaign.
Retiring President Stone afterward
addressed the convention.

A motion that the addresses of President Stone and Senator Nelson be published in the proceedings of the convention was adopted.

A resolution which was adopted
unanimously was presented by Hayes,
of Ohio, endorsing the wise and patriotic administration of President McKinley and heartily approving the character and principles of the gallant rough-
rider, Theodore Roosevelt.

Standing committees of the league
were appointed and the convention adjourned until today.

After appearing before the league convention and speaking briefly, Governor
Roosevelt was driven to the Commercial club, where he was tendered an informal reception and luncheon. Later, a public reception was held at the hotel.

Governor Roosevelt addressed a mass-
meeting here last night. In talking about the Democratic platform, he said
in part:

"They rant about trusts, but they have nothing practicable to advance in the way of remedy; nor is this to be wondered at, when one of the makers of
their platform, the representative from
New York, and the leader of their organization in New York, are both themselves among the most prominent stockholders in the worst trust to be found
today in the United States, the ice trust,
which had justly exposed itself to the
criticism which our opponents often unjustly apply to every form of industrial effort. They have invented the imaginary danger of imperialism, and about
that they also rave. Yet so conscious
are they of the hollowness of their attack, so well aware that to follow out
their professions would mean to trail
the American flag in the dust, that they
are obliged to pretend that really, after all, they are for expansion. After infinite labor, they finally did decide that
they still believed in free silver. This decision was reached in their committee
by a vote of 26 to 24; so that it appears that they only have 52 per cent of faith
in their 48 cent dollar after all. Even this amount of faith they were able to reach purely by the aid of Hawaii, and
yet four years ago they objected as much to our expansion over Hawaii as they now object to our expansion over
the Philippines.

"It is hardly necessary to discuss what they say about 'The constitution following the flag.' The Democratic party never championed the doctrine
thus set forth save in the dark days
when it had become the hand maiden of slavery and rebellion, and danced to
any tune which the apostles of slavery
chose to pipe. When under Jefferson
the great west beyond the Mississippi
was acquired, when largely through the instrumentality of Jackson, Florida
was added to the union, the new provinces, with their Indian populations,
were governed precisely and exactly on
the theory under which the Philippines
are now governed. President Jefferson secured the Philippines, and Andrew Jackson warred against the Seminoles
from Spain precisely as General MacArthur is now warring against the bandits
among the Tagals in Luzon.

"Unless we are willing to deprive Jefferson and Jackson of the meed of
honor, which has been held to be peculiarly theirs, we cannot deny the same high praise to President McKinley. At Kansas City the men engaged in preaching the gospel of dishonor and repudiation solemnly asserted that 'imperialism abroad will lead quickly and inevitably to despotism at home.' You men

of Minnesota and the Dakotas, who are here this evening, can appreciate the fatuousness of this statement, by the simple process of thinking whether your liberties have been abridged by the return of the Minnesota and Dakota
troops who won such honor for themselves in the Philippines. If it were worth while I would point out its dishonesty and insincerity. But flagrant though these are, its absurdity is so much more flagrant that nothing need
be said. It is with their cant about militarism and 'intimidation and oppression at home,' as following what
they are pleased to call 'conquest
abroad.' We cannot argue with them
on this proposition, because no serious
man thinks for one moment that they believe what they assert.

"During the great civil war there were many preachers of the gospel of disloyalty among the so-called Copper-
heads of the north, and these men like
their representatives along our opponents today prophesied the subversion
of the country when the great armies of Grant and Sherman should come back from the war; but the great armies of Grant and Sherman returned to civil life and were swallowed up among their fellow citizens without a ripple. A considerable army was kept for a year or two on the Indian frontier and in some
of the southern states; but it never entered the head of a human being to attempt what the Copperhead prophets of disaster had frantically foretold. In

'98 or '99 you yourselves saw regiments
and brigades and divisions return from Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines,
to be disbanded and swallowed up in
the mass of the people if volunteers,
and if regulars, to resume their ordinary
work in fort and cantonment; and after greeting them on the day they returned,
the bulk of people would never have have been able to tell, except by the newspapers, whether they had come back or not. Of all idle chatter, the talk of danger of militarism is the idlest.
The army we have now is relatively to
the population of the country less in size than it has been again and again
during the last century and a quarter,
in times when we had only our own Indians to guard against.

DIED ENROUTE.

cide by jumping overboard 19th ult., and John Sullivan, B, Thirty-fourth infantry, committed suicide by jumping overboard 21st ult. Bodies not recovered. Twenty-four remains deceased soldiers also were on board.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—General Mac-Arthur has cabled the war department a casualty report containing the following:

MANILA, July 17.—Killed—Jan. 1, San Isidro, Luzon, Company B, Thirty-fourth infantry, Fred L. Williamson.

Movement in the Market—Prices
Somewhat Advanced.

NEW YORK, July 18.—The stock market gave continued evidence Tuesday of operations by an influential bull party.
Their efforts to advance prices met with considerable success and were assisted by a sharp upward movement in a number of individual stocks, in which an outstanding short interest was driven to
part in professional hands. The general list was rather neglected and its price movements were unimportant, but
net gains were generally registered at the close of the day. The manipulative
character of the market was evident
from the circulation from time to time
of some rather extravagant rumors. But
the resulting gains were pretty well
held, and the pressure of profit taking
at the advance was not sufficient to cause any very notable set back. The tone of the market at the close, however, was rather easy and dull at concessions from the best. This was due rather to a pause in the bull manipulation than to any large selling. Union Pacific was the most conspicuous stock
in the list and resumed its upward
movement early in the day.

The buying of grain carrying roads
was reputed to have its origin in the west, where the bull movement in grain
has run parallel with a bear speculation
in the grangers. Denials of a probability that congress would be convened
in extra session relieved some apprehension which was felt late Monday. The
check to the advance in sterling exchange was due to the offerings of bills
against gold exports. Arrangements
are reported to have been already made
for sending $1,500,000 in gold bars by tomorrow's steamer, and exchange
houses estimate that the total for the
and $4,000,000. Money on call and for short time loans continue easy and abundant, but lenders are indisposed to place loans for the longer periods.

The bond market was dull and the
movement of prices continued irregular.
Total sales, par value, $885,000.
United States old 4s and 5s advanced
1/4 in the bid price.

WOULD KILL GOEBEL.

Witness Said Powers Declared His Purpose, If Nobody Else Committed
the Crime.

GEORGETOWN, Ky., July 18.—In the trial of Caleb Powers, charged with complicity in the Goebel shooting, Finley Anderson testified that on Jan. 24
Caleb Powers told him the crowd of mountaineers which was being organized was going to Frankfort to intimidate the legislature, and if necessary, to kill enough Democrats to give the Republicans a majority. He said: "Powers told me Goebel would never live to be governor, and said he (Powers) would kill him if nobody else did."

On cross-examination, the witness became considerably confused, admitting
that he had called on Colonel T. C.
Campbell, of counsel for the prosecution, in Cincinnati. Witness admitted securing a position in Cincinnati, but denied that it was due to his willingness to testify in this case.

Lucy Brock, of London, testified that Powers called on her in January. He told witness he was getting up a crowd
of 1,000 mountain men to go to Frankfort, "so that in case the Democrats robbed them of the state offices they could take care of themselves." The plan was Governor Taylor's.

His Musical Sense.

"What is your favorite opera?" asked
the foreign gentleman.

Mr. Cumrox was about to answer
"The Mikado," when he observed that
the eyes of his wife and daughter were upon him. Then he assumed an air of unbalance and answered:

"Oh, I don't care particular about the names of cigars or the titles of operas.
I like to change around. I just tell 'em
to give me a 25 cent cigar when I feel like smoking, and when I want music
I enjoy any old $5 a seat opera."—

You Remember the Good Soda Water You Drank at BULGER'S PHARMACY LAST SEASON!

Well, we have opened our fountain for the season and can promise you, on our reputation, to furnish you the best Soda Water in the city. We do not ask you to patronage our soda if we do not satisfy you that the above is correct.

Respectfully,

ALVIN H. BULGER.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Justice Rose has booked 16 cases since Monday.

The old Metsch cottage at the camp ground is being torn down.

Trades council will meet this evening and transact some important business.

Frank McNutt and family will move to Spring Grove camp ground this week.

Daniel Madden returned to the city yesterday after a two weeks' visit in the east.

The St. Stephen's Episcopal church carnival is being held today at Rock Springs.

The biscuit warehouse women's union will meet tomorrow night and initiate six candidates.

The Shamrock and Eclipse base ball teams will play their first game of the series of five for the championship of the city next Monday.

The contract for grading Calcutta road will not be let until August 1, and it is not probable much work will be done toward improving the road this year.

George Carey's hitting has helped Buffalo out of last place in the American association. In the game yesterday he had two hits, one of them a double.

The News Review yesterday through an oversight failed to include the name of Samuel Johnson in the list of jurymen in the case of Ohio versus Barnes.

A. M. Rayl has sued Jennie Gilmore for forcible detention in the court of Justice McCarron. The case has been set for trial next Monday at 1 o'clock.

A sneak thief paid a visit to the camp ground Tuesday night. He didn't get much for his trouble, but drank all the milk in the refrigerator of E. H. Wells.

Council didn't meet last night. The only members present at the appointed time were McLane and Fisher. Solicitor Gaston was also present, and after waiting until after 8 o'clock the party adjourned.

Yesterday a couple of dogs got in the sewer at the ball ground. The small boys in the vicinity worked almost all day and finally succeeded in getting the grating loose so that the dogs could be released.

Owing to low water the Queen City laid over at this port over night and today made some repairs to the boat. They waited for passengers that came down from Pittsburg on the afternoon train and then left for Cincinnati.

The Pittsburg Dispatch says today: "Charles E. Macrum, ex-consul to Pretoria, whose home is in East Liverpool, O., arrived in Pittsburg yesterday afternoon and registered at the Hotel Lincoln. The purpose of his visit was to perfect arrangements whereby he has become a salesman for the National Glass company."

Charles Wagner, who was taken to the county infirmary last week, has almost entirely recovered from his recent illness, and will return to the city shortly. He was cared for by the directors during a siege of typhoid fever at his boarding house here and was moved to the infirmary as soon as he was able to stand the trip.

STAVING OFF A BILL.

THE GRAND PROMOTER EXEMPLIFIES IT AS A FINE ART.

It was the printer with his bill for 3,000 office cards, and he knocked on Major Crofoot's office door in that half hearted way adopted by creditors who feel that they must call and yet have no faith that the bill will be paid.

"Come in, and good morning to you—good morning!" shouted the major as he sprang up and extended his hand and shook so heartily that the caller's hat was nearly jostled off his head. When the shaking had been concluded, he said:

"I have been expecting you up here every day for a week, and if you

"Yes, sir," replied the printer as he handed it over.

"Good! Let's see. It's for $4.50, and I pronounce it correct—absolutely correct. There never was a more correct account rendered—never in this commercial world. And now you want a check for it, of course? I must ask you to excuse me that this trifle has run so long, but when a man is dealing in millions he is apt to forget dollars."

"That is all right, major," replied the printer as a soft smile stole over his face, and he began wondering why he had ever called the promoter a dead beat.

"Thanks for your confidence—your financial confidence. I like men to have confidence in me. Let me tell you, sir, that the man who puts his trust in Major Crofoot, grand promoter, gigantic originator and tremendous consolidator, loses nothing by it. Here is a bill for $4.50. It has run for weeks and months. Instead of wearing out the stairs and pounding on my door, you have been content to let time slip along. You felt that your money was safe. You believed that I would pay on presentation. Ah, sir, but I love to witness such exhibitions of confidence—I love to do it! Let us shake hands again."

"I'm in a bit of a hurry this morning," remarked the printer as a doubt suddenly entered his mind and sent a chill up his back.

"Ah, yes, of course you are—of course—and my time is also limited, but do you know what I am going to do? Instead of debating about a bill for $4.50, I am going to talk to you of thousands and hundreds of thousands and millions. My dear man, you have arrived at an opportune moment. It almost seems as if the hand of Providence was in it. Having displayed your confidence in the financial integrity of Major Crofoot and arrived at an opportune moment, what follows?"

couple of weeks, until the stock is issued. If anything was said at the present time?"

"What you pushing me for?"

"If anything was said at the present time, some one might cut in on us. Just go right back to your shop?"

"I want that money!"

"—and keep mum, and the stock will be sent to you in due time. That's it—good day—good day. Your confidence in Major Crofoot has brought its reward."

"Look here, major!" shouted the printer as he hammered on the outside of the door, "you are an old dead beat! You—you!"

The bill was shoved under the door against his toes. He picked it up, gave the door three hearty kicks and slowly went down stairs. He realized that he had been taken in on the ground floor.

An Odorless Disinfectant.

If one objects to the odor of carbolic acid, he may use for the plumbing an odorless disinfectant prepared as follows: Dissolve half a pound of permanganate of potash in four gallons of water and pour this carefully down the pipes. This solution, if allowed to stand in bowls or basins, will stain them purple. The stains may be removed with a weak solution of oxalic acid. The acid must be rinsed off immediately after it has been used.

The Real Jan Ridd.

A writer, giving some personal memories of Mr. Blackmore, says he could not bear with patience any praise of "Lorna Doone." All the world has been told that "Lorna Doone" is his greatest work, the work in which his fame will live. "But," says the writer, "strange to say, in as far as his gentle nature was capable of irritation he almost resented the mere mention of the book. Once I inquired of him was there a real Jan Ridd."

"Oh, yes," he said, filling his pipe anew.

"And was he the glorious chap he's made out to be in 'Lorna Doone'?"

"Certainly not," said Mr. Blackmore; "he was a coarse brute."—New England Home Magazine.

Thackeray said of the Quartier Latin, the noted art district of Paris: "The life of the young artist here is the easiest, merriest, dirtiest existence possible. He comes to Paris probably at 16 from his province, his parents settle £40 a year on him and pay his master, he establishes himself in the Pays Latin, he arrives at his atelier at a tolerably early hour and labors among a score of companions as merry and as poor as himself." The students' quarter is located south of the Seine, where the principal colleges and schools have been situated for many centuries and where numerous students have lived.
